

A woman in a red dress stands on a sandy beach, her back to the camera, arms outstretched towards the ocean. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a warm, golden glow over the water and sky. The waves are gently breaking on the shore.

Narratives of Hope and Despair Johanna M. Wagner,Melanie Duckworth,Deanna Benjamin,2025-10-14 In narratives of literature and cultural production hope and despair remain fundamental in exploring our world In recent years political polarization the Covid pandemic global warming and new and ongoing wars have contributed to global crises to which despair is an understandable response Yet hope is continually sought and proclaimed By examining tropes of ruin and regeneration in a wide selection of narratives including memoir graphic narratives fiction film art radio plays culture rhetoric and discourse the book uncovers resonances between them The anthology moves from the personal to the collective addressing individual matters of the body and the mind societal visions of utopia and dystopia and finally hope and despair for the earth itself in representations of apocalypse and the Anthropocene This structure alongside the interdisciplinary nature of the project maps dynamic international perspectives in which hope and despair flow across and through personal social and earthly concerns The Serendipity of Hope Simon Lee,Ian S. Markham,2023-07-07 Institutions are very precious If any idea is going to persist into the future then it needs an institution to keep it going Each of us comes to understand often only gradually over the decades how some influences from our earlier life have affected us Some will have been inspiring Some will have given us direct models of how to behave or how not to behave Indeed it is often the case that the deeper an influence turns out to have been in the long run the less likely it is that we noticed it at the time it was happening For this reason it has become necessary to find the time to reflect on and express gratitude for the institutions that helped form who we are and the work that we do This collection of essays explores the impact of one institution on twenty five participants twenty five years after we worked together The Institution was Liverpool Hope University College and is now Liverpool Hope University By telling and reflecting on our stories we aim to encourage others to think about their own experiences and ultimately our earnest hope is that a greater awareness of this aspect of university life will help to transform our collective understanding of the nature of universities in particular and of communities institutions or societies in general But there was something special about belonging to a community called Hope Self-Help To Treasure Trove
