Social Relations And The Life Course:

Social Relations and the Life Course G. Allan, G. Jones, 2016-01-28 This collection of essays represents some of the most important recent research into changing patterns of family household and community life It brings together some of the leading sociologists in the field to explore how these informal social relationships change over time and the life course It will be essential reading on courses concerned with the family and youth sociology      Social Networks and the Life Course Duane F. Alwin, Diane H. Felmlee, Derek A. Kreager, 2018-03-06 This volume engages the interface between the development of human lives and social relational networks It focuses on the integration of two subfields of sociology social science the life course and social networks Research practitioners studying social networks typically focus on social structure or social organization ignoring the complex lives of the people in those networks At the same time life course researchers tend to focus on individual lives without necessarily studying the contexts of social relationships in which lives are embedded and linked to one another through social networks These patterns are changing and this book creates an audience of researchers who will better integrate the two subfields It covers the role of social networks across the life span from childhood and adolescence to midlife through old age      Interpersonal Relations Across the Life Course Timothy J Owens, J. Jill Suitor, 2007-09-05 This volume number 12 is subtitled Interpersonal Relations across the Life Course It is inspired by the increased awareness in recent years of the way in which structural and psychosocial dimensions of the life course shape interpersonal relations Interest in this issue has included both the maintenance of long term relationships that may span many phases of the life course and the development of relationships that are specific to particular phases The volume is a combination of invited and author initiated papers all anonymously peer reviewed that seeks to present a cohesive source of information on the multiform nature and influences of interpersonal relations from a variety of perspectives theoretical frames and substantive areas Contributions reflect Macro micro linkages and interpersonal relations i e age structures social institutions and race ethnicity Parenting across the life course Parent adult child relations and transitions Transitions in non kin relationships Social relationships and well being      Aging and the Life Course Deborah Lowry, 2022-01-10 Aging part II explores the experiences and conditions of aging especially in particular groups and part III presents current research on older adults engagement in work family social networks and sex Finally Part IV addresses themes of aging and social change      Demographic Research, Volume 17: Book II Demographic Research, 2008      Developmental Science Robert B. Cairns, Glen H. Elder, E. Jane Costello, 1996 Details the new cross disciplinary synthesis as formulated by the Carolina Consortium on Human Development      Handbook of Psychology, Developmental Psychology Richard M. Lerner, M. Ann Easterbrooks, Jayanthi Mistry, 2003-03-04 Includes established theories and cutting edge developments Presents the work of an international group of experts Presents the nature origin implications an future course of major unresolved issues in the area      Global Social Economy John B. Davis, 2009-09-10 This book addresses global social economy which addresses the relation of capitalism to human flourishing the role of international governance in the world economy the transformation of work and use of time in internationalizing economies cross country developments in gender poverty and ageing and ethics economic policy issues in the international economy This edited collection examines the social nature of capitalism today the possibilities for social and economic development in the world under the democratic leadership of the United Nations and the middle ground between market and hierarchy occupied by gift exchange as a means of coordinating economic value creation and the creation of knowledge It considers long term issues in the global social economy concerning gender and discrimination intergenerational poverty transmission and the role of ageing From a variety of internationally acclaimed contributors this collection introduces new social economic perspectives on the global economy that contest the neoliberal Washington Consensus view dominant until recent financial crises

Lerner, 2006-05-19 Part of the authoritative four volume reference that spans the entire field of child development and has set the standard against which all other scholarly references are compared Updated and revised to reflect the new developments in the field the Handbook of Child Psychology Sixth Edition contains new chapters on such topics as spirituality social understanding and non verbal communication Volume 1 Theoretical Models of Human Development edited by Richard M Lerner Tufts University explores a variety of theoretical approaches including life span life course theories socio culture theories structural theories object relations theories and diversity and development theories New chapters cover phenomenology and ecological systems theory positive youth development and religious and spiritual development

Older Widows and the Life Course Pat Chambers, 2018-01-18 Later life widowhood is the expectation of most older wives since statistically women live longer than men and tend to marry men older than themselves Despite this there has been little coverage of the complexities of later life widowhood In this book Pat Chambers redresses this balance combining an analysis of the literature that does exist with qualitative research amongst older widows The research reveals a multi faceted experience of later life widowhood Older widows life stories challenge the dominant public narrative of misery and decline pointing instead to a complexity of experience which is rooted in personal biography and the female life course rather than in later life widowhood itself Chambers develops the concept of multiple narratives as a way of uncovering the complex but often hidden lives of older widows Without such an understanding she argues it is all too easy to subscribe to the powerfully dominant public narrative and thus to misinterpret older widows current needs and aspirations This is an engaging and original study of a key topic for gerontological research and will be of great interest to sociologists and social policy scholars who study ageing and the life course

Social Integration in the Second Half of Life Karl Pillemer, Phyllis Moen, Elaine Wethington, Nina Glasgow, 2003-05-01 Social scientists use the term social integration to refer to individuals connections with others in their environments The concept and its consequences have been the subject of considerable study Many researchers have asserted that meaningful and enduring ties to other persons serve as a buffer against stress and thereby promote physical and mental health The results are especially pronounced for older persons Social Integration in the Second Half of Life presents integrative reviews of theory and research on this topic The editors and contributors all currently or previously affiliated with the Cornell Gerontology Research Institute also present new empirical findings of research done at their center The first section of the book discusses basic theory and principles of social integration in later life and its implications for health The second largest section examines specific issues retirement driving family support housing neighbors The third section addresses interventions to promote social integration transportation volunteering and peer support for dementia caregivers Throughout the authors focus on the diverging influences of social integration and its converse social isolation in later life
