Nelson,1909 Water Resources Development by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in Idaho ,1993 North American Exploration John Logan Allen,1997-01-01 The third volume of North American Exploration covering 1784 to 1914 charts a dramatic shift in the purpose priorities and results of the exploration of North America As the nineteenth century opened exploration was still fostered by the growth of empire but by the 1830s commercial interests came to drive most exploratory ventures particularly through the fur trade By midcentury however as imperial rivalries lessened and the fur trade declined exploration was driven by the growing scientific spirit of the age although the science was often conducted in the service of a search for railroad routes or natural resources linked to military concerns A clear transition took place as the spirit of the Enlightenment gave way to economic imperatives and to the science of the post Darwinian age and exploration passed beyond discovery and geographical definition This volume explores the resultant beginnings of an understanding of the continent and its native peoples Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress,2010 Hells Canyon Hydroelectric Project ,2007 The Pleistocene of the Western Region of North America and Its Vertebrated Animals Oliver Perry Hay,1927 Status and Trends of the Nation's Biological Resources ,1998 Return to the River Richard N. Williams,2005-11-21 Return to the River will describe a new ecosystem based approach to the restoration of salmon and steelhead populations in the Columbia River once one of the most productive river basins for anadromous salmonids on the west coast of North America The approach of this work has broad applicability to all recovery efforts
