Strange Bodies On A Stranger Shore:

Strange Bodies on a Stranger Shore Ann Copeland, 1994 Now in the linked stories in Strange Bodies on a Stranger Shore Copeland takes Claire into the complicated territory of middle age As her oldest son starts college Claire revisits her young self when she followed the call to religious life and later the mature knowledge that she must leave it The

Canadian Short Story John Metcalf, 2018-09-25 No other person has done more to celebrate and encourage the short story in Canada than John Metcalf For more than five decades he has worked tirelessly as editor anthologist writer critic and teacher to help shape our understanding of the form and what it can do The long time editor of the yearly Best Canadian Stories anthology as well as a fiction editor at some of the pre eminent literary presses in the country for more than forty years he has worked to support and champion several generations of our best writers Literature in Canada would be far less without his efforts Sifting through a lifetime of reading writing and thinking about the short story in this country and where it fits within the larger currents of world literature Metcalf's magisterial The Canadian Short Story offers the most authoritative book on the subject to date Most importantly it includes an expanded and reconsidered Century List Metcalf's critical guide to the best Canadian short story collections of the last 100 years But more than a critical book The Canadian Short Story is a love letter to the form a passionate defense of the best of our literature and a championing of those books and writers most often overlooked It is a guide not only to what to read but also one its author's most fervent desire which aims to make better readers of us all Keeping Time Ann Copeland, 2018-10-01 Ann Copeland has lived a mountain of yesterdays as a teacher fiction writer vowed religious wife and mother Throughout her rich and varied life there has been one constant Copeland's dedication to amateur music making in its many forms composing playing arranging partnering studying and improvising and in its many possible settings alone or with others in chapels living rooms and schools in locations foreign and domestic intimate and exposed in mental states anxious playful and grieving This collection of spirited and engaging essays tells the story of a lifelong student and devotee of music who looking back sees that years of making music offered release challenge solace collaboration glimpses of possibility a perishable entrance into felt mystery and the chance to create a gift with and for others With this book Copeland is sharing that gift through the story of her life making music On the Threshold Foxglove Collective, 1999-04-16 In 1993 a group of five Kingston women T Anne Archer Mary Cavanagh Elizabeth Greene Tara Kainer Janice Kirk began to compile an anthology about Canada at the point where one millennium becomes another As the newly formed Foxglove Collective they solicited manuscripts that reflected origins how the past shapes the present life at the end of this century and projections past the year 2000 They envisioned a book that wove together established emerging and previously unpublished voices from the Yukon to the Maritimes that book is On the Threshold Writing Toward the Year 2000 No millennium library would be complete without a copy of this timely and unique collection of literary musings by some of the nation's best A wonderful weave of poetry and prose this anthology reflects on moments both private and public personal and political which have formed the crucible for life in the twenty first century as we know it Tasked with commenting both on the century that lay behind and the century that beckons each author fashioned a piece exemplary of the crises successes and transformations inherent in an arc spanning more than a hundred years of nation building and social upheaval Whether unabashedly optimistic or unapologetically critical these writers make their peace with the past while invoking the future

The Fiddlehead Kent Thompson,1996 Voices and Echoes Jo-Anne Elder,Colin O'Connell,Canadian Corporation for Studies in Religion,1997-10-15 Every time we raise our voices we hear echoes Jo Anne Elder from the Foreword Through short stories journal entries and poetry the women in Voices and Echoes explore the changing landscape of their spiritual lives Experienced writers such as Lorna Crozier Di Brandt and Ann Copeland as well as strong new voices appear to speak to each other as they draw from a wealth of personal resources to find a way to face life s questions and discover meaning in their lives There is something familiar about these stories and poems they echo those we ve heard before and those we ve half forgotten Whether they search for a voice in a world where men monopolize or journey into painful memories to free the self from the past they do not despair they do not end Individual entries become the whole story an unending story of rebirth and reaffirmation The book begins with an illuminating foreword that introduces readers to the cultural and philosophical background of many of the stories and concludes with the reflections of scholars writers and artists that are intended to provoke further discussion
