Developing Teachers Chris Day, 2002-01-04 Effective schools or improving schools are fashionable terms in the rhetoric of recent education movements yet the heart of these movements is often more to do with teaching quality than with school practice This book takes a holistic view of teacher development examining the contexts and conditions of teaching school leadership and culture teachers lives and histories change teacher learning competence and expertise and the moral purposes of teaching Day looks at the conditions under which teacher development may be enhanced and brings together research and other information from the UK and overseas

Critical Reflections On Dist. Terry Evans, Daryl Nation, 2020-11-25 This book

suggests that apparently unrelated vignettes of Mikhail Gorbachev Robert Mugabe and Harold Wilson are closely connected and illustrates that the concept of distance education may be seen as one of those innovations which was forged on the frontier of European expansion overseas Researching School Experience Martyn Hammersley,1999 This book brings together material from wide range of studies mainly qualitative in character concerned with exploring what actually goes on in learning situations and explores the perspectives of teachers and students Children and Controversial Issues Bruce Carrington,Barry Troyna,1988 Race, Gender and the Education of Teachers Iram Siraj-Blatchford,1993 Despite growing concern over the level of racism and sexism in schools recruitment and retention of ethnic minority students into teacher education remains very low Reports by the UK Comission for Racial Equality and the Equal Opportunities Commission continue to the show poor career prospects of women and ethnic minority groups in education This book aims to fill the gap in research and writing on the practical and theoretical approaches to achieving race and gender equality at all levels of teacher education Religious Education and the Creative Arts Derek H. Webster,1989 The Role of Self in Teacher Development Richard P. Lipka,Thomas M. Brinthaupt,1999-01-01 Reflects some of the major transition points in becoming a teacher and focuses explicitly on how issues of self and identity bear on these different points Informing Educational Policy and Practice Through Interpretive Inquiry Nelson L. Haggerson,Andrea C. Bowman,1992 International Handbook of Research on Teachers and Teaching Lawrence J. Saha,Anthony Gary Dworkin,2009-04-17 The International Handbook of Research on Teachers and Teaching provides a fresh look at the ever changing nature of the teaching profession throughout the world This collection of over 70 articles addresses a wide range of issues relevant for understanding the present educational climate in which the accountability of teachers and the standardized testing of students have become dominant Pedagogic Rights and Democratic Education Philippe Vitale,Beryl Exley,2015-07-24 The basis of Bernstein s sociology of education lays in is his theorisation of the different approaches to curriculum pedagogy and assessment and the implications for pedagogic rights and social justice This edited collection presents 15 empirical case studies and theoretical accounts from 22 international scholars who focus on the experiences of students and teachers in contexts marked by economic social cultural linguistic and or geographic diversity Located in systems of education in Australia France Germany Greece Portugal South Africa and the United States each chapter contributes to a better understanding of the conditions of a democratic education across time and place Sociological Abstracts ,1990 The Color of Teaching June Gordon,2002-11-01 One of the major concerns in education at present is how to recruit and attract more teachers from ethnic minorities In an attempt to move beyond the superficial and simplistic responses as to why these students are not entering teaching this book presents in depth interviews with over two hundred people from four ethnic groups African Americans Native Americans Asian Americans and Latinos These interviewees many of them teachers or education professionals express their attitude towards teaching and their understanding of why others may not choose teaching as a career One of the most significant and surprising findings is that regardless of academic or socio economic standing students from these ethnic groups tend not to be encouraged to enter the teaching profession by their own families communities and peers The book concludes with a discussion of programmatic changes and calls for the reconceptualization of the role of teachers Such changes can only arise out of a fundamental change in attitude of communities of color towards teaching which must be led by teachers themselves

Researching the Art of Teaching Peter Woods, 2013-09-27 This book is a follow up to Inside Schools It reviews the position of ethnography in educational research in the light of current issues and of the author's own research over the past ten years Starting from an analysis of teaching as science and as art Peter Woods goes on to review the general interactionist framework in which his own work is situated and how this relates to postmodernist trends in qualitative research The approach is illustrated through reference to the author's own personal history and research career and his recent research on creative teaching critical events and his teachers reactions to school inspections How to represent such research is a central feature and includes a consideration of the tools used in that task and how they relate to the ethnographer's self whatever forms of representation are selected however the audiences own concerns will guide them in their interpretation of the work Prominent themes include the person of the ethnographer in research the art of teaching and new ways of representing it while not forgetting the science of teaching and of research research for educational use and the uses of educational research collaborative work between researchers and teachers The issues covered include such matters as research purposes research design research careers access data collection data analysis truth criteria the relationship between theory and research methods writing up and dissemination
