Greene, Colleen Galambos, Harriet L. Cohen, Nancy Greene, 2016-11-30 Social Work with the Aged and Their Families presents the functional age model FAM of intergenerational treatment an integrative theoretical framework for social workers practicing with older adults and their families In keeping with the Council on Social Work Education s curriculum mandate of 2015 social workers are now encouraged to use human behavior theories in working with their geriatric clients This fourth edition incorporates much needed additional techniques to address the mental health assessments of the elderly FAM addresses the assessment of older adults biological psychological socio cultural and spiritual age It also incorporates an evaluation of the family system family roles and family development in this assessment Interventions at the individual family group and community levels are discussed This volume augmented with recent concepts related to successful aging spirituality and resiliency presents the major converging conceptual trends that constitute a model for twenty first century social work practice in the field of aging It is an indispensable text for those training in social work practice with the elderly or those currently in practice Social Work with the Aged and Their Families Roberta R. Greene, 2017-07-12 In recent years theoreticians researchers and practitioners have become increasingly interested in older adults and the aging process This volume draws on related disciplines to better understand the biological psychological and social aspects of aging Social Work with the Aged and Their Families covers areas of central interest to those coping with the needs of an aging population Among the topics addressed are assessment of the aging taking into account biological age psychological age and socio cultural and spiritual age Greene also considers the importance of the family system family roles and development functional age individual and family intervention and group and community interventions The scientific and systematic study of aging is known as gerontology Geriatric social workers are those who have applied established social work theories in an attempt to find suitable techniques for working with their elderly clients The need for specialized services has given birth to various services and programs For example meals on wheels and home health care services have been designed to meet specific physical needs of older adults However mental health services have lagged far behind as practitioners struggled to adapt such specialties as family therapy to families of later years A major contribution of this book now in its third edition is the functional age model of intergenerational treatment FAM which is an outgrowth of that demand The functional age model of intergenerational treatment is an integrative theoretical framework for social workers interested in clinical social work practice with older adults and their families Since its initial construction in 1986 the model has been augmented by more recent concepts related to successful aging spirituality and resiliency These additions together with the original assessment and intervention strategies present the major converging conceptual trends that constitute a model for twenty first century social work practice in the field of aging Social Work with the Aged and Their Families Roberta Rubin Greene,2008

Gerontological Social Work Practice in the Community George S. Getzel,M. Joanna Mellor,1985 Here is an extremely useful book one which will help social workers understand the needs of special populations of older people the nature of practices in the community and some of the policy and practice issues which they confront in their work Social Work, a Family Builder Harriet Townsend,1926 Working with Families Allie C.
