

The background of the slide is a solid red color. Overlaid on this are faint, semi-transparent images of a child's room. In the upper half, several wooden blocks are scattered, each featuring a different scene or character. In the lower half, a dollhouse is visible, with a doll standing in front of it. The overall theme is related to childhood and television programming.

Soap Opera Paradigm Television Programming And Corporate Priorities:

The Soap Opera Paradigm James H. Wittebols, 2004 The Soap Opera Paradigm is an engaging look at the pervasive use of daytime soap opera storytelling techniques in most television program genres from prime time soap operas and reality shows to the nightly news coverage of political campaigns and sports programming Drawing from a wealth of research James Wittebols shows how programming techniques have changed over time and what roles media concentration and commercial influences have played in these changes Visit our website for sample chapters The Survival of Soap Opera Sam Ford, Abigail De Kosnik, C. Lee Harrington, 2010-11-03 The soap opera one of U S television s longest running and most influential formats is on the brink Declining ratings have been attributed to an increasing number of women working outside the home and to an intensifying competition for viewers attention from cable and the Internet Yet soaps influence has expanded with serial narratives becoming commonplace on most prime time TV programs The Survival of Soap Opera investigates the causes of their dwindling popularity describes their impact on TV and new media culture and gleans lessons from their complex history for twenty first century media industries The book contains contributions from established soap scholars such as Robert C Allen Louise Spence Nancy Baym and Horace Newcomb along with essays and interviews by emerging scholars fans and Web site moderators and soap opera producers writers and actors from ABC s General Hospital CBS s The Young and the Restless and The Bold and the Beautiful and other shows This diverse group of voices seeks to intervene in the discussion about the fate of soap operas at a critical juncture and speaks to longtime soap viewers television studies scholars and media professionals alike Sports Fans, Identity, and Socialization Exploring the Fandemonium Adam C. Earnheardt, Paul M. Haridakis, Barbara S. Hugenberg, 2012-01-01 Once deemed an unworthy research endeavor the study of sports fandom has garnered the attention of seasoned scholars from a variety of academic disciplines Identity and socialization among sports fans are particular burgeoning areas of study among a growing cadre of specialists in the social sciences Sports Fans Identity and Socialization edited by Adam C Earnheardt Paul Haridakis and Barbara Hugenberg captures an eclectic collection of new studies from accomplished scholars in the fields such as communication business geography kinesiology media and sports management and administration using a wide range of methodologies including quantitative qualitative and critical analyses In the communication revolution of the twenty first century the study of mediated sports is critical As fans use all media at their disposal to consume sports and carry their sports viewing experience online they are seizing the initiative and asserting themselves into the mediated sports dissemination process They are occupying traditional roles of consumers receivers of sports but also as sharers and sports content creators Fans are becoming pseudo sports journalists They are interpreting mediated sports content for other fans They are making their voice heard by sports organizations and athletes Mediated sports in essence provide a context for studying and understanding where and how the communication revolution of the twenty first century is being waged With their collection of studies by scholars from North America and Europe Earnheardt Haridakis and Hugenberg illuminate the symbiotic relationship among and between sports organizations the media and their audiences Sports Fans Identity and Socialization spurs both the researcher and the interested fan to consider what the study of sports tells us about ourselves and the society in which we live New Media Literacies and Participatory Popular Culture Across Borders Bronwyn Williams, Amy A. Zenger, 2012-05-23 How do students online literacy practices intersect with online popular culture In this book scholars from a range of countries including Australia Lebanon Nepal Qatar South Africa Turkey and the United States illustrate and analyze how literacy practices that are mediated through and influenced by popular culture create both opportunities and tensions for secondary and university students The authors examine issues of theory identity and pedagogy as they address participatory popular culture sites such as fan forums video blogs social networking sites anime memes and comics and graphic novels Uniquely bringing together scholarship about online literacy practices and the growing body of work on participatory popular culture New Media Literacies and Participatory Popular Culture across Borders makes distinctive contributions to an emerging field of study pushing forward scholarship about literacy and identity in cross cultural situations and advancing important conversations about issues of global flows and local responses to popular culture

Television Series as Literature Reto Winckler, Víctor Huertas-Martín, 2022-01-19 This book explores how television series can be understood as a form of literature bridging the gap between literary and television studies It goes beyond existing adaptation studies and narratological approaches to television series in both its scope and depth The respective chapters address literary works themes tropes techniques values genres and movements in relation to a broad variety of television series while drawing on the theoretical work of a host of scholars from Simone de Beauvoir and Yuri Lotman to Ted Nannicelli and Jason Mittell and on critical approaches ranging from narratology and semiotics to empirical sociology and phenomenology The book fosters new ways of understanding television series and literature and lays the groundwork for future scholarship in a number of fields By questioning the alleged divide between television series and works of literature it contributes not only to a better understanding of television series and literary texts themselves but also to the development of interdisciplinary scholarship in the humanities Canadian Television Marian Bredin, Scott Henderson, Sarah A.

Matheson, 2012-06-01 Canadian Television Text and Context explores the creation and circulation of entertainment television in Canada from the interdisciplinary perspective of television studies Each chapter connects arguments about particular texts of Canadian television to critical analysis of the wider cultural social and economic contexts in which they are created The book surveys the commercial and technological imperatives of the Canadian television industry the shifting role of the CBC as Canada's public broadcaster the dynamics of Canada's multicultural and multiracial audiences and the function of television's star system Foreword by The Globe and Mail's television critic John Doyle The Mystery of Twin Peaks Caroline Frank, Markus Schleich, 2025-09-26 The anthology brings together various approaches and contexts to Twin Peaks addressing the show's unique production and reception aesthetics The range of contributions covers diverse topics genre mixing transactuality complex narrative structures dream and dreamlike qualities gender and identity concepts extreme fan culture visual aesthetics acoustic dimensions postmodern referential culture and not least the question of which other quality TV series became possible due to Twin Peaks Brevity and the Short Form in Serial Television Shannon

Wells-Lassagne, Sylvaine Bataille, Florence Cabaret, 2024-07-30 Focuses on television fictions as short forms rather than expansive narratives and how this relates to their seriality 12 case studies focusing on the short form in television fiction Covers a wide array of television be it network cable or streaming from several different national origins Focuses not just on fiction but on relatively unstudied aspects of television miniseries web series video essays as a form of brevity in television aesthetics Studies both television production the TV series themselves as well as reception video essays Features an extended interview with a television practitioner Vincent Poymiro the screenwriter of the French series En th rapie an adaptation of BeTipul In Treatment This book offers various approaches to understanding the short form in television The collection is structured in three parts first engaging with the concept of brevity as inherent to television fiction before going on to examine how the rapidly changing landscape of television outside traditional networks might adapt this trope to new contexts made accessible by streaming platforms The final part of the study examines how this short form is inextricable from a larger context either in its relation to seriality from the crossover to the bottle episode and or a larger structure for example in the reception of a larger whole through short but evocative clips in order to better weigh their impact from Easter Egg fan videos to Analyses of The collection concludes with an interview with award winning screenwriter Vincent Poymiro about his French series En th rapie an adaptation of BeTipul In Treatment Italian Americans Eric Martone, 2016-12-12
