Gedichte, engl Weldon Kees, Donald Rodney Justice, 1975 Collected Poems of Donald Justice Donald Justice, 2006-05-02 This celebratory volume gives us the entire career of Donald Justice between two covers including a rich handful of poems written since New and Selected Poems was published in 1995 Winner of the Pulitzer Prize Justice has been hailed by his contemporary Anthony Hecht as the supreme heir of Wallace Stevens In poems that embrace the past its terrors and reconciliations Justice has become our poet of living memory The classic American melancholy in his titles calls forth the tenor of our collective passages Bus Stop Men at Forty Dance Lessons of the Thirties The Small White Churches of the Small White Towns This master of classical form has found in the American scene and in the American tongue all those virtues of our literature and landscape sought by Emerson and Henry James For half a century he has endeavored with painterly vividness and plainspoken elegance to make those local views part of the literary heritage from which he has so often taken solace and inspiration School Letting Out Fourth or Fifth Grade The afternoons of going home from school Past the young fruit trees and the winter flowers The schoolyard cries fading behind you then And small boys running to catch up as though It were an honor somehow to be near All is forgiven now even the dogs Who straining at their tethers used to bark Not from anger but some secret joy

Weldon Kees and the Midcentury Generation Weldon Kees, 2003-06-01 Before he vanished in the fog of San Francisco Weldon Kees 1914-55 was a poet storyteller critic painter musician and filmmaker What remains is a body of work and a large collection of letters that shed light on Kees's complex personality Robert E Knoll traces the odyssey of a Nebraska boy who made his way in a fiercely competitive national scene befriending the movers and shakers of the art worlds on both coasts Kees's letters satirical witty poetic gossipy intensely individual provide the feel of lives being lived of a career going forth and finally of the darkness that engulfed him when in Knoll's phrase he was ten minutes from triumph

Weldon Kees and the Arts at Midcentury Daniel A. Siedell, 2003-01-01 Born in 1914 in Beatrice Nebraska and presumed dead in 1955 when he apparently leapt from the Golden Gate Bridge Weldon Kees has become one of the better known unknown American poets of the twentieth century his fiction and poetry largely kept alive by other poets But Kees was also that rare artist who excelled in many genres and media a skillful painter filmmaker jazz musician and composer He was a gifted critic as well and his criticism bears the marks of his own deep and broad engagement with the arts Weldon Kees and the Arts at Midcentury is the first book to reflect the full range and reach of Kees's artistic activities Bringing together writers from various disciplines art historians poets literary critics curators and cultural scholars including Dore Ashton James Reidel Dana Gioia and Stephen C Foster this volume offers a wide variety of perspectives through which to evaluate the meaning and significance of Kees's achievement Although the essays themselves partake of the diversity of Kees's impact on the culture all agree on one fundamental point any history of postwar American culture that neglects Kees's multifaceted contribution is ultimately incomplete

Vanished Act James Reidel, 2007-03-01 Critic novelist filmmaker jazz musician painter and above all poet Weldon Kees performed practiced and published with the best of his generation of artists the so called middle generation which included Robert Lowell Elizabeth Bishop and John Berryman His dramatic disappearance a probable suicide at the age of forty one his movie star good looks his role in various movements of the day and his shifting relationships with key figures in the arts have made him one of the more intriguing and elusive artists of the time In this long awaited biography James Reidel presents the first full account of Kees's troubled yet remarkably accomplished life Reidel traces Kees's career from his birth in 1914 and boyhood in Beatrice Nebraska to his stint as an award winning short story writer and novelist his rise as a poet and critic in New York his branching off into abstract expressionism jazz music and theater and his experimental and scientific filmmaking and photography Going beyond the cult status that has grown up around Kees over the years this work fairly and judiciously places him as a cultural adventurer at a particularly rich and significant moment in postwar twentieth century America

Cold War Poetry Edward Brunner, 2001 Mainstream American poetry of the 1950s has long been dismissed as deliberately indifferent to its cultural circumstances In this penetrating study Edward Brunner breaks the placid surface of the hollow decade to reveal a poetry sharply responsive to issues of its time Cold War Poetry considers the fifties poem as part of a dual cultural project as proof of the competency of the newly professionalized poet and as a user friendly way of initiating a newly educated upwardly mobile postwar audience into high culture Brunner revisits Richard Wilbur Randall Jarrell and other acknowledged leaders of the period as well as neglected writers such as Rosalie Moore V R Lang Katherine Hoskins Melvin B Tolson and Hyam Plutzik He also examines the one sided authority of the male dominated book review process the ostracizing of female and minority poets poetic fads such as the ubiquitous sestina and the power of the classroom anthology to establish criteria for reading Attributing the gradual change in poetic style during the 1950s to the slow collapse of the authority of the state Brunner shows how a secretive anxious poetics developed in the shadow of a disabled government He recontextualizes the much maligned domestic verse of the 1950s reading its shift toward the private sphere and the recurrent image of the child as a reflection of the powerlessness of the post nuclear citizen Through a close examination of poetry written about the Bomb he delineates how poets registered their growing sense of cosmic disorder in coded language resorting to subterfuge to continue their critique in the face of sanctions
