Les origines, commentaires 1 et 2 , 1969

The Medical Revolution of the Seventeenth Century Roger Kenneth French, Andrew Wear, 1989-09-28 This consideration of the underlying forces which helped to produce a revolution in 17th century medicine sets out to show how in the period between 1630 and 1730 medicine came to represent something more than a marginal activity and was influenced by the current developments of the day

The New Philosophy and Universal Languages in Seventeenth-century England Robert E. Stillman, 1995 That saving form of knowledge as it develops in the lines of linguistic thought that extend from Bacon's Instauration to Wilkins's Philosophical Language is both a product of and one potent agent in producing the emerging scientifically designed modern state

Universal Languages and Scientific Taxonomy in the Seventeenth Century M. M. Slaughter, 1982-09-23 Examines highly regarded proposals during the seventeenth century for an artificial language intended to replace Latin as the international medium of communication

Latitudinarianism in the Seventeenth-Century Church of England Martin I.J. Griffin Jr, 1992-06-01 The Latitudinarians a group of prominent clergymen in the late seventeenth century Church of England were articulate opponents of Anglicanism's intellectual foes Against the challenges of Hobbism Spinozism Deism scepticism and Roman Catholicism they presented a body of thought emphasizing reason in religion and practical morality over credal speculation Their theology was designed to combat practical atheism and their sermons stressed that the chief design of Christianity was to make men good They advocated an alliance of religion and science and were early participants in the Royal Society In preaching they developed a simpler sermon style influential for English prose As an important part of the Anglican Church at the time of the Glorious Revolution they helped in drafting the Revolution Settlement the seedbed in Macaulay's words of subsequent personal liberties This definition and analysis of Latitudinarianism was completed by the late Martin Griffin in 1962 and has been updated since his death in 1988 by Professor Richard H Popkin

Philosophy, Science, and Religion in England 1640-1700 Richard W. F. Kroll, Richard Ashcraft, Perez Zagorin, 1992-01-31 This collection of essays looks at the distinctively English intellectual social and political phenomenon of Latitudinarianism which emerged during the Civil War and Interregnum and came into its own after the Restoration becoming a virtual orthodoxy after 1688 Dividing into two parts it first examines the importance of the Cambridge Platonists who sought to embrace the newest philosophical and scientific movements within Church of England orthodoxy and then moves into the later seventeenth century from the Restoration onwards culminating in essays on the philosopher John Locke These contributions establish a firmly interdisciplinary basis for the subject while collectively gravitating towards the importance of discourse and language as the medium for cultural exchange The variety of approaches serves to illuminate the cultural indeterminacy of the period in which inherited models and vocabularies were forced to undergo revisions coinciding with the formation of many cultural institutions still governing English society

Islam and The English Enlightenment Zulfiqar Ali Shah, 2022-06-02 Never before to my knowledge has the cross fertilisation of Western and Islamic ideas been so encyclopedically documented as it is here In reading Islam and the English Enlightenment you will never see the relationship between Islam and the West in the same way again ROBERT F SHEDI NGER Professor of Religion Luther College Dr Zulfiqar Ali Shah's Islam and the English Enlightenment is one of the most profoundly enlightening books I have read in years Dr Shah compellingly demonstrates that the thinkers of English Enlightenment were undeniably indebted to Islamic sciences and thought and that the foundational principles of rationalist thought scientific inquiry and religious toleration were deeply anchored in the Islamic tradition KHALED ABOU EL FADL Omar Azmeralda Alfi Distinguished Professor of Law UCLA School of Law This is a book that anyone interested in stepping outside a Eurocentric view of the rise of the West and of the modern age must read MICHAEL A GILLESPIE Professor of Political Science Philosophy Duke University Dr Shah convincingly demonstrates the central role that Islam played in shaping the values and ideas of the Enlightenment reformers such as John Locke and Isaac Newton who had helped to produce the modern world GERALD MACLEAN Emeritus Professor University of Exeter Judaean-Christian Intellectual Culture in the Seventeenth Century A.P. Coudert, S. Hutton, R.H. Popkin, G.M. Weiner, 2013-03-07 MURIEL MCCARTHY This volume originated from a seminar organised by Richard H Popkin in Marsh's Library on July 7 8 1994 It was one of the most stimulating events held in the Library in recent years Although we have hosted many special seminars on such subjects as rare books the Huguenots and Irish church history this was the first time that a seminar was held which was specifically related to the books in our own collection It seems surprising that this type of seminar has never been held before although the reason is obvious Since there is no printed catalogue of the Library scholars are not aware of its contents In fact the collection of books by late seventeenth and early eighteenth century European authors on for example such subjects as biblical criticism political and religious controversy is one of the richest parts of the Library's collections Some years ago we were informed that of the 25 000 books in Marsh's at least 5 000 English books or books printed in England were printed between 1640 and 1700 Islamic Intellectual History in the Seventeenth Century Khaled El-Rouayheb, 2015-07-08 This book investigates the intellectual currents among Ottoman and North African scholars of the early modern period The intellectual conflict of the seventeenth century. Decadent influence of the feudal monarchy. Growth of the national genius William John Courthope, 1911 Francis Bacon and the Seventeenth-Century Intellectual Discourse A. Funari, 2011-10-10 This book explores the resistance of three English poets to Francis Bacon's project to restore humanity to Adamic mastery over nature moving beyond a discussion of the tension between Bacon and these poetic voices to suggest they were also debating the narrative of humanity's intellectual path The intellectual adventure of modern man Brayton Polka, Bernard Zelechow, 1970 The Cambridge Modern History John Emerich Edward Dalberg Acton Baron Acton, Sir Adolphus William Ward, George Walter Prothero, Sir Stanley Mordaunt Leathes, 1909 The Cambridge Modern History is a comprehensive modern history of the world beginning with the 15th century age of Discovery published by the Cambridge University Press in the United Kingdom and also in the United States The Cambridge Modern History, 1909 The Philosophy of John Dewey John Dewey, 1928 The Arts of 17th-century Science Claire Jowitt, Diane Watt, 2002 Contemporary ideals of science representing disinterested and objective fields of investigation have their origins in the seventeenth century However new science did not simply or uniformly replace earlier beliefs about the workings of the natural world but entered into competition with them It is this complex process of competition and negotiation concerning ways of seeing the natural world that is charted by the essays in this book The collection traces the many overlaps between literary and scientific discourses as writers in this period attempted both to understand imaginatively and empirically the workings of the natural world and shows that a discrete separation between such discourses and spheres is untenable The collection is designed around four main themes Philosophy Thought and Natural Knowledge Religion Politics and the Natural World Gender Sexuality and Scientific Thought and New Worlds and New Philosophies Within these themes the contributors focus on the contests between different ways of seeing and understanding the natural world in a wide range of writings from the period in poetry and art in political texts in descriptions of real and imagined colonial landscapes as well as in more obviously scientific documents
