Suler, 1993-08-10 This book explores the convergence of psychoanalysis and Asian thought It explores key theoretical issues What role does paradox play in psychological transformations How can the oriental emphasis on attaining no self be reconciled with the western emphasis on achieving an integrated self The book also inquires into pragmatic questions concerning the nature of psychological change and the practice of psychotherapy The Taoist I Ching is explored as a framework for understanding the therapeutic process Principles from martial arts philosophy and strategy are applied to clinical work Combining theoretical analyses case studies empirical data literary references and anecdotes this book is intended for researchers as well as clinicians and beginning students as well as scholars The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 26/27 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-06-17 Volume 26 27 begins with publication of The Annual s first prize essay Samuel Abrams s How Child and Adult Analysis Inform and Misinform One Another This is followed by a series of papers originally prepared for a symposium honoring John E Gedo These papers span the clinical topics of obsessiveness sublimation dreams and self analysis and analyzability and also delve into applied psychoanalysis and art history with two studies of Vincent van Gogh and another of Alberto Giacometti These papers not only convey the impressive range of Gedo's own interests but embody the high scholarly and clinical standards that Gedo has long held both for himself and for the field in general. Section III offers original contributions to clinical analysis in the form of the consideration of the role of affective engagement in the analyst's usability, thoughtful assessment of the perils of parental projection in child analytic work, and comparison of a failed and successful supervision in the same psychoanalytic case. Section IV examines psychoanalysis and the arts with two further studies of van Gogh: an analytic reading of Nabokov's Lolita and more general examinations of psychoanalysis in relation to dramatic art and film analysis. The volume closes with two provocative scholarly essays bearing on the roots of psychoanalysis: the correspondence between Mabel Dodge and her analysts, Smith Ely Jelliffe and A. A. Brill, as a vehicle for reviewing the issue of extra- and postanalytic contact between analyst and patient; and an examination of Freud, Lacan, and the uneasy relationships among literature, psychoanalysis, and the female subject. Volume 26-27 offers readers a rich harvest of contemporary insights about psychoanalysis, including its history and evolution, its continuing clinical refinement, and its scholarly applications outside the consulting room.

Case Studies in Child and Adolescent Psychoanalysis Christel Airas, 2024-06-06 Case Studies in Child and Adolescent Psychoanalysis presents a wide range of full case presentations of children and adolescents undergoing psychoanalytic treatment, covering key issues such as trauma, aggression, depression, and sexual development. The fascinating and touching cases throw the door open to the consulting room in a unique and unhindered fashion. The reader is afforded a fly-on-the-wall view of the intensive games, craft activities, and conversations that take place between analyst and patient and is able to witness how joy, anger, anxiety, and sorrow can be expressed in a safe environment. The case studies paint a vivid picture of how the children and their analysts are able to approach, investigate, and give form to the strongest and most painful of emotions. Each contributing analyst shows how the child they are treating gradually gains understanding of who they really are or who they are becoming. The reader will gain valuable knowledge and insight through these observations and be given vital tools to take into their own practice. Including a foreword from Antonino Ferro, this book is a dynamic and much-needed resource for all analysts in practice and training, working with child and adolescent patients as well as policy makers looking at the mental wellbeing of young people and those interested in the curative factors of psychoanalytic treatment.

Bestiarium Judaicum Jay Geller, 2017-11-14 Given the vast inventory of verbal and visual images of nonhuman animals—pigs, dogs, vermin, rodents, apes—disseminated for millennia to debase, dehumanize, and justify the persecution of Jews, Bestiarium Judaicum asks: What is at play when Jewish-identified writers tell animal stories? Focusing on the nonhuman animal constructions of primarily Germanophone authors, including Sigmund Freud, Heinrich Heine, Franz Kafka, and Gertrud Kolmar, Jay Geller expands his earlier examinations, On Freud's Jewish Body, Mitigating Circumcisions, and The Other Jewish Question: Identifying the Jew and Making Sense of Modernity, of how such writers drew upon representations of Jewish corporeality in order to work through their particular situations in Gentile modernity. From Heine's ironic lizards to Kafka's Red Peter and Siodmak's Wolf Man Bestiarium Judaicum brings together Jewish cultural studies and critical animal studies to ferret out these writers' engagement with the bestial answers upon which the Jewish and animal questions converged and by which varieties of the species Jew were identified International Directory of Little Magazines & Small Presses Lenard V. Fulton, 1987

Neoconservatism Irving Kristol, 1995-09-20 Here are the best of Kristol's now famous essays on society religion morals culture literature education and on the values issues which have come to define the neoconservative critique of contemporary life These essays display the provocative ideas and style that have caused Irving Kristol to be justly regarded as the godfather of the conservative movement Transference Joseph Schachter, 2013-06-17

The theory of transference and the centrality of transference interpretation have been hallmarks of psychoanalysis since its inception But the time has come to subject traditional theory and practice to careful critical scrutiny in the light of contemporary science So holds Joseph Schachter whose Transference Shibboleth or Albatross undertakes this timely and thought provoking task After identifying the weaknesses and inconsistencies in Freud's original premises about transference Schachter demonstrates how contemporary developmental research across a variety of domains effectively overturns any theory that posits a linear deterministic relationship between early childhood and adult psychic functioning including the adult patient's treatment behavior toward the analyst No less trenchantly he shows how contemporary chaos theory complements developmental research by making the very endeavor of historical reconstruction of backward prediction suspect on logical grounds Nor Schachter continues does the clinical evidence normally adduced in support of transference theory provide the firm bedrock of data that most analysts suppose to exist What one finds he holds are endlessly reiterated claims of identifying determining historical antecedents sustained only by descriptions of current behaviors through a gloss of theory Less a polemic than a call to order Transference Shibboleth or Albatross is cogently argued and straightforwardly written It is destined to be a thorn in the side of analysts who resist change and a spur to those who seek to bring analytic theory into closer alignment with contemporary science in the interest of improving treatment efficacy
