The Circular Study:

The Circular Study Anna Katharine Green, 2013-11-01 I am not an inquisitive woman but when in the middle of a certain warm night in September I heard a carriage draw up at the adjoining house and stop I could not resist the temptation of leaving my bed and taking a peep through the curtains of my window First because the house was empty or supposed to be so the family still being as I had every reason to believe in Europe and secondly because not being inquisitive I often miss in my lonely and single life much that it would be both interesting and profitable for me to know Luckily I made no such mistake this evening I rose and looked out and though I was far from realizing it at the time took by so doing my first step in a course of inquiry which has ended But it is too soon to speak of the end Rather let me tell you what I saw when I parted the curtains of my window in Gramercy Park on the night of September 17 1895 Not much at first glance only a common hack drawn up at the neighboring curb stone The lamp which is supposed to light our part of the block is some rods away on the opposite side of the street so that I obtained but a shadowy glimpse of a young man and woman standing below me on the pavement I could see however that the woman and not the man was putting money into the driver s hand The next moment they were on the stoop of this long closed house and the coach rolled off

The Circular Study Anna Green, 2018-08-05 The Circular Study highlights both of Green s talents offering readers an expertly plotted story and a fascinating glimpse into the mind of a killer In this well plotted character driven mystery Detective Gryce receives a cryptic message calling him to the scene of a strange crime He soon finds that the adjective is correct for in a quiet brownstone house in a respectable New York City neighborhood he finds the body of a man brutally stabbed to death yet lovingly laid out on the floor of his study The only apparent witnesses are a deaf and dumb butler driven mad by the event and a caged bird that sings out a vital but puzzling clue Before he solves the crime with the help of the redoubtable Miss Amelia Butterworth Gryce must uncover a motive that spans generations and the passions that have kept it alive

Chernushevich, 2013-03-09 A NATO Advanced Research Workshop entitled New Methods for the Study of Molecular Aggregates was held at The Lodge at Kananaskis Village Alberta Canada from 16-20 June 1996. In fact the meeting was entirely concerned with the problem of analyzing biomolecular complexes so the title of these proceedings has been altered to give a more precise description of the content. The workshop was hosted by the time of flight group of the Department of Physics at the University of Manitoba and was attended by 64 participants from around the world. Twenty one invited talks were given and 27 papers were presented as posters. Of the 48 contributions 22 papers, 12 orals, 10 posters are included in these proceedings. The subject of the conference was the investigation of noncovalent biomolecular complexes with particular focus on the application of mass spectrometry to their characterization. Two new ionization techniques introduced in the late 1980s, electrospray ionization (ESI) and matrix assisted laser desorption/ionization (MALDI), resulted in a breakthrough in mass spectrometry enabling its use in molecular weight and primary structure determination of biopolymers larger than 100 kDa. Recently it has been discovered that ESI mass spectrometry may also be used to characterize complexes containing noncovalent interactions thus opening new perspectives for supramolecular chemistry. ESI mass spectrometry has the advantage that the sample is introduced from a homogeneous solution which can be maintained at near physiological conditions of pH, concentration and temperature.
