Rosaura Douglas's father shot himself after her mother left him or at least that's the story everyone is telling. Now her mother has remarried and Rosie is trapped in The Cake House a garish pink edifice in the hills of Los Angeles that's a far cry from the cramped apartment where she grew up. It's also the house where her father died a fact that everyone else who lives there including her mother Dahlia and her mysteriously wealthy stepfather Claude want to forget. Soon however her father's ghost appears sometimes in a dark window sometimes in the house's lush garden but always with warnings that Claude is not to be trusted. And as the ghost becomes increasingly violent and the secrets of her family's past come to light Rosie must finally face the truth behind the losses and lies that have torn her life apart. Department of the Interior and Related

She refuses to accept the segregation that tries to confine her a system her mother accepts as the southern way of life. A brave memoir that testifies to the author's fiery spirit and sense of self that sustained her through family social and cultural upheavals. Manhattan Hélène Cixous, 2009-08-25 Manhattan is the tale of a young French scholar who travels to the United States in 1965 on a Fulbright Fellowship to consult the manuscripts of beloved authors. In Yale University's Beinecke Library tantalized by the conversational and epistolary brilliance of a fellow researcher she is lured into a picaresque and tragic adventure. Meanwhile back in France her children and no nonsense mother await her return. A young European intellectual's first contact with America and the city of New York are the background of this story. The experience of Manhattan haunts this labyrinth of a book as over a period of thirty five years its narrator visits and revisits Central Park and a half buried squirrel the Statue of Liberty and a never again to be found hotel in the vicinity of Morningside Heights a journey into memory in which everything is never the same. Traveling from library to library France to the United States Shakespeare to Kafka to Joyce Manhattan deploys with gusto all the techniques for which Cixous's fiction and essays are known rapid juxtapositions of time and place narrative and description analysis and philosophical reflection. It investigates subjects Cixous has spent her life probing reading writing and the omnipotence other seductions of literature a family's flight from Nazi Germany and postcolonial Algeria childhood motherhood and not least the strange experience of falling in love with as Jacques Derrida writes a counterfeit genius. □□□□□□□□□□ □□□□, 2004
