Rosenblith, Corrie Stone-Johnson, Elisabeth Etopio, David Gorlewski, Tiffany Karalis Noel, Bobbie Finocchio, Amanda Seccia, Ling Zhai, Erin Kearney, Xiufeng Liu, Nooshin Shafaei, Tanika Shedrick, 2021-08-19 Why are preservice teachers often told by veteran teachers to forget what you learned in teacher preparation programs Why is there a gap between pedagogical practices employed at schools and those taught at colleges and universities And why after evidence from countless studies are there still so few teachers of color working in our rapidly diversifying schools These questions are addressed in this book which describes a reconceptualized teacher preparation program based on a teacher residency model This model is grounded in three core beliefs first that teacher quality is a shared responsibility between universities and school districts second that all students have a right to high quality teachers who are as racially ethnically and linguistically diverse as the students they teach and third that for education to be transformative future educators must have the right balance of theoretical knowledge and practical experiences grounded in specific contexts Through a combination of rich description and qualitative and quantitative program data the authors make the case that university programs focused on the communities they serve can ensure more effective learner ready teachers who remain in the profession longer By providing a detailed blueprint for program development the contents of this book will be of value and interest to educational leaders policy makers and researchers

Exceptional Child Education Resources, 1999 Education and Training in Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities, 2002-03 Constructivism and Students with Special Needs Harris, Graham, 1996-04 Two important issues are at the heart of intense debate and a number of reforms concerning today's schools One of these is pedagogy the art of science and teaching A second issue regards the goals of education Although there is widespread agreement that education involves far more than rote learning debate continues regarding what the goals of education should be and how they should be pursued This special issue focuses on the implications of constructivism for students with special needs including those with learning disabilities LD particularly within the current movement toward inclusion Contributing authors were asked to consider applied classroom concerns A central issue identified throughout was the tension between maintaining authentic meaningful context for learning emphasized in constructivist principles and providing the level of explicit instruction needed for all students to gain important skills and strategies Contributors provide both exemplars of integrative instruction and careful consideration of multiple issues faced by educators and students alike as they move toward implementation of constructivist principles in diverse classrooms
