The Coming Of Amos:

The Composition and Redaction of the Book of Amos Tchavdar S. Hadjiev, 2009-03-26 This Oxford dissertation offers a fresh redactional analysis of the Book of Amos. It starts with a critical survey of existing approaches and an examination of the methodological issues involved and proceeds with a detailed exegetical analysis of the prophetic text which forms the basis for the redactional conclusions. It steers a middle course between extreme conservative treatments which trace all the material back to the prophet Amos and more radical sceptical approaches which attribute most of the prophetic oracles to the work of later redactors. The composition of the book began with two collections: the Polemical scroll written not long after the end of Amos' ministry and the Repentance scroll composed shortly before 722 BC. The Repentance scroll was reworked in Judah towards the end of the 8th century BC and the two scrolls were combined to form a single work sometime during the 7th century BC. The Book underwent only one redaction during the exilic period which sought to actualise its message in a new historical context. The study pays special attention to the literary structure, aim and probable historical circumstances of the various collections which gradually evolved into the present Book of Amos and seeks to show how the prophetic message lived on and spoke to the various communities which preserved and transmitted it. The Congregationalist and Advance, 1918

Interpreting the Prophetic Word Willem A. VanGemenen, 2010-06-01 The diversity of prophetic voices in the Bible provides a message that is rich and variegated. But the variety of the testimony can be lost by limiting one's interpretations or application of the prophetic word. Interpreting the Prophetic Word helps readers understand the harmony of the voices that reveal God's purposes in redemptive history. Dr Willem VanGemenen explains clearly and fully the background of the prophetic tradition. He then interprets the message of the major and minor prophets using historical context and literary form and structure as tools in his analysis. He concludes with an explanation of the relevance of the prophetic word today. Dr VanGemenen's extensive research and scholarship is presented in a readable way to unlock the door of prophecy for readers. He helps them to interpret prophecy and invites them to listen to the prophets and to live the prophetic word.

Hendricks, 2008-10 All the Bible is based on just three verses of scripture found in Genesis 12 1 3 When one understands the role and content of these verses and follows how they develop in the scriptures a surprising simplicity is discovered in God s Holy Word Genesis 12 1 3 is the call of Abraham and God s announcement of Christ and world redemption The plan of redemption involves three primary promises 1 a nation 2 a land and 3 a coming Blessing From the land and the nation will come the Blessing who is Jesus These three promises become a simple outline that compresses the Bible into a comprehensible format In the New Testament Paul holds up Abraham as a model for how all people come to salvation He combines the call and promises made to Abraham along with Abraham s belief in that call recorded in Genesis 15 6 to make a compelling case that justification is based on faith J L Hendricks has been a pastor for forty five years He and his wife Barbara have four married children and nine grandchildren who are all actively involved in the Lord s work Currently pastor Hendricks is director of Israel s Fullness a ministry seeking to take the gospel to both Jews and Gentiles In 1990 he co founded a national Messianic fellowship His efforts in taking the gospel to Jewish people became the foundation for the writing of this book
