Theory Beyond Structure and Agency Jean-Sébastien Guy, 2019-09-10 This book offers a solution for the problem of structure and agency in sociological theory by developing a new pair of fundamental concepts metric and nonmetric Nonmetric forms arising in a crowd made out of innumerable individuals correspond to social groups that divide the many individuals in the crowd into insiders and outsiders Metric forms correspond to congested zones like traffic jams on a highway individuals are constantly entering and leaving these zones so that they continue to exist even though the individuals passing through them change Building from these concepts we can understand agency as a requirement for group identity and group membership thus associating it with nonmetric forms and structure as a building up effect following the accumulation of metric forms This reveals the contradiction between structure and agency to be a case of forced perspective leaving us victim to an optical illusion

Introducing Relational Political Analysis Peeter Selg, Andreas Ventsel, 2020-09-21 This book introduces relational thinking to political analysis Instead of merely providing an overview of possible trajectories for articulating a relational political analysis Peeter Selg and Andreas Ventsel put forth a concrete relational theory of the political which has implications for research methodology culminating in a concrete method they call political form analysis In addition they sketch out several applications of this theory methodology and method They call their approach political semiotics and argue that it is a fruitful way of conducting research on power governance and democracy the core dimensions of the political in a manner that is envisioned in numerous discussions of the relational turn in the social sciences It is the first monograph that attempts to outline an approach to the political that would be relational throughout from its meta theoretical and theoretical premises through to its methodological implications methods and empirical applications
