

The Social Gospel Today

"A reappraisal that is creative and controversial. Veteran interpreters and newer voices convene a rich conversation about the legacy and the future of social Christianity in the changing American cultural context."

Dr. Ronald C. White Jr., Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dean of the Seminary, and Professor of Church History at San Francisco Theological Seminary. Author of Liberty and Justice for All: Racial Reform and the Social Gospel.

"The essays in this volume remind us of the importance of that movement in the shaping of twentieth-century Christianity, even as they help to refocus its genius in broader directions for the twenty-first century."

Dr. J. Philip Wogaman, Senior Minister, Foundry United Methodist Church, and Affiliated Professor of Christian Social Ethics at Wesley Theological Seminary, Washington, D.C.

"A sensible and well-balanced reevaluation of the social gospel delineating an enlarged, multilevel, and exciting response to the efforts church men and women have and can employ to relate the insights of the Christian faith to the salvation of American society. For them the social gospel is not only alive but growing and mutating in our postmodern era. The book is a valuable aid to the efforts of religious persons to overcome the emergent and changing needs of individuals and contemporary society."

Dr. Preston N. Williams, Houghton Professor of Theology and Contemporary Change at Harvard Divinity School

"As what has been known as the social gospel emerged in the late nineteenth century, it has proved to be an important, many-sided, changing, and often misunderstood movement. A dozen scholars have joined together in reinterpreting both pasts and presents of social Christianity in America. They have effectively brought together historical and theological skills in a readable way in this significant contribution that can not only enrich knowledge but can help to guide action."

Robert T. Handy, Henry Sloane Coffin Professor Emeritus of Church History at Union Theological Seminary in New York

Prominent theologians, religious historians, ethicists, and pastoral scholars here explore the enduring value of the social gospel tradition for the ministry and mission of contemporary, mainline Protestant churches.

Contributors include Christopher H. Evans, Susan Hill Lindley, Darryl M. Trimiew, Melanie A. May, Rosemary Skinner Keller, Dianne Reistroffer, Gary Dorrien, Timothy Tseng, Janet Furness, Janet Forsythe Fishburn, Max L. Stackhouse, and Pamela D. Couture.

CHRISTOPHER H. EVANS is Associate Professor of Church History and Director of United Methodist Studies at Colgate Rochester Divinity School/Crozer Theological Seminary, Rochester, New York.
