The Communicative Ethics Controversy:

The Communicative Ethics Controversy (Studies in Contemporary German Social Thought), 1995 The Communicative Ethics Controversy Seyla Benhabib, 1990 This timely reader in moral philosophy addresses a controversy that strongly affected recent European reflections on the relevance of ethics for theories of democratic institutions and democratic legitimacy. The debate centers around the idea of a communicative ethics as articulated by Jurgen Habermas and Karl Otto Apel and it is representative both of recent attempts to bridge the gap between Continental and Anglo American philosophy and of the turn to language that has characterized much of recent philosophy The Communicative Ethics Controversy illustrates philosophical dialogue in action moving from theses to counterarguments to rejoinders Theoretical statements by Habermas Apel and two of their leading students Dietrich Bohler and Robert Alexy are followed by a series of five arguments by their leading critics who represent viewpoints ranging from Kantian idealism to Wittgensteinian ordinary language theory Fred Dallmayr's introduction and Seyla Benhabib's incisive conclusion place the debate in perspective bringing it up to date and relating it to the Anglo American context Sevla Benhabib is Associate Professor of Philosophy and Women's Studies at the State University of New York Stony Brook Fred Dallmayr is Packey Dee Professor of Government at the University of Notre Dame Contributors Robert Alexy Karl Otto Apel Seyla Benhabib Dietrich Bohler Jurgen Habermas Otfried Hoffe KarlHeinz Ilting Hermann Lubbe Herbert Schnadelbach Albrecht Wellmer Exploring Communication Ethics Pat Arneson, 2007 Innovative in its approach and content Exploring Communication Ethics Interviews with Influential Scholars in the Field enlivens the study of human communication ethics by presenting interviews conducted with nine communication ethics scholars along with an advanced literature review The interviews provide accessible and insightful discussions of the philosophical and theoretical issues central to communication ethics revealing insights about the scholars experiences and thought processes unavailable elsewhere This book is written for upper level undergraduate students graduate students and faculty members interested in communication ethics from the perspective of human communication and rhetorical studies philosophy and sociology Rethinking the Communicative Turn Martin Morris, 2001-01-11 Contrasting aesthetic versus linguistic centered visions for critical theory and the analysis of contemporary democratic theory and society Martin Morris draws special attention to the concept of communicative freedom He problematizes the paradigm shift within critical theory from the philosophy of the subject to the communicative action theory championed by I rgen Habermas by opposing Habermas s reconstruction of critical theory to that of Theodor W Adorno Communication Ethics in an Age of Diversity Josina M. Makau, Ronald C. Arnett, 1997 In this volume leading communication scholars integrate cutting edge research with real world dilemmas as they address ethical problems associated with technological and cultural changes and demographic shifts In eleven chapters the fourteen contributors to Communication Ethics in an Age of Diversity consider the implications of these changes to communication contexts ranging from personal friendships to communication over the internet and from classroom dialogues to mass mediated communication to community building in an age of diversity They address specific issues associated with race gender ethnicity and affectional orientation offering specific proposals for change Although the primary audience is scholars and teachers in communication programs the book will be of particular interest to readers in various disciplines in the humanities and social sciences especially individuals in centers and departments of ethnic studies women s studies and African American studies CONTRIBUTORS Julia T Wood Ronald C Arnett Josina M Makau Dolores V Tanno Barbara Paige Pointer Gale Auletta Young Lea P Stewart James W Chesebro Richard L Johannesen Clifford G Christians James A Jaksa Michael S Pritchard Jana Kramer Cheris Kramarae

Communication Ethics Kathleen Glenister Roberts, Ronald C. Arnett, 2008 This volume occasions a dialogue between major authors in the field who engage in a conversation on cosmopolitanism and provinciality from a communication ethics perspective There is no consensus on what constitutes communication ethics cosmopolitanism or provinciality the task is more modest and diverse and began with contributors being asked what the bias of their work suggests or offers for understanding the theme Communication Ethics Between Cosmopolitanism and Provinciality Rather than responding authoritatively each essay acknowledges the contributor's own work This book offers no answers but invites a conversation that is more akin to a beginning a joining an admission that there is more than me us or my kind of people theory or wisdom The book will be an excellent resource for instructors and for upper level undergraduate and graduate courses in Communication Ethics Now Richard Keeble, 2008 Communication lies at the heart of human communication experience After all we know about our world largely through communication We consume books advertisements photographs letters newspapers magazines and the broadcast media This book draws together pieces from the 2005 volume of Ethical Space Journal The Self and Communicative Theory Gregory Heath, 2018-05-08 This title was first published in 2000 This text contributes to the development of communicative theory by advancing a theory of the self sufficient to support intersubjectivity and meet the conditions required for communicative rationality and communicative reason The conclusion supports theories advanced by Habermas Apel and Wittgenstein evaluated against the background of later works from Immanuel Kant The origins of communicative theory in the writings of Kant and Charles Sanders Peirce are sketched followed by an outline of the development of the theory by Apel and Habermas In this discussion a central issues is identified as the failure of communicative theory to produce an adequate theory of the self as the subject of communicative transactions It is argued that both Mead and Habermas fail to fully establish intersubjectivity as they retain elements of a Cartesian introspective subjectivity An alternative approach developed by Charles Taylor is then discussed Finally it is argued that freedom and imagination understood in the context of Kant and the late Wittgenstein are the key elements to a self capable of supporting the intersubjectivity required by communicative theory The Political Philosophy of Poststructuralist Anarchism Todd May, 1994 The political writings of the French poststructuralists have eluded articulation in the broader framework of general political philosophy primarily because of the pervasive tendency to define politics along a single parameter the balance between state power and individual rights in liberalism and the focus on economic justice as a goal in Marxism What poststructuralists like Michel Foucault Gilles Deleuze and Jean Fran ois Lyotard offer instead is a political philosophy that can be called tactical it emphasizes that power emerges from many different sources and operates along many different registers This approach has roots in traditional anarchist thought which sees the social and political field as a network of intertwined practices with overlapping political effects The poststructuralist approach however eschews two questionable assumptions of anarchism that human beings have an essentially benign essence and that power is always repressive never productive After positioning poststructuralist political thought against the background of Marxism and the traditional anarchism of Bakunin Kropotkin and Proudhon Todd May shows what a tactical political philosophy like anarchism looks like shorn of its humanist commitments namely a poststructuralist anarchism The book concludes with a defense contra Habermas and Critical Theory of poststructuralist political thought as having a Max Weber and the Problems of Value-free Social metaethical structure allowing for positive ethical commitments Science Jay A. Ciaffa, 1998 This book examines the Werturteilsstreit value judgment dispute from its initial stages in the debates between the eminent German social historian Max Weber and his contemporaries to more recent contributions from scholars such as Karl Popper Talcott Parsons and Jurgen Habermas Ricoeur's Critical Theory David M. Kaplan, 2012-02-01 In Ricoeur's Critical Theory David M Kaplan revisits the Habermas Gadamer debates to show how Paul Ricoeur's narrative hermeneutics and moral political philosophy provide a superior interpretive normative and critical framework Arguing that Ricoeur's unique version of critical theory surpasses the hermeneutic philosophy of Gadamer Kaplan adds a theory of argumentation necessary to criticize false consciousness and distorted communication He also argues that Ricoeur develops Habermas s critical theory adding an imaginative creative dimension and a concern for community values and ideas of the Good Life He then shows how Ricoeur's political philosophy steers a delicate path between liberalism communitarianism and socialism Ricoeur's version of critical theory not only identifies and criticizes social pathologies posits Kaplan but also projects utopian alternatives for personal and social transformation that would counter and heal the effects of unjust societies The author concludes by applying Ricoeur's critical theory to three related problems the politics of identity and recognition technology and globalization and democracy to show how his works add depth complexity and practical solutions to these problems The Radical Choice and Moral Theory Zhenming Zhai, 2012-12-06 In a crisp original style the author approaches the crucial question of moral theory the is ought problem via communicative argumentation Moving to the end of Habermas's conception of the communicative action he introduces the concept of radical choice as the key to the transition from the descriptive to the normative Phenomenological subjectivity of the intersubjective life world is being vindicated as the arch value of all derivative values or the first principle for all normative precepts With exceptional acumen and mastery of the philosophical argument the author a young native Chinese lately trained in a Western university delineates a fascinating route along which the philosophical question of justification raised in the analytic tradition can be answered on the basis of phenomenology A noteworthy contribution to the interplay between the Anglo American and Habermas and the Public Sphere Craig Calhoun, 1993-03-02 In this book scholars Continental schools of philosophy from a wide range of disciplines respond to Habermas s most directly relevant work The Structural Transformation of the Public Sphere The relationship between civil society and public life is in the forefront of contemporary discussion No single scholarly voice informs this discussion more than that of I rgen Habermas His contributions have shaped the nature of debates over critical theory feminism cultural studies and democratic politics In this book scholars from a wide range of disciplines respond to Habermas s most directly relevant work The Structural Transformation of the Public Sphere From political theory to cultural criticism from ethics to gender studies from history to media studies these essays challenge refine and extend our understanding of the social foundations and changing character of democracy and public discourse Contributors Hannah Arendt Keith Baker Seyla Benhabib Harry C Boyte Craig Calhoun Geoff Eley Nancy Fraser Nicholas Garnham J rgen Habermas Peter Hohendahl Lloyd Kramer Benjamin Lee Thomas McCarthy Moishe Postone Mary P Ryan Michael Schudson Michael Warner David Zaret Troubled Bodies Paul A Komesaroff, 2016-10-18 With transplant surgery abortion and radical new technologies for human reproduction and prolonging life as part of our everyday experience the need to consider ethical issues in medicine almost goes without saying But the field of traditional biomedical ethics attracts plenty of criticism for its narrow theoretical perspectives and its ignorance of wider philosophical concerns Troubled Bodies breaks new ground by placing medical ethics in a broad framework of philosophical and cultural analysis Ten contributors with diverse backgrounds including medicine and philosophy biology and social theory examine how modern medicine regards the human body and its intimate relationship with other aspects of our culture Certain to provoke vigorous debate this collection seeks to expand ethical reflection on medicine to include current concerns about the body and the implications of the newer medical technologies for society as a whole The Spirit of Sustainability Willis Jenkins, Whitney Bauman, 2009-11-01 The Spirit of Sustainability helps readers navigate the moral worlds and ethical concepts and social and religious practices related to sustainability In collaboration with the Forum on Religion and Ecology an established network of leading scholars it explores a wide range of topics and perspectives from the promise and problems of approaching sustainability through global and indigenous religions to major theories in philosophy and environmental ethics and professional practices and social movements This volume presents the various goals of sustainability ecological integrity economic health human dignity fairness to the future and social justice and provides a framework for reasoning through many interrelated environmental challenges for both current and future generations Transitional Justice and Human Rights in Morocco Fadoua Loudiy, 2014-03-05 This book examines the Moroccan experience of transitional justice more specifically the negotiation of the legacy of the period commonly referred to as the Years of Lead This period of Moroccan history roughly spans from the early 1960s to 1999 during which thousands of citizens were arbitrarily detained tortured and killed because of their political opinions Through an analysis of testimonies public documents and personal interviews Transitional Justice and Human Rights in Morocco seeks to shed light on Moroccan citizens struggle for recognition and reparation in the aftermath of a long history of grave human rights violations ranging from arbitrary arrest and torture to state sponsored disappearances and murders While Morocco s experience is often presented within a historical global context this book offers a comparative analysis discussing other national examples to situate the Moroccan experience within the relatively recent history of political transitions Seeking to advance a rhetoric of symbolic justice that privileges the voice of the victims and offers hope for the renewal of a community s ethos through public discourse and ethico political practices this book will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars with an interest in Human Rights and Middle East Politics

Consensus Decision Making, Northern Ireland and Indigenous Movements Patrick G. Coy,2003 Presents a study of social movement decision making through seven case studies This book focuses on Northern Ireland where frustration with inter community conflict resolution spawned a movement promoting intra community or single tradition programs

Freedom's Embrace J. Melvin Woody, 2010-11-01 To be free is to escape all limitations and obstacles or so we think at first But if we probe further we discover that freedom embraces its own necessities a set of conditions without which it could not exist Freedom's Embrace explores these necessities of freedom J Melvin Woody surveys competing conceptions of freedom and traces debates about the nature and reality of freedom to confusions about knowledge humanity and nature that are rooted in some of the most fundamental assumptions of modern Western thought The preemption of freedom as an exclusively human privilege with all nature relegated to mechanical necessity is a fatal error that renders both humanity and nature equally unintelligible What distinguishes human beings from other animals is not freedom but the use of symbols which vastly extends the range of available options and enables us to envision freedom as an ideal by which customary institutions and norms may be judged and transformed By carefully surveying its necessary conditions and limitations Woody reconciles the salient competing conceptions of freedom and weaves them together into a richer and broader theory that resolves old controversies and opens the way toward an ethics of freedom that can meet the challenges of relativism and nihilism that arise from recognizing the historicity and malleability of culture Situating the Self Sevla Benhabib, 2020-08-26 This book is an attempt to defend the tradition of universalism in the face of a triple pronged critique by engaging with the claims of feminism communitarianism and postmodernism and by learning from them It situates reason and the moral self more decisively in contexts of gender and community Communication and Lonergan Thomas J. Farrell, Paul A. Soukup, 1993 Essays about communication and the thought of Canadian Jesuit philosopher and theologian Bernard Lonergan
