The Triggering Procedure of the International Criminal Court Héctor Olásolo, 2005-10-01 The Rome Statute unlike the statutes of the International Criminal Tribunals for the former Yugoslavia and for Rwanda creates a permanent court whose dormant jurisdiction covers the territory and includes the nationals of States Parties and is universal in cases where the Security Council makes a referral Besides unlike the ad hoc tribunals which have jurisdiction over specific crisis situations whose personal territorial and temporal parameters have been defined in their respective statutes by the UN Security Council in the case of the ICC it is not possible to determine a priori in which situations the ICC will be involved As a result the most relevant activity of the Court is the determination of those situations regarding which the dormant jurisdiction of the Court will be triggered The book The Triggering Procedure of the International Criminal Court constitutes the first comprehensive analysis of the proceedings that prior to any criminal investigation aim to make such a fundamental determination Introduction to International Criminal Law Curtis F. J. Doebbler, 2007 This Introduction to International Criminal Law provides an understandable glimpse into the intricacies of the law It is valuable to students practitioners and members of the general public who are seeking to acquire basic knowledge about the law It is written by a practitioner of international criminal law who has also frequently taught university courses and given countless public lectures on this subject The insights provided in this book combine the experience of practice with the communication skills of a seasoned academic Unlike many other texts by western writers this author gives special attention to the concerns of audiences in Africa Latin America the Middle East and Asia International criminal law is presented as part of a strategy for achieving a world characterized by peaceful cooperation and respect for the basic values of human dignity International Crimes and the Ad Hoc Tribunals Guénaél Mettraux, 2005 The contribution of the ad hoc Tribunals to international criminal law and international justice has been manifold both academically and historically and they will continue to influence the findings and decisions of many other courts both domestic and international and to provoke discussion for many years to Come This volume provides the first comprehensive analysis of the law of international crimes as applied by the ad hoc tribunals for the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda International Crimes and the Ad Hoc Tribunals examines the legal and historical significance of some of the most important judicial developments to occur in the last 50 years in international criminal law It states the law of the Tribunals and provides concrete illustrations of the application of the law to a variety of criminal cases providing a comprehensive and detailed analysis of this voluminous body of jurisprudence The primary focus is on the jurisdiction ratione materiae of the Tribunals the definition and application of the law of war crimes crimes against humanity and genocide However it also examines the Tribunals jurisdiction ratione personae insofar as this enables a full understanding of the law of crimes for instance in relation to forms of criminal liability Fact-Finding without Facts

Nancy A. Combs,2010-07-30 Fact Finding Without Facts explores international criminal fact finding empirically conceptually and normatively After reviewing thousands of pages of transcripts from various international criminal tribunals the author reveals that international criminal trials are beset by numerous and severe fact finding impediments that substantially impair the tribunals ability to determine who did what to whom These fact finding impediments have heretofore received virtually no publicity let alone scholarly treatment and they are deeply troubling not only because they raise grave concerns about the accuracy of the judgments currently being issued but because they can be expected to similarly impair the next generation of international trials that will be held at the International Criminal Court After setting forth her empirical findings the author considers their conceptual and normative implications The author concludes that international criminal tribunals purport a fact finding competence that they do not possess and as a consequence base their judgments on a less precise more amorphous method of fact finding than they publicly acknowledge The International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda

2000-2001 André Klip,2003 Protecting Humanity Chile Eboe-Osuji,2010-09-24 Navi Pillay is a modern icon in the world s efforts to protect humanity through international law and policy She played a leading role in the multi national operation to clean up the humanitarian dross left on the essence of modern civilization by the Rwandan Genocide of 1994 Her contributions in that effort were in virtue of her role as a judge and eventually as the President of the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda From there she went on to serve as one of the first appeal judges at the newly established International Criminal Court another international endeavour aimed at protecting humanity through law In time she was fittingly appointed the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights just ahead of a call to honour her with a book of essays in international law and policy for the contributions that she had already made in the international enterprise of protecting humanity Inspired by Pillay some of the modern legends and experts in international law and policy have in this volume shared their experiences and thoughts on how better to protect humanity in our time In the book we read the wise words of Nobel laureates and other envoys of peace renowned international judges and famous scholars as well as those of energetic younger minds with great promise Some chapters are in French The Failures of Ethics John K. Roth,2015-07-30

Defined by deliberation about the difference between right and wrong encouragement not to be indifferent toward that difference resistance against what is wrong and action in support of what is right ethics is civilization's keystone The Failures of Ethics concentrates on the multiple shortfalls and shortcomings of thought decision and action that tempt and incite us human beings to inflict incalculable harm Absent the overriding of moral sensibilities if not the collapse or collaboration of ethical traditions the Holocaust genocide and other mass atrocities could not have happened Although these catastrophes do not pronounce the death of ethics they show that ethics is vulnerable subject to misuse and perversion and that no simple reaffirmation of ethics as if nothing disastrous had happened will do Moral and religious authority has been fragmented and weakened by the accumulated ruins of history and the depersonalized advances of civilization that have taken us from a bloody twentieth century into an immensely problematic twenty first What nevertheless remain essential are spirited commitment and political will that embody the courage not to let go of the ethical but to persist for it in spite of humankind's self inflicted destructiveness Salvaging the fragmented condition of ethics this book shows how respect and honor for those who save lives and resist atrocity deepened attention to the dead and to death itself and appeals for human rights and renewed spiritual sensitivity confirm that ethics contains and remains an irreplaceable safeguard against its own failures

Annotated Leading Cases of International Criminal Tribunals - Volume 24 André Klip, Göran Sluiter, 1999 This 24th volume of Annotated Leading Cases of International Criminal Tribunals contains decisions taken by the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda in 2005 2006 It includes the full text of the most important decisions identical to the original version and includes concurring separate and dissenting opinions In the book distinguished experts in the field of international criminal law have commented on the decisions Series Annotated Leading Cases of International Criminal Tribunals Vol 24 Teaching About Rape in War and Genocide J. Roth, C. Rittner, 2015-10-29 This edited volume is both a guide for educators and a resource for everyone who wants to strengthen resistance against a major atrocity that besieges human development Its contributors explore a crucial question how to teach about rape in war and genocide The Future of Investment Arbitration Catherine A. Rogers, Roger P. Alford, 2009-04-16 Investment arbitration is at the cutting edge of international law and dispute resolution and is predicted to be a major factor in the development of the global economic system in years to come This one volume monograph contains contributions from leading experts on a wide range of topics of both theoretical importance and practical implication that will affect the future of investment arbitration The highly innovative chapters combine to form a constructive and valuable discussion for all in the arbitration field The contributors chosen to represent the full spectrum of perspectives are leading arbitration experts from all over the world including ICSID insiders US government officials UNCTAD research personnel seasoned investment arbitrators and counsel and renowned legal scholars The book is divided into three themes with the first centering on the adequacy of UNCITRAL and ICSID arbitration rules with particular attention to recent and proposed changes The second theme focuses on the future of bilateral investment treaties discussing trends in the interpretation of treaty provisions and the debate concerning the efficacy of the treaties in benefiting developing countries The third theme revolves around the public function of investment arbitration decisions including the use of arbitration to resolve disputes between sovereigns and the arbitrators role as a guardian of international public policy The Future of Investment Arbitration is unique in its outstanding range of topics and the expertise of the contributors It previews and guides future directions in the field as well as discussing the larger policy implications of specific rules It includes cutting edge analysis of empirical research regarding BITS that is essential to evaluating many assumptions about investment law and arbitration Finally the book takes a broad perspective examining the rules discussed within the larger structural context of investment arbitration and drawing investment arbitration into the wider setting of international law and corporate governance

Teaching and Learning About Genocide and Crimes Against Humanity Samuel Totten, 2019-02-01 Teaching and Learning About Genocide and Crimes Against Humanity Fundamental Issues and Pedagogical Approaches by Samuel Totten a renowned scholar of genocide studies and Professor Emeritus College of Education and Health Professions University of Arkansas Fayetteville is a culmination of 30 years in the field of genocide studies and education In writing this book Totten reports that he crafted this book along the lines of what he wished had been available to him when he first began teaching about genocide back in the mid 1980s That is a book that combines the best of genocide theory the realities of the genocidal process and how to teach about such complex and often terrible and difficult issues and facts in a theoretically historically and pedagogically sound manner As the last book he will ever write on education and educating about genocide he perceives the book as his gift to those educators who have the heart and grit to tackle such an important issue in their classrooms

Women as War Criminals Izabela Steflja, Jessica Trisko Darden, 2020-09-08 Women war criminals are far more common than we think From the Holocaust to ethnic cleansing in the Balkans to the Rwandan genocide women have perpetrated heinous crimes Few have been punished These women go unnoticed because their very existence challenges our assumptions about war and about women Biases about women as peaceful and innocent prevent us from seeing women as war criminals and prevent postconflict justice systems from assigning women blame Women as War Criminals argues that women are just as capable as men of committing war crimes and crimes against humanity In addition to unsettling assumptions about women as agents of peace and reconciliation the book highlights the gendered dynamics of law and demonstrates that women are adept at using gender instrumentally to fight for better conditions and reduced sentences when war ends The book presents the legal cases of four women the President Biljana Plav ic the Minister Pauline Nyiramasuhuko the Soldier Lynndie England and the Student Hoda Muthana Each woman s complex identity influenced her treatment by legal systems and her ability to mount a gendered defense before the court Justice as Steflja and Trisko Darden show is not blind to gender

The Theory of Self-Determination Fernando R. Tesón, 2016-04-06 In this book leading scholars re examine the principle of national self determination from diverse theoretical perspectives      Transnational Crimes in the Americas Marshall B. Lloyd, 2018-10-30 Transnational Crimes in the Americas addresses contemporary issues with respect to public institutions that are stakeholders in the fight against globalization of crime Regional public organizations with a primary focus on the Americas constitute a framework for understanding the need for an institutional response within the Western Hemisphere While other authors have addressed the growth of organized crime no one has explained institutional developments in the struggle against transnational crimes Transnational Crimes in the Americas highlights existing organizations emphasizing a regional response to transnational crimes suggestions for a permanent criminal court in the Americas and an appraisal of the current state of institutional developments in the region      The Politics of Genocide Jeffrey S. Bachman, 2022-09-16 Beginning with the negotiations that concluded with the unanimous adoption of the United Nations Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide on December 9 1948 and extending to the present day the United States Soviet Union Russia China United Kingdom and France have put forth great effort to ensure that they will not be implicated in the crime of genocide If this were to fail they have also ensured that holding any of them accountable for genocide will be practically impossible By situating genocide prevention in a system of territorial jurisdiction by excluding protection for political groups and acts constituting cultural genocide from the Genocide Convention by controlling when genocide is meaningfully named at the Security Council and by pointing the responsibility to protect in directions away from any of the P 5 they have achieved what can only be described as practical impunity for genocide The Politics of Genocide is the first book to explicitly demonstrate how the permanent member nations have exploited the Genocide Convention to isolate themselves from the reach of the law marking them as outlaw states      Strengthening the Validity of International Criminal Tribunals Joanna Nicholson, 2018-04-17 International criminal law is experiencing a time of uncertainty and flux There is increasing doubt surrounding where the international criminal justice project is heading The contributions in this multi disciplinary volume take stock of the situation and explore ways in which the validity of international criminal tribunals can be strengthened as the field of international criminal justice moves into a more uncertain future Areas considered include shaping the aims and aspirations of international criminal tribunals increasing the effectiveness and legality of substantive international criminal law improving certain processes and procedures of international criminal tribunals improving relationships between international criminal tribunals and other organisations and building trust between international criminal tribunals and African states      Architectures of Violence Kate Ferguson, 2022-05-01 Paramilitary or irregular units have been involved in practically every case of identity based mass violence in the modern world but detailed analysis of these dynamics is rare Exploring the case of former Yugoslavia the genocides in Rwanda and Darfur and the ongoing violence in Syria Kate Ferguson exposes the relationships between paramilitaries state commands local communities and organized crime She presents these architectures of violence as a way of comprehending how the various structures of command and control fit together into domestic and international webs of support enabling and encouraging irregular and paramilitary violence. Visible paramilitary participation in modern mass atrocities has succeeded in masking the continued dominance of the state in a number of violent crises. Irregular combatants have participated so significantly in committing atrocity crimes because political elites benefit from using unconventional forces to fulfil ambitions that violate international law and international policy responses are hindered when responsibility for violence is ambiguous. Ferguson's inquiry into these overlooked dynamics of mass violence unveils substantial loopholes in current atrocity prevention architecture. Until these are addressed, state authorities will likely continue to use irregular combatants as perpetrators of atrocity.

A Criminology of War? Ross McGarry, Sandra Walklate, 2019-07-03. In recent years the academic study of war has gained renewed popularity in criminology. This book illustrates its long standing engagement with this social phenomenon within the discipline. Foregrounding established criminological work addressing war and connecting it to a wide range of extant sociological literature, the authors present and further develop theoretical and conceptual ways of thinking critically about war. Providing a critique of mainstream criminology, the authors question whether a criminology of war is possible and if so how this seemingly new horizon of the discipline might be usefully informed by sociology.

The International Tribunal For Rwanda Facts Cases Documents: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have captivated audiences this year. The International Tribunal For Rwanda Facts Cases Documents : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
