Politics of Eugenics Alberto Spektorowski, Liza Ireni-Saban, 2013-07-18 This book analyzes whether the new debate on genetics owes a debt to eugenic practices by welfare democracies of 1930s and 1940s More specifically the question is whether precisely the same eugenic rationale used in the 1930s is philosophical akin to a new rationality unfolding in some Western European welfare societies that find themselves trapped in the modern dilemma of choosing between increasing immigration and population growth that leads to economic prosperity on the one hand or halting immigration protecting national identity and suffering economic stagnation on the other By analyzing policies of integration and assisted reproduction technology ART in Northern European nation states such as Sweden Finland Denmark as well as in Israel we find a historical continuity between old eugenics and current reproductive and family planning subsidies and integration policies By focusing on the concept of welfare productionism we trace a continuing rationale between the eugenic policies of the past and current investments of ART These programs are rationalized as universal programs for the whole of the population However in this book the authors suggest that they served the goal of reproducing a productivist national middle class which are enticed to reproduce This work will be of great interest to students and scholars of racism extremism European politics population politics and the social impact of science and technology
