

Four Theories of the Press/ Normative Theories

The Authoritarian theory

- Press is used by the rulers to inform the people only that which the rulers wished the people should know and support.
- The rulers possessed all rights to make / change policy; provide a license or concede it.
- The Press can be censored
- Publishing is "a sort of agreement between the rulers and the publishers.

The Libertarian Theory

- The right and duty of the press to serve as an extra-legal check on government.
- The press was to keep officers of the state from abusing or exceeding their authority.
- It was to be the watchdog to spot and expose any arbitrary or authoritarian practice. And to fulfil this function adequately, the press had to be completely free from control or domination

The Soviet Communist theory

- Media are instruments to controlled by the state (on behalf of the people).
- Private ownership of media is not acceptable.
- Media should reflect the Soviet official ideology.
- Media are instruments of social change and social control.
- Media should be instruments of serious purpose.

The Social Responsibility theory

- Media should be objective, truthful, comprehensive, and accurate.
- Media should separate News from Opinion and verify news sources.
- Media should represent viewpoints of minorities and all other constituent groups of society.
- Radio & television are to enlighten the public; promote public morals and keep advertising only in good proportion thereby maintaining high standards.

Social Theories Of The Press:

Four Theories of the Press Fred Siebert, Theodore Peterson, Wilbur Schramm, 1963-10-01 Presented here are four major theories behind the functioning of the world's presses 1 the Authoritarian theory which developed in the late Renaissance and was based on the idea that truth is the product of a few wise men 2 the Libertarian theory which arose from the works of men like Milton Locke Mill and Jefferson and avowed that the search for truth is one of man's natural rights 3 the Social Responsibility theory of the modern day equal radio and television time for political candidates the obligations of the newspaper in a one paper town etc 4 the Soviet Communist theory an expanded and more positive version of the old Authoritarian theory Social Theories of the Press Hanno Hardt, 2001-10-11 Foreword James W Carey Preface 1 Mass Communication Research and Society An Introduction 1 2 Communication and Change Karl Marx on Press Freedom 19 3 The Nerves of Society Albert Schaffle on Symbolic Communication 43 4 The News of Society Karl Knies on Communication and Transportation 67 5 The Linkages of Society Karl Bucher on Commerce and the Press 85 6 The Mirrors of Society Ferdinand Tonnies on the Press and Public Opinion 107 7 The Conscience of Society Max Weber on Journalism and Responsibility 127 8 The American Science of Society Albion Small Edward Ross and William Sumner on Communication and the Press 143 9 Communication and Social Thought Decentering the Discourse of Mass Communication Research 169 Notes and References 185 Index 203 About the Author 211 Social Theories of the Press Hanno Hardt, 1979-06 A book which concentrates on the reflections of early American sociologists and their German colleagues or teachers who have contributed to the development of communication and mass communication in the US and elsewhere It suggests that the intellectual history of the field may yield theoretical insights on the relationship between communication and advancement of society which may in turn have consequences for the development of communication and mass communication research today This is one of the more important bits of historical digging in some time it helps to create a larger theoretical basis for historical studies in communication development Mass Media Booknotes September 1979 Social Theories of the Press Hanno Hardt, 2001-10-11 Hanno Hardt has thoroughly revised and expanded his pre history of communication research in the United States With the notable addition of Karl Marx's journalism focused writings and a new foreword by James W Carey this edition covers intellectual contributions from several German theorists in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries as well as first generation U S sociologists who were influenced by this scholarship A new concluding chapter explores the continuing influence of German social thought and the contemporary shift of paradigms in U S communication research including approaches such as critical Marxist and cultural studies Four Theories of the Press Fredrick Seaton Siebert, Theodore Peterson, Wilbur Schramm, 1976 Four Theories of the Press: the Authoritarian, Libertarian, Social Responsibility, and Soviet Commun Fred Seaton Siebert, 1956 Four Theories of the Press Fred Seaton Siebert, Theodore Peterson, Wilbur Schramm, 1984 Last Rights John C. Braman Clifford Christians Thomas G Guback Steven J Helle Louis W Liebovich John C Nerone and Kim B Rotzoll In Last Rights eight communications scholars at the University of Illinois critique and expand on an influential classic that has been used as text or whipping boy in communications and journalism classes since the mid 1950s The authors argue that Four Theories of the Press now in its fourteenth printing spoke to and for a world beset by a cold war that no longer exists They also praise it for its value both as a curricular vehicle providing an alternative way of looking at the press and society and as a tool to help scholars and laypeople grapple with contradictions in classical liberalism As much about the present and future as it is about the past Last Rights also raises questions about the electronic superhighway underscoring major changes that have taken place in communications systems and society since publication of the best selling Four Theories

Mediated Ideologies: Nordic Views on the History of the Press and Media Cultures Jukka Kortti, Heidi Kurvinen, 2024-07-16 Ideologies have not been a focus of interest in the field of humanities and social sciences in recent decades but rethinking the power of ideologies in the media sphere has recently returned to the scholarly discussion The compilation book Mediated Ideologies Nordic Views on the History of the Press and Media Cultures participates in this by providing selected yet justified approaches to media history from the point of view of ideological uses of media in the Nordic region In this book the role of media comprising both popular media and news journalism as a forum for ideologies and their circulation will be analyzed by focusing on the Nordic region The perceived similarities in the media systems of the Nordic countries constitute a perfect extent for a regional media history against not only a European but also a global backdrop This does not mean that there have not been many national differences The book does not provide a chronological narrative of Nordic media history Still the ideology of media is approached not only from the standpoints of different media forms film television newspapers magazines and periodicals but also from several historical periods from the mid 19th century to the late 20th century The chapters show the multidimensional role that the media has in transmitting ideologies to their audiences and the public sphere They also demonstrate that analyzing the role of different ideologies such as modernization nationalism solidarity feminism and peace movement in media history provides wider perspectives in understanding past and present media landscapes and people's mediated experiences that are fostered by them Mediated Ideologies Nordic Views on the History of the Press and Media Cultures can be used both as a reference book and as a classroom adaption in the field of media communication and history studies

Journalism Ethics Goes to the Movies Howard Good, 2008 Journalism Ethics Goes to the Movies poses urgent questions about journalism ethics and offers candid answers As the title suggests the authors some of the nation's leading journalism scholars investigate popular movies to illustrate the kind of ethical dilemmas journalists

The Press and the Decline of Democracy Robert G. Picard, 1985-12-06 The author discusses the role of economic concentration in limiting public access to information and reducing opportunities for public discourse Picard examines the government policies that have contributed to the erosion of democratic participation and have permitted the growth of large commercial press entities unobstructed by anti trust provisions He relates recent public policy responses to this problem to democratic socialist ideology and develops a social democratic theory of the press which draws upon ideas and policies found throughout the Western world Picard provides a democratic framework for understanding the changing nature of media economics and state press relations and offers proposals for achieving both a democratically functioning press and broader popular participation

McQuail, 2002-04-22 This text is a companion to McQuail's Mass Communication Theory but can be used independently. It is a resource of statements drawn from communication studies, media sociology, and cultural studies. Media Ethics in the South African Context Lucas M. Oosthuizen, 2002 This text explores the dynamic and potentially explosive field of media ethics from a South African perspective. Grounded in ethical theory, the public philosophies of communication, and media performance norms, this text provides guidelines for individual ethical decision making to media practitioners and media groups. The author's analysis of the South African normative context under the previous and present political dispensations will be of interest to media policy formulators and students alike. Current contentious issues such as racism in the media, the plans for media development in this country, the reporting of violence and crime, the right to privacy, and the media and advertising all come under intense scrutiny. Addenda include rules of procedure and the code of conduct of the Press Ombudsman of South Africa, the constitution code and procedures of the Broadcasting Complaints Commission of South Africa, and the code of conduct of the Public Relations Institute of Southern Africa. The Press and Popular Culture

Martin Conboy, 2001-11-07 In this book, Martin Conboy explores the complex and dynamic relationship between the popular press and popular culture. Rejecting approaches to popular culture which restrict themselves to the contemporary, Conboy argues for the importance of an historical perspective in understanding the contemporary relationship between the popular and the press. The Press and Popular Culture offers a much needed critical history of the popular press from the Early Modern Period to the present day. A comparative analysis of the emergence of the popular press in the United States and Britain. An approach to the role played by the popular press in the formation of popular culture which emphasizes the use of language. Moving beyond historical analysis to the present day, the book concludes with an analysis of the popular press in a globalized media environment. Drawing on contemporary examples and discussion from Britain, Europe, and the United States, enables Conboy to situate the debate outside of the narrow confines of national border as part of a debate about how the popular is being reconfigured in the popular press as part of a global strategy while retaining its essential appeal to local readerships and meeting challenges by recombining aspects of its traditional rhetorical appeal. A Letter to the Press -

Partisan Media, Propaganda, and Post-Truth Politics in the American Century Stephen Bates, 2020-10-27 The story behind the 1940s Commission on Freedom of the Press groundbreaking then timelier than ever now. Bates skillfully blends biography and intellectual history to provide a sense of how the clash of ideas and the clash of personalities intersected. Scott Stossel, American Scholar. A well-constructed, timely study clearly relevant to current debates. Kirkus starred review. In 1943, Time Inc. editor in chief Henry R. Luce sponsored the greatest collaboration of intellectuals in the twentieth century. He and University of Chicago president Robert Maynard Hutchins summoned the theologian Reinhold Niebuhr, the Pulitzer-winning poet Archibald MacLeish and ten other preeminent thinkers to join the Commission on Freedom of the Press They spent three years wrestling with subjects that are as pertinent as ever partisan media and distorted news activists who silence rather than rebut their opponents conspiracy theories spread by shadowy groups and the survivability of American democracy in a post truth age The report that emerged A Free and Responsible Press is a classic but many of the commission's sharpest insights never made it into print Journalist and First Amendment scholar Stephen Bates reveals how these towering intellects debated some of the most vital questions of their time and reached conclusions urgently relevant today
