Somewhere Between Mexico And A River Called Home:

Somewhere Between Mexico and a River Called Home Marian Haddad, 2001 Inclined to Speak Hayan

Charara, 2008-03 At no other time in American history has our imagination been so engrossed with the Arab experience An indispensable and historic volume Inclined to Speak gathers together poems from the most important contemporary Arab American poets that shape and alter our understanding of this experience These poems also challenge us to reconsider what it means to be American Impressive in its scope this book provides readers with an astonishing array of poetic sensibilities touching on every aspect of the human condition Whether about culture politics loss art or language itself the poems here engage these themes with originality dignity and an unyielding need not only to speak but also to be heard Here are thirty nine poets offering up 160 poems Included in the anthology are Naomi Shihab Nye Samuel Hazo D H Melhem Lawrence Joseph Khaled Mattawa Mohja Khaf Matthew Shenoda Kazim Ali Nuar Alsadir Fady Joudah and Lisa Suhair Majaj Charara has written a lengthy introduction about the state of Arab American poetry in the country today and short biographies of the poets and provided an extensive list of further readings Scheherazade's Legacy Susan M. Darraj, 2004-08-30 In a time when it seems that the gap of understanding between the West and the Middle East continues to widen Scheherazade's Legacy builds a bridge between the two cultures Collected here are the voices of those who define the genre of Arab Anglophone writing that literature that describes the cultural experiences of those with Arab identities living and often writing in the West Contributions from such writers as Naomi Shihab Nye Diana Abu Jaber Suheir Hammad Etal Adnan Elmaz Abinader and others explore the complexities of writing in and for a culture not entirely their own The essays here complemented by selections mostly original of each author's work promises to be a cornerstone in the study of writing by women writers of Arab descent who find themselves between two cultures two worlds that are often at odds With a foreword by Barbara Nimri Aziz journalist and founder of RAWI Radius of Arab American Writers this collection is one of the first books to assemble the voices of women writers of Arab descent on the subject of writing itself Contributors consider the difficulties obstacles joys failures and successes of writing from an Arab perspective but largely for American audiences They consider aspects of identity family politics memory and other crucial cultural issues that impact them personally and professionally as writers In creative and thoughtful prose these important women writers shed new light on what it means to be a writer in a world not fully your own Literary Writing in the 21st Century Anis Shivani, 2020-02-24 In Literary Writing in the 21st Century an incredible array of today's leading fiction writers poets critics editors publishers and booksellers engage in no holds barred dialogue about the challenging issues facing writing and publishing today Whether it's the impact of innovative technologies proliferation of new modes of teaching and learning changing economic dynamics for publishers shifting criteria to judge quality writing in a global context or redefinitions of authorship amidst larger cultural changes this book provides a cornucopia of strongly articulated opinions It also serves as a manual for students enrolled in formal programs of creative writing as well as those pursuing writing independently Deploying his signature wit and unconventional insights these wide ranging cultural conversations are mediated by one of our most thought provoking literary critics and are sure to prompt spirited dialogue both inside and outside the classroom 2012 Poet's Market Robert Lee

If baseball is the sport of nostalgic prose basketball's movement myths and culture are truly at home in verse In this extraordinary collection of essays poets meditate on what basketball means to them how it has changed their perspective on the craft of poetry how it informs their sense of language the body and human connectedness how their love of the sport made a difference in the creation of their poems and in the lives they live beyond the margins Walt Whitman saw the origins of poetry as communal oral myth making The same could be said of basketball which is the beating heart of so many neighborhoods and communities in this country and around the world On the court and on the page this poetry in motion can be a force of change and inspiration leaving devoted fans wonderstruck

Modern Arab American Fiction Steven Salaita, 2011-04-13
Within the spectrum of American literary traditions Arab American literature is relatively new Writing produced by Americans of Arab origin is mainly a product of the twentieth century and only started to flourish in the past thirty years While this young but thriving literature varies widely in content and style it emerges from a common community and within a specific historical political and cultural context In Modern Arab American Fiction Salaita maps out the landscape of this genre as he details rather than defines the last century of Arab American fiction Exploring the works of such best selling authors as Rabih Alameddine Mohja Kahf Laila Halaby Diana Abu Jaber Alicia Erian and Randa Jarrar Salaita highlights the development of each author's writing and how each has influenced Arab American fiction He examines common themes including the Israel Palestine conflict the Lebanese Civil War of 1975-90 the representation and practice of

Islam in the United States social issues such as gender and national identity in Arab cultures and the various identities that come with being Arab American Combining the accessibility of a primer with in depth critical analysis Modern Arab American Fiction is suitable for a broad audience those unfamiliar with the subject area as well as scholars of the literature
