Passing the Federal Budget

The President sends Congress a budget message with estimates, spending priorities, + plan for taxes.

The House and Senate pass budget resolutions that outline spending + taxes for next 5 years.

The House and Senate pass bills authorizing spending, which must meet spending limits.

The President can either sign the budget bill into law or veto it.

...and veto it.

...Congress can

the bill or override country.

But, this larger nation, we can not dedicate — we can not hallow — we can not glorify around. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will be far more, now being dedicated to the great task remaining before us — that from this spot, we may take a better view of our condition than we have before. For us to be dedicated to the great task remaining before us — that from this spot, we may take a better view of our condition than we have before. For us to be dedicated to the great task remaining before us — that from this spot, we may take a better view of our condition than we have before.
