The Seaman's Guide to the Navigation of the Indian Ocean and China Sea William Henry Rosser, 1867 The Australia directory. [With] Admiralty hydrogr. dept, 1863 The Archaeology of Watercraft Abandonment Nathan Richards, Sami Kay Seeb, 2013-06-05 The historical importance and archaeological potential of deliberately discarded watercraft has not been a major feature of maritime archaeological enquiry While research on the topic has appeared since the 1970s as books chapters and articles most examples have been limited in focus and distribution and in most cases disseminated as unpublished archaeological reports i.e. the gray literature So too has there been a lack of a single source representing the diversity of geographical historic thematic and theoretical contexts that ships graveyard sites and deliberately abandoned vessels represent In contrast with much of the theoretical or case specific literature on the theme of watercraft discard this volume communicates to the reader the common heritage and global themes that ships graveyard sites represent It serves as a blueprint to illustrate how the remains of abandoned vessels in ships graveyards are sites of considerable research value Moreover the case studies in this volume assist researchers in understanding the evolution of maritime technologies economies and societies This volume is intended to expose research potential create discussion and reinforce the significance of a prevalent cultural resource that is often overlooked Sailing Directions for the North and West Coasts of Australia United States.
