Behavior and the Natural Environment Irwin Altman, Joachim F. Wohlwill, 2012-12-06
The theme of the present volume concerns people's response to the natural environment considered at scales varying from that of a house hold plant to that of vast wilderness areas Our decision to focus on this particular segment of the physical environment was prompted in part by the intrinsic interest in this subject on the part of a diverse group of social scientists and professionals and of laypersons for that matter and in part by the relative neglect of this topic in standard treatments of the environment behavior field. It also serves to bring out once again the interdisciplinary nature of that field and we are pleased to have been able to include representatives from geography, sociology, social ecology and natural recreation among our contributors. We believe that this volume will serve a useful purpose in helping to integrate the findings and concepts in this presently somewhat fragmented field scattered as they are over a very diverse array of publications representing a similarly varied group of specialties. It is hoped that the result will be to stimulate future development of this area and to add a measure of increased coherence to it. Volume 7 of our series will be devoted to the theme of elderly people and the environment with M. Powell Lawton joining us as guest co-editor. The titles of the papers comprising Volume 7 are shown on page v.

This Handbook explores core topics in the field including contestation over climate change, wind power, mining, forestry, food sovereignty, oil and gas pipelines and population issues.

EPA-600/5, 1974-02 Research in Forest Economics and Forest Policy Marion Clawson, 2021-10-29

Originally published in the same year, all papers in this collection were written specifically for this symposium to highlight the most important forestry issues including pricing, policy, supply and demand and the role of the public and private forestry sector. This title will be of interest to Environmental Students and professionals.
