On Jewish Learning Franz Rosenzweig, 2002 Franz Rosenzweig is one of the greatest contributors to Jewish philosophy in the twentieth century and is with Martin Buber and Abraham Heschel one of the Jewish thinkers most widely read by Christians. On Jewish Learning collects essays, speeches, and letters that express Rosenzweig's desire to reconnect the profound truths of Judaism with the lives of ordinary people. An assimilated Jew and scholar of German philosophy, Rosenzweig was on the point of conversion to Christianity when the experience of a Yom Kippur service in 1913 brought him back to Judaism and he began to study with philosopher Hermann Cohen. Seeking how to be an observant Jew in the modern world, Rosenzweig refused to characterize the traditions of Jewish law as mere rituals, customs, and folkways. His aim for himself and for others was to find Judaism by living it and to live it by knowing it more deeply. Reading Paul within Judaism Mark D. Nanos, 2017-10-17 The dominant portrayals of the apostle Paul are of a figure who no longer valued Jewish identity and behavior, opposing them for both Jew and non-Jew in his assemblies. This prevailing version of Paul depends heavily upon certain interpretations of key flashpoint passages. In this book and the subsequent volumes in this series, Mark Nanos undertakes to test a Paul within Judaism: re-reading of the apostle, especially of these flashpoint texts. Nanos demonstrates how traditional conclusions about Paul and the meaning of his letters are dramatically altered by testing the hypothesis that the historical Paul practiced a Jewish Torah-observant way of life and that he expected those whom he addressed to know that he did so. Nanos also tests the hypothesis that the non-Jews addressed were expected to know that his guidance was based on promoting a Jewish way of life for themselves at the same time insisting that they remain non-Jews and thus not technically under Torah on the same terms as himself and the other Jews in this new Jewish movement. In conversation with the prevailing views, Nanos argues that the Paul within Judaism perspective offers not only more historically probable interpretations of Paul's texts but also more promise for better relations between Christians and Jews because these texts have informed Christian concepts of ways of talking about and behavior toward Jews based on the premise that Paul considered Jews and Judaism the mirror opposites of what Christians

should be and become
