Daily Discoveries for APRIL (ENHANCED eBook) Elizabeth Cole Midgley, 2006-03-01 If you liked the other books in the Daily Discoveries series you'll love this one too! It's filled with special days to celebrate in the classroom throughout the month of April. Special days include Under the Big Top Day, Castle Creations Day, Paul Revere Day, Train Day, Newspaper Day, and 25 more. Use the activities to spice up regular curriculum: language arts, social studies, writing, math, science, and health, music, and drama, physical fitness, art, etc. Included are reproducible patterns for writing assignments and art projects, lists of correlated books, and bulletin board ideas.

Crossover Picturebooks Sandra L. Beckett, 2013-06-17 This book situates the picturebook genre within the widespread international phenomenon of crossover literature, examining an international corpus of picturebooks including artists' books, wordless picturebooks, and celebrity picturebooks that appeal to readers of all ages. Focusing on contemporary picturebooks, Sandra Beckett shows that the picturebook has traditionally been seen as a children's genre, but in the eyes of many authors, illustrators, and publishers, it is a narrative form that can address any and all age groups. Innovative graphics and formats, as well as the creative, often complex dialogue between text and image, provide multiple levels of meaning and invite readers of all ages to consider texts that are primarily marketed as children's books. The interplay of text and image that distinguishes the picturebook from other forms of fiction and makes it a unique art form also makes it the ultimate crossover genre. Crossover picturebooks are often very complex texts that are challenging for adults as well as children. Many are characterized by difficult adult themes, genre blending, metafictional discourse, intertextuality, sophisticated graphics, and complex text-image interplay. Exciting experiments with new formats and techniques, as well as novel interactions with new media and technologies, have made the picturebook one of the most vibrant and innovative contemporary literary genres, one that seems to know no boundaries. Crossover Picturebooks is a valuable addition to the study of a genre that is gaining increasing recognition and appreciation and contributes significantly to the field of children's literature as a whole.

Maps and Mapping in Children's Literature Nina Goga, Bettina

Kümmerling-Meibauer, 2017-08-15 Maps and Mapping in Children's Literature is the first comprehensive study that investigates the representation of maps in children's books, as well as the impact of mapping on the depiction of landscapes, seascapes, and cityscapes in children's literature. The chapters in this volume pursue a comparative approach as they represent a wide spectrum of diverse genres and national children's literatures by examining a wealth of children's books from Canada, Denmark, Germany, Italy, Norway, Russia, the United Kingdom, and the USA. The theoretical and methodological approaches range from literary studies, developmental psychology, maps, and geography, literacy, ecocriticism, historical contextualization, with both new historicist and political historical leanings, and intermediality, to materialist cartographies, cultural studies, island studies, and genre studies. By this, this volume aims at embedding children's literature in a broader field of literary and cultural studies thus situating children's literature research within a general context of literary theory
