Philosophising Experiences and Vision of the Female Body, Mind, and Soul: Historical Context and Contemporary Theory

African Womanhood and the Feminist Agenda

Musingafi, Maxwell Constantine Chando, Hungwe, Chipso, 2024-01-16 Within academic circles there is a longstanding issue concerning the portrayal and understanding of African womanhood Frequently these narratives are crafted by outsiders predominantly Western scholars often distorting the lived experiences and unique perspectives of African women This has led to a skewed and sometimes negative perception of African women reinforcing stereotypes and sidelining their voices in critical discussions Moreover this misrepresentation has real world consequences as it impacts social justice initiatives and development projects that rely on misguided narratives rather than the authentic voices of African women African Womanhood and the Feminist Agenda emerges as an essential solution to the misrepresentation of African women This comprehensive and meticulously researched book offers an alternative narrative one that is rooted in African perspectives political sciences including discussing the significance of political economy and sociology which so far have made little progress in health promotion development The book argues that focusing on how public policies work makes it possible to move beyond the more behavioural health education approach and make the transition from political statements to political strategies The authors draw from a wide array of theories on the policy process in the fields of political science and political sociology to illuminate health promotion strategies and objectives For example they discuss how Kingdon s Multiple Streams Model Sabatier s Advocacy Coalition Framework and policy network theories can contribute to greater health equity healthy public policies and community development Through practical and critical tools research and experience based discussion Health Promotion and the Policy Process discusses how theories can be used to influence evaluate orient or implement health promotion interventions and policies This book will be essential reading for health promoters who want to make a difference by influencing social determinants of health at the policy level including students public health professionals researchers practitioners decision makers and those concerned with applied policy research Placement Learning in Community Nursing Jane Harris, Sheila Nimmo, 2013-03-21 Worried about your placement Will you fit in Will you have the right skills What do you need to learn for practice assessments This book will help you with all these concerns It will tell you what to expect from the placement what you can learn how to link theory and practice and how to make the most of your learning opportunities A logical step by step approach to preparing for a medical placement Helps make the most of learning opportunities Narratives from other students describe what the placement will really be like Honest discussion of the challenges of a placement in the community to help avoid problems Advice on possible approaches to situations that may arise on a community placement Series features A unique guide to getting the most from clinical placements What to expect before a placement What you can expect to learn on placement How to consolidate your experience and learning Clear links and examples with NMC proficiencies Guidance on what to use as evidence for portfolios Short case studies to link theory with practice Key points reminder boxes Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 Structural Social Work Robert P. Mullaly, 1997 The need for an alternative to conventional social work is more obvious today than ever before Given its acceptance of our present social order and its emphasis on reform of the individual and limited social reform conventional social work appears powerless to deal with the increasing social problems that have already overloaded a diminishing welfare state By continuing to recycle mainstream theories of social work practice that do nothing to change the present order conventional social work actually contributes to the ideological hegemony of patriarchy classism racism and other oppressive thought structures The New Structural Social Work reveals the shortcoming of welfare capitalism as a social system and shows how conventional social work has failed to respond to systemic social problems Mullaly presents a coherent and consistent theory of progressive social work with oppression as its central focus and examines elements of its political practice It is shown how this practice is carried out within the social agency outside the agency and within the personal lives of structural social workers This third edition has been extensively revised and updated and includes DT an expanded discussion of the political paradigms that influence social work in CanadaDT a new chapter on feminist antiracist and postmodernist critiques of the neo conservative liberal social democratic and Marxist paradigms that dominated the nineteenth and twentieth centuriesDT a new chapter that assesses the influence of the Third Way and the role that social work plays in Third Way jurisdictions such as the UK DT improved pedagogical aids to make this book more accessible to the mid level university market Social Welfare Alive!
