The Broadview Anthology of Expository Prose - Third Canadian Edition Laura Buzzard, Don LePan, Nora Ruddock, Alexandria Stuart, 2017-08-08 The third Canadian edition of this anthology has been substantially revised and updated for a contemporary audience a selection of classic essays from earlier eras has been retained but the emphasis is very much on twenty first century expository writing There is also a focus on issues of great importance in twenty first century Canada such as climate change the Truth and Reconciliation Commission the Jian Ghomeshi trial Facebook police discrimination trans rights and postsecondary education in the humanities Works of different lengths and levels of difficulty are represented as are narrative descriptive and persuasive essays and new to this edition lyric essays For the new edition there are also considerably more short pieces than ever before a number of op ed pieces are included as are pieces from blogs and from online news sources The representation of academic writing from several disciplines has been increased and in some cases the anthology also includes news reports presenting the results of academic research to a general audience Also new to this edition are essays from a wide range of the most celebrated prose writers of the modern era from Susan Sontag Eula Biss and Michel Foucault to Anne Carson and Ta Nehisi Coates The anthology also offers increased diversity of representation including for example a larger proportion of First Nations writers and women writers than previous Canadian editions Unobtrusive explanatory notes appear at the bottom of the page and each selection is preceded by a headnote that provides students with information regarding the context in which the piece was written Each reading is also followed by questions for discussion A unique feature is the inclusion of a set of additional notes on the anthology's companion website notes designed to be of particular help to EAL students and or students who have little familiarity with Canadian culture The anthology is accompanied by two companion websites The student website features additional readings and interactive writing exercises as well as the additional notes The instructor website provides additional discussion questions and for a number of the anthology selections background information that may be of interest

Theatre and Empire Tristan Marshall, 2000-11-18 This book looks at the genesis of the British national identity in the reign of King James I and VI While devolution is currently decentralizing Britain this book examines how the idea of a united kingdom was created in the first place It does this by studying both the political language of the King's project to replace England Scotland and Wales with a single kingdom of Great Britain and the cultural representations of empire on the public and private stages

A Critical Examination of the Text of Shakespeare William Sidney Walker, 1860

British Romanticism and the Literature of Human Interest Mai-Lin Cheng, 2017-12-22 British Romanticism and the Literature of Human Interest explores the importance to Romantic literature of a concept of human interest It examines a range of literary experiments to engage readers through subjects and styles that were at once interesting and that in principle were in their interest These experiments put in question relationships between poetry and prose lyric and narrative and literature and popular media The book places literary works by a range of nineteenth century writers including William and Dorothy Wordsworth Thomas De Quincey Samuel Taylor Coleridge Mary and Percy Shelley Lord Byron and Matthew Arnold into dialogue with a variety of non literary and paraliterary forms ranging from newspapers to footnotes The book investigates the generic structures of Romantic literature and the negotiation of the status of literature in the period in relation to a new media landscape It explores the self theorization of Romantic literature and argues for its value to contemporary literary criticism

The SAGE Encyclopedia of Contemporary Early Childhood Education Donna Couchenour, J. Kent Chrisman, 2016-08-16 The general public often views early childhood education as either simply babysitting or as preparation for later learning Of course both viewpoints are simplistic Deep understanding of child development best educational practices based on development emergent curriculum cultural competence and applications of family systems are necessary for high quality early education

Highly effective early childhood education is rare in that it requires collaboration and transitions among a variety of systems for children from birth through eight years of age The SAGE Encyclopedia of Contemporary Early Childhood Education presents in three comprehensive volumes advanced research accurate practical applications of research historical foundations and key facts from the field of contemporary early childhood education Through approximately 425 entries this work includes all areas of child development physical cognitive language social emotional aesthetic as well as comprehensive review of best educational practices with young children effective preparation for early childhood professionals and policy making practices and addresses such questions as How is the field of early childhood education defined What are the roots of this field of study How is the history of early childhood education similar to yet different from the study of public education What are the major influences on understandings of best practices in early childhood education The Works of the Rev.
