The Hundred Headless Woman:

The Hundred Headless Woman Max Ernst, 2017-11-15 This 1929 collage novel by the avant garde artist presents engravings from Victorian era books and magazines accompanied by enigmatic captions that transport readers into the odd dream world of Surrealism

Angela Grauerholz Angela Grauerholz, André Breton, 2019-04 La femme 100 t tes The Hundred Headless Woman presents over 150 portraits of 100 women_ some acquaintances some strangers_ taken by Angela Grauerholz over a 30 year period and presented for the first time in this book Collaging diverse photos made with various cameras and technologies with text fragments from a range of mostly female authors Grauerholz creates a hybrid between a magazine and book that forms a complex portrait of women The title La femme 100 t tes is borrowed from Max Ernst_s 1929 Surrealist collage novel of the same name in which he combined cut up and reassembled nineteenth century illustrations with bizarre captions Grauerholz welcomes the double entendre of Ernst_s title_ when read aloud in French it means both _the hundred headed woman_ and _the headless woman_ to create a sense of womanhood intricately individual and violently anonymous The intentionally quotidian nature of Grauerholz_s photos blurs the _class_ distinctions between images in an art context in a printed publication and on the Internet and tests the changing ways we encounter and judge photography Apprehending the face_s image becomes a mode of possession We are surrounded by the image of the woman_s face the obsession of the portrait and the covergirl alike The face is what belongs to the other It is unavailable to the woman herself Susan Stewart

Break of Day André Breton, 1999-01-01 Originally published in France in 1934 Break of Day is André Breton s second collection of critical and polemical essays following The Lost Steps Nebraska 1996 In fewer than two hundred pages it captures the first full decade of the surrealist movement The collection opens with an essay composed in 1924 that examines key elements of surrealism and concludes with Breton s harsh revaluation in 1933 of automatic writing Among the other essays in the volume are Burial Denied and In Self Defense two pieces that in translator Mark Polizzotti s words mark surrealism s conscious break from the mainstream and the beginning of its attempts to work alongside the French Communist Party Also included are Psychiatry Standing before Surrealism which addresses Breton s complex ambivalent views on mental illness and the emerging psychiatric establishment Introduction to Achim von Arnim s Strange Tales which reveals surrealism s debt to such precursors as the German romantics and delineates a surrealistic aesthetic of the macabre and Picasso in His Element in which Breton demonstrates his formidable talents as a critic of the visual arts

Landscape Theory in Design Susan Herrington, 2016-12-08 Phenomenology Materiality Cybernetics Palimpsest Cyborgs Landscape Urbanism Typology Semiotics Deconstruction the minefield of theoretical ideas that students must navigate today can be utterly confusing and how do these theories translate to the design studio Landscape Theory in Design introduces theoretical ideas to students without the use of jargon or an assumption of extensive knowledge in other fields and in doing so links these ideas to the processes of design In five thematic chapters Susan Herrington explains the theoretic groundings of the theory of philosophy why it matters to design an example of the theory in a work of landscape architecture from the twentieth and twenty first centuries debates surrounding the theory particularly as they elaborate modern and postmodern thought and primary readings that can be read as companions to her text An extensive glossary of theoretical terms also adds a vital contribution to students comprehension of theories relevant to the design of landscapes and gardens Covering the design of over 40 landscape architects architects and designers in 111 distinct projects from 20 different countries Landscape Theory in Design is essential reading for any student of the landscape

Scansion in Psychoanalysis and Art Vanessa Sinclair,2020-11-16 Scansion in Psychoanalysis and Art examines a strain of artists spanning more than a century beginning at the dawn of photography and culminating in the discussion of contemporary artists to illustrate various psychoanalytic concepts by examining artists working in a multitude of media Drawing on the theories of Sigmund Freud who applied psychoanalytic methods to art and literature to decipher the meaning and intention of the creator as well as Jacques Lacan s dissemination of scansion as a powerful disruption of narrative the book explores examples of the long and rich relationship between psychoanalysis and the fine arts Whilst guiding readers through the different artists and their artforms from painting and music to poetry collage photography film performance art technology and body modification Sinclair interrogates scansion as a generative process often inherent of the act of creation itself This is an intriguing book for psychoanalysts psychologists and creative arts therapists who wish to explore the generative potential of scansion and the relationship between psychoanalysis and the arts as well as for artists and art historians interested in a psychoanalytic view of these processes

Down Below Leonora Carrington,2017-04-18 A stunning work of memoir and an unforgettable depiction of the brilliance and madness by one of Surrealism s most compelling figures In 1937 Leonora Carrington later to become one of the twentieth century s great painters of the weird the alarming and the wild was a nineteen year old art student in London beautiful and unapologetically rebellious At a dinner party she met the artist Max Ernst The two fell in love and soon departed to live and paint together in a farmhouse in Provence In 1940 the invading German army arrested Ernst and sent him to a concentration camp Carrington suffered a psychotic break She wept for hours Her stomach became the mirror of the earth of all worlds in a hostile universe and she tried to purify the evil by compulsively vomiting As the Germans neared the south of France a friend persuaded Carrington to flee to Spain Facing the approach of robots of thoughtless fleshless beings she packed a suitcase that bore on a brass plate the word Revelation This was only the beginning of a journey into madness that was to end with Carrington confined in a mental institution overwhelmed not only by her own terrible imaginings but by her doctor's sadistic course of treatment In Down Below she describes her ordeal in which the agonizing and the marvelous were equally combined with a startling almost impersonal precision and without a trace of self pity Like Daniel Paul Schreber's Memoirs of My Nervous Illness Down Below brings the hallucinatory logic of madness home The New Well-tempered Sentence Karen Elizabeth Gordon, 2003 The basic rules governing the use of periods semicolons hyphens commas and other punctuation marks are illustrated by original explanations and humorous sample sentences Reprint B Is for Bad Cinema Claire Perkins, Constantine Verevis, 2014-02-19 B Is for Bad Cinema continues and extends but does not limit itself to the trends in film scholarship that have made cult and exploitation films and other low genres increasingly acceptable objects for critical analysis Springing from discussions of taste and value in film these original essays mark out the broad contours of bad that is aesthetically morally or commercially disreputable cinema While some of the essays share a kinship with recent discussions of B movies and cult films they do not describe a single aesthetic category or represent a single methodology or critical agenda but variously approach bad cinema in terms of aesthetics politics and cultural value The volume covers a range of issues from the aesthetic and industrial mechanics of low budget production through the terrain of audience responses and cinematic affect and on to the broader moral and ethical implications of the material As a result B Is for Bad Cinema takes an interest in a variety of film examples overblown Hollywood blockbusters faux pornographic works and European art house films to consider those that lurk on the boundaries of acceptability

Blake 2.0 Steve Clark, T. Connolly, 2012-01-24 Blake said of his works Tho I call them Mine I know they are not Mine So who owns Blake Blake has always been more than words on a page This volume takes Blake 2.0 as an interactive concept examining digital dissemination of his works and reinvention by artists writers musicians and filmmakers across a variety of twentieth century media The Barcelona Pavilion by Mies van der Rohe Dietrich Neumann, 2020-12-07 While Mies van der Rohe's pavilion at the International Exposition in Barcelona in 1929 went unnoticed by most of the visitors to the fairgrounds contemporary critics enthusiastically hailed it as the most convincing statement of the Modern Age This book presents 100 selected texts about this much discussed building written then and now from the opening speech by the Spanish king to newspaper articles and private letters voices of contemporary architects architecture critics and historians and even a text by artist Ai Weiwei who created an installation in the outdoor area of the pavilion in 2010 Thus the history of this building's reception depicts a dazzling picture and inconceivable breadth including statements by such eminent authors as Frank Lloyd Wright Leonardo Benevolo Rem Koolhaas Peter Eisenman The Screen in Surrealist Art and Thought Haim Finkelstein, 2017-07-05 An interrogation of the notion of space in Surrealist theory and philosophy this study analyzes the manifestations of space in the paintings and writings done in the framework of the Surrealist Movement Haim Finkelstein introduces the screen as an important spatial paradigm that clarifies and extends the understanding of Surrealism as it unfolds in the 1920s exploring the screen and layered depth as fundamental structuring principles associated with the representation of the mental space and of the internal processes that eventually came to be linked with the Surrealist concept of psychic automatism Extending the discussion of the concepts at stake for Surrealist visual art into the context of film literature and criticism this study sheds new light on the way film thinking permeates Surrealist thought and aesthetics In early chapters Finkelstein looks at the concept of the screen as emblematic of a strand of spatial apprehension that informs the work of young writers in the 1920s such as Robert Desnos and Louis Aragon He goes on to explore the way the spatial character of the serial films of Louis Feuillade intimated to the Surrealists a related mode of vision associated with perception of the mystery and the Marvelous lurking behind the surfaces of quotidian reality The dialectics informing Surrealist thought with regard to the surfaces of the real with walls doors and windows as controlling images are shown to be at the basis of Andr   Breton's notion of the picture as a window Contrary to the traditional sense of this metaphor Breton's window is informed by the screen paradigm with its surface serving as a locus of a dialectics of transparency and opacity permeability and reflectivity The main aesthetic and conceptual issues that come up in the consideration of Breton's window metaphor lay the groundwork for an analysis of the work of Giorgio de Chirico Ren   Magritte Max Ernst Andr   Breton and Joan Mir   he concluding chapter considers Classics for Pleasure Michael Dirda, 2008 This is not your father's list of classics In these delightful essays Pulitzer Prize winner Michael Dirda introduces nearly ninety of the world's most entertaining books Writing with affection as well as authority Dirda covers masterpieces of fantasy and science fiction horror and adventure as well as epics history essay and children's literature Organized thematically these are works that have shaped our imaginations Love's Mysteries moves from Sappho and Arthurian romance to S  ren Kierkegaard and Georgette Heyer In other categories Dirda discusses not only Dracula and Sherlock Holmes but also the Tao Te Ching and Icelandic sagas Frederick Douglass and Fowler's Modern English Usage Whether writing about Petronius or Perelman Dirda makes literature come alive Classics for Pleasure is a perfect companion for any reading group or lover of books Max Ernst and Alchemy M. E.

Warlick, 2013-05-01 Surrealist artist Max Ernst defined collage as the alchemy of the visual image Students of his work have often dismissed this comment as simply a metaphor for the transformative power of using found images in a new context Taking a wholly different perspective on Ernst and alchemy however M. E. Warlick persuasively demonstrates that the artist had a profound and abiding interest in alchemical philosophy and often used alchemical symbolism in works created throughout his career A revival of interest in alchemy swept the artistic psychoanalytic historical and scientific circles of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and Warlick sets Ernst's work squarely within this movement Looking at both his art many of the works she discusses are reproduced in the book and his writings she reveals how thoroughly alchemical philosophy and symbolism pervade his early Dadaist experiments his foundational work in surrealism and his many collages and paintings of women and landscapes whose images exemplify the alchemical fusing of opposites This pioneering research adds an essential key to understanding the multilayered complexity of Ernst's works as it affirms his standing as one of Germany's most significant artists of the twentieth century
