Systems Analysis And Simulation In Ecology Volume I:

Systems Analysis and Simulation in Ecology Bernard C. Patten, 1972 Systems Analysis and Simulation in Ecology Bernard C. Patten, 2013-09-11 Systems Analysis and Simulation in Ecology Volume I is a book of ecology in transition from a soft science synecology to a hard science systems ecology It is an enthusiastic and optimistic statement about the fundamental adaptability of the scientific mechanism to newly appreciated truths of existence It documents in ecological science a move away from the explanatory or cognitive criterion toward the predictive criterion a hard one with the potential of leading ultimately to optimal design and control of ecosystems The book is organized into three parts Part I is an overview of some of the methods and rationales for ecological systems modeling for the purposes of simulation and systems analysis It provides an elementary introduction to the use of analog and digital computers for simulation and a rationale for ecological model building Part II illustrates three different approaches to population modeling These include a mathematical analysis of microbial Chlorella Selenastrum dynamics in both continuous and batch cultures and a bioenergetics study of the terrestrial isopod Armadillidium utilizing concepts from control theory and the transfer function technique of classical dynamic analysis Part III brings together a group of papers describing various aspects and philosophies of ecological simulation These include common problems in ecosystem simulation and the question whether or not some of the newer methods of systems ecology might not be used in connection with some of the older data and observations of traditional synecology Systems Analysis and Simulation in Ecology Bernard C. Patten, 1971 Systems Analysis and Simulation in Ecology Bernard C. Patten, 1971 Systems Analysis and Simulation in Ecology Bernard C. Patten, 2013-09-11 Systems Analysis and Simulation in Ecology Volume IV continues the organization begun in Volume III to document a meeting Modeling and Analysis of Ecosystems held at the University of Georgia on 13 March 1973 Several chapters are considerably expanded over their original concept and several others are included which were not part of the symposium The book is organized into five parts Part I contains chapters on estuarine marine ecosystems Part II presents models of several terrestrial ecosystems Part III has chapters devoted to human aspects of ecology Part IV considers special problems of ecosystem modeling namely linear versus nonlinear models aggregation and validation Part V the most extensive section describes theory in ecosystem analysis The book's chapters demonstrate the current scope of systems ecology its past and present emphasis on parts and mechanisms in simulation modeling and its movement toward systems analysis and new more formal consideration of wholes in theory They make clear that although the systems approach is young in ecology it has substantially enriched the science both methodologically and conceptually Systems Analysis and Simulation in Ecology Bernard C. Patten, 2013-09-11 Systems Analysis and Simulation in Ecology Volume III and its companion Volume IV grew out of a symposium Modeling and Analysis of Ecosystems held at the University of Georgia 13 March 1973 The purposes of the meeting were to i review the status of ecosystem modeling simulation and analysis ii provide a forum for interaction between U S International Biological Program IBP Biome modeling programs and selected non IBP investigations involving systems approaches to ecosystem analysis and iii identify and promote dialogue on key issues in macrosystem modeling The volume is organized into two parts Part I treats ecosystem modeling in the U S IBP The introductory chapter is followed by five chapters describing grassland deciduous forest desert tundra and coniferous forest biome modeling The concluding chapter is one of critique and evaluation Part II is devoted mainly to freshwater ecosystems grading into the estuarine system in the last chapter The five chapters of this section encompass a simple thermal ecosystem small woodland streams a reservoir one of the Great Lakes a lake reclaimed from eutrophication and a major estuary under stress of human impact
