January December Theories of Social Work with Groups Robert W. Roberts, Helen Northen, 1976 Available for the first time in English this is the definitive account of the practice of sexual slavery the Japanese military perpetrated during World War II by the researcher principally responsible for exposing the Japanese government's responsibility for these atrocities
The large scale imprisonment and rape of thousands of women who were euphemistically called comfort women by the Japanese military first seized public attention in 1991 when three Korean women filed suit in a Toyko District Court stating that they had been forced into sexual servitude and demanding compensation Since then the comfort stations and their significance have been the subject of ongoing debate and intense activism in Japan much if it inspired by Yoshimi's investigations How large a role did the military and by extension the government play in setting up and administering these camps What type of compensation if any are the victimized women due These issues figure prominently in the current

Japanese focus on public memory and arguments about the teaching and writing of history and are central to efforts to transform Japanese ways of remembering the war Yoshimi Yoshiaki provides a wealth of documentation and testimony to prove the existence of some 2 000 centers where as many as 200 000 Korean Filipina Taiwanese Indonesian Burmese Dutch Australian and some Japanese women were restrained for months and forced to engage in sexual activity with Japanese military personnel Many of the women were teenagers some as young as fourteen To date the Japanese government has neither admitted responsibility for creating the comfort station system nor given compensation directly to former comfort women This English edition updates the Japanese edition originally published in 1995 and includes introductions by both the author and the translator placing the story in context for American readers General Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum. Department of Printed Books,1969 Singing an Indian Song Dorothy R. Parker,1994-11-01 One of the foremost Native American intellectuals of his generation 1904-77 D Arcy McNickle is best known today for the American Indian history center that carries his name at the Newberry Library in Chicago and for his novels The Surrounded Runner in the Sun and Wind from an Enemy Sky A historian and novelist he was also an anthropologist Bureau of Indian Affairs official during the heady days of the Indian New Deal teacher and founding member of the National Congress of American Indians The child of a Métis mother and white father he was an enrolled member of the Flathead Tribe of Montana But first and largely by choice he was a Native American who sought to restore pride and self determination to all Native American people Based on a wide range of previously untapped sources this first full length biography traces the course of McNickle's life from the reservation of his childhood through a career of major import to American Indian political and cultural affairs In so doing it reveals a man who affirmed his own heritage while giving a collective Indian voice to many who had previously seen themselves only in a tribal context Informational Service Circular ,1957 The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1973
