Some Detached Houses:

Village Housing in the Tropics Keith Harry Hinchcliff, 1969 Report of the United States Housing Corporation
United States. Bureau of Industrial Housing and Transportation, 1919 Village Housing in the Tropics Jane Drew, Maxwell Fry, Harry L Ford, 2013-11-26 Tropical Architecture although now a highly contested and debated term is the name given to European modern architecture that has been modified to suit the climatic and sometimes cultural context of hot countries These hot countries were labelled the tropics and were often European colonies or countries that had recently won their independence Fry Drew's book written on the threshold of the end of the British Empire was one of the first publications to offer practical advice to architects working in the tropics based on the empirical studies they conducted whilst based in British West Africa during the Second World War The book with its numerous illustrations plans and easy to follow explanations became a key manual for all architects working in hot climates and in particular those tasked with designing dwellings and small town plans Although the Royal Engineers and Schools of Tropical Medicine had long been designing and campaigning for better planning improved sanitation and had for example developed methods of cross ventilation this book became an instant hit Tropical Architecture suddenly bloomed into its own distinct canon and by 1955 the Architectural Association had set up a course specialising in tropical architecture led for a short time by Fry Village Housing in the Tropics had a significant impact when it was written on a profession that had had little guidance on working in hot climates and on architecture students and universities who began to modify their courses to accommodate different conditions Although from a post colonial perspective many scholars now associate this architecture as being a continuation of the Imperial mission this does not reduce the significance of the publication Indeed Tropical Architecture is regarded as being the forerunner to green architecture developing passive low energy buildings that are tailored to suit their climate and built with local materials Divided Tokyo Tomoko Kubo, 2020-04-09 This book explores how and why Tokyo has been environment from a social justice perspective and 5 family housing relationships in the post growth society Based on the literature review the rest of the book is structured as follows Chapter 2 explains the changes in urban and housing policies demography and socio economic conditions In Chapters 3 to 5 the background and characteristics of the growth of condominium living in the city center are examined The next three chapters analyze the reality of shrinking suburbs using

The Pitmen's Requiem Peter Crookston, 2014-01-05 Peter Crookston's book offers a beautifully written journalist's account of a Durham mining village and the Great Northern Coalfield woven around the life of Robert Saint the composer of Gresford a brass band composition commemorating an earlier mining disaster in which 256 workers died Crookston brings his formidable observational qualities and writing skills as a journalist to produce a gripping narrative with utterly compelling characters and a heart rending culmination in the demise of the mining industry under assault by Thatcher The story is told in a gentle unpretentious way frequently giving voice to the characters themselves many of whom the author knew personally or got to know in preparing the book Apart from capturing a critical moment in a disappearing world the book offers a vantage point from which to reflect on our own culture and what we have lost in post industrial Britain the loss of community which did so much to sustain and nurture those miners in their desperate plights This is as much a history of culture and place as much as it is biography a book that is at once an elegy and a tribute
