suggests that charity law lies at the heart of the relationship between government and the non profit sector that there is an unmistakeable political agenda driving charity law reform and that the differential in legislative outcomes reflects important differences in the policies pursued by the governments concerned Looking at fundamentally different approaches of government towards the sector in the UK Ireland the US New Zealand Canada Singapore and Australia O Halloran argues the results will have implications for the present workings of parliamentary democracy The Politics of Charity will be a valuable resource for academics regulators and legal practitioners as well as advanced and postgraduate students in law politics and public policy
