Systemic Therapy A European Perspective:

Systemic Therapy Jürgen Hargens, 1988 Working With Children In Care: European Perspectives Petrie, Pat, Boddy, Janet, Cameron, Claire, 2006-11-01 Written against the background of the gross social disadvantage suffered by most looked after children in England this book compares European policy and approaches and compares these to the care system in England It asks how different policies and practice can affect young people in residential homes Making a Difference Rachel T. Hare-Mustin, Jeanne Marecek, 1990-01-01 Drawing on postmodernist scepticism about what we know and how we know it and on recent developments in the philosophy of science and feminist theory this book offers a new perspective on the meaning of gender one that is not determined by the traditional focus on male female differences Selforganization W. Krohn, Gunter Küppers, H. Nowotny, 2013-03-09 may be complex without being able to be replaced by something still more simple This became evident with the help of computer models of deterministic recursive systems in which simple mathematical equation systems provide an extremely complex behavior 2 Irregularity of nature is not treated as an anomaly but becomes the focus of research and thus is declared to be normal One looks for regularity within irregularity Non equilibrium processes are recognized as the source of order and the search for equilibrium is replaced by the search for the dynamics of processes 3 The classical system environment model according to which the adaptation of a system to its environment is controlled externally and according to which the adaptation of the system occurs in the course of a learning process is replaced by a model of systemic closure This closure is operational in so far as the effects produced by the system are the causes for the maintenance of systemic organization If there is sufficient complexity the systems perform internal self observation and exert self control Cognition as understood by Maturana as self perception and self limitation e g that of a cell vis a vis its environment 22 But any information a system provides on its environment is a system internal construct The reference to the other is merely a special case of self reference The social sciences frequently have suffered from the careless way in which scientific ideas and models have been transferred Gender, Power and Relationships Charlotte Burck, Bebe Speed, 2006-11-22 Gender Power and Relationships is a follow up volume to Gender and Power in Families Routledge 1989 which marked a milestone in the application of feminist thinking to therapeutic work with families bringing new ideas to students trainers and professionals Contributions from leading practitioners demonstrate how feminist ideas have been taken up by therapists in a variety of different settings The chapters explore and extend previous debates on sexual and physical abuse and ethnicity addressing the many contradictions and dilemmas inherent in this work for feminist systemic approaches They also consider changing family structures and the role of men within them gendered aspects of HIV prevention and work with women drug addicts and a variety of other approaches each set in the context of an overview of feminist theories of the family Comprehensive Handbook of Psychotherapy, Interpersonal/Humanistic/Existential Florence W. Kaslow, Robert F. Massey, Sharon Davis Massey, 2004-01-30 Now available in paperback In this volume theoretical frames modalities and applications are examined for Interpersonal Humanistic Existential psychotherapy Topics range from Culturally Sensitive Psychotherapy with Children to Spiritually Sensitive Therapy and Existential Treatment with HIV AIDS clients

Synergetics of Cognition Hermann Haken, Michael Stadler, 2012-12-06 This book presents the invited lectures given at the International Symposium on Synergetics of Cognition held at SchloB Elmau Bavaria Fed Rep of Germany June 4 8 1989 The understanding of the processes underlying cognition is certainly one of the most challenging and difficult problems confronting the human mind It is an enterprise that requires the cooperation of scientists from fields ranging from the neurosciences and psychology through biology to the computer sciences physics and mathematics The papers included in this volume reflect this joint effort As will be evident there is a remarkable convergence of ideas stemming from various fields for instance the earlier ideas on Gestalt theory celebrate a come back and remarkable analogies are being established with modern concepts of self organization as dealt with in the interdisciplinary field of synergetics The individual topics range from the microscopic level where new exciting results on specific oscillations of neural activity are reported to computer simulations of perception and finally psychological experiments at the macroscopic level We hope that this book will convey to its readers the same enthusiasm that was felt by the participants of the symposium We wish to thank Mrs U Funke for the excellent organisation of the symposium and the Volkswagen Stiftung Hannover for its financial support We are furthermore grateful to Christoph Stadler and Zora Franko for their help in compiling the name and subject indexes Finally we wish to thank Springer Verlag in particular Dr Angela Lahee for the excellent cooperation
