Socioeconomic Renovation In Viet Nam The Origin Evolution And Impact Of Doi Moi:

Socioeconomic Renovation in Viet Nam International Development Research Centre (Canada), Institute of Southeast Asian Studies, 2000 Socioeconomic Renovation in Viet Nam The origin evolution and impact of Doi Moi Socioeconomic Renovation in Viet Nam Peter Boothroyd, Xuân Nam Phạm, 2000 How Nations Escape Poverty Rainer Zitelmann, 2024-03-26 A rigorous defense of free markets and open enterprise in the tradition of Adam Smith During the 20th century Vietnam and Poland were both victims not only of devastating wars but also of socialist planned economies that destroyed whatever war hadn't already In 1990 Vietnam was still one of the poorest countries in the world while Poland was one of the poorest in Europe But in the three decades since then both countries have drastically improved their citizens standards of living and escaped the vicious cycle of national poverty In this book Rainer Zitelmann identifies the reasons behind the sensational growth of both nations economies drawing out the lessons that other countries can learn from these two success stories To explain the source of their success he returns to Adam Smith's 1776 treatise The Wealth of Nations the only way to overcome poverty is through economic growth Smith wrote and economic freedom is the crucial prerequisite for such growth Developments over the past 250 years have proved Smith right The market economy has led to a global decline in poverty unparalleled in human history Compare this to the fifty years of development aid in Africa that have only entrenched the status quo and it is clear which approach yields superior results Despite these strides almost ten percent of the world's population still lives in extreme poverty So what measures actually help to alleviate poverty today Through a wealth of data and stories from the everyday lives of Polish and Vietnamese people who experienced reforms Zitelmann demonstrates the persistent relevance of Smith's ideas to economic flourishing in the 21st century The Vietnamese City in Transition Patrick Gubry, Frank Castiglioni, Jean-Michel Cusset, Nguyen Thi Thieng, Pham Thuy Huong, 2010 Since the Doi Moi policy of economic renovation was introduced in 1986 Vietnam has undergone deep transformations as a result of the transition to a socialist oriented market economy Social and urban transition has taken place in parallel as urban dynamics were spurred on by Vietnamese public and private stakeholders and by external agents such as international organizations and international solidarity organizations experts consultants and bilateral aid organizations Here are the results of research carried out by French Canadian and Vietnamese teams from the north and south of the country on the overarching theme of Vietnamese cities in transition Some of this research deals with urban dynamics some with the issues at stake within such dynamics or with the strategies of the most significant stakeholders in urban transition civil society donors within the framework of official aid for development consultants and international consultancy firms These projects were carried out between 2001 and 2004 as part of the Urban Research Programme for Development PRUD and mainly focus on Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City or both in the case of comparative studies Is there such a thing as a Vietnamese model of an Asian city It seems that urban transition in Vietnam is not taking place in as radical and abrupt a manner as in China The country's capacity for absorbing external models the quest for a third way between state intervention and economic liberalism and the fact that the country's architectural heritage is taken into account in urban planning are just some of the reasons for its particularity The issues addressed in each chapter as well as the proposals for further research suggested by the contributors should act as a catalyst for urban research in Vietnam

Rural-Urban Migration in Vietnam Amy Y. C. Liu, Xin Meng, 2019-06-04 This edited volume provides a comprehensive overview of rural urban migration in Vietnam It addresses a wide range of important topics including Vietnam's household registration system ho khai migration trends remittance behaviour and social networking In addition it examines migrants earnings their children's schooling housing issues and their families consumption behaviour in their destination cities The book is mainly based on new data from the Australian National University's Study of Rural Urban Migration in Vietnam with Insights from China and Indonesia VRUM project which identifies migrants from the large scale representative Vietnam Household Living Standards Survey 2012 VHLSS2012 In addition to the data from the VRUM project the book draws on other widely used data sources to provide a comprehensive picture of rural urban migrants in Vietnam By highlighting the issues and challenges brought about by the large scale rural urban migration in Vietnam the book helps researchers and policymakers more effectively formulate policies to respond to those challenges Moreover Vietnam's experience can serve as lessons learnt to other transitional developing countries

Agent Orange and Rural Development in Post-war Vietnam Vu Le Thao Chi, 2020-03-04 Vu tells the story of Vietnamese farmers who have survived a 30 year war of independence and unification its damaging legacies in their living environment and the unfamiliar pressure of the market economy Vietnamese farmers are neither simply obedient beneficiaries of policy decisions made by higher authorities nor convention ridden cyphers Rather they are sophisticated decision makers capable of navigating the changes threatening to disrupt their lives over multiple generations Vu's research pays particular attention to those farmers whose families have suffered from direct and indirect exposure to the toxic herbicides popularly known as Agent Orange She demonstrates that their priority has tended to be the protection of their existing assets rather than pursuing the promise of new riches and that this tendency has helped them maintain stability in a turbulent economic environment A fascinating study for scholars of Vietnamese anthropology and society the book will also be of interest to sociologists and economists with a broader interest in the impact of economic and political change on rural lifestyles

The Pacific Challenge Werner Kreisel, 2005 The enormous leaps of growth and development experienced by Eastern and Southeast Asian states since the 1960s on account of their astonishing industrial development have led to concerns that a resulting global economic and political shift might favour the Pacific region at the expense of the Atlantic region A Pacific century was proclaimed in which it was predicted that Asian Pacific countries would outpace the traditional leading powers of the West A more careful look quickly reveals that this view is too simplistic From the point of view of various disciplines and covering different nations like China Vietnam Indonesia Singapore the Philippines and Papua New

Revolution, Reform and Regionalism in Southeast Asia Ronald Bruce St John, 2006-01-16 Based on research carried out over the three decades this book compares the post war political economies of Cambodia Laos and Vietnam in the context of their individual and collective impact on contemporary efforts at regional integration The author highlights the different paths to reform taken by the three neighbours and the effect this has had on regional plans for economic development through the ASEAN and the Greater Mekong Subregion Through its comparative analysis of the reforms implemented by Cambodia Laos and Vietnam over the last thirty years the book draws attention to parallel themes of continuity and change The author discusses how the three states have demonstrated related characteristics whilst at the same time making different modifications in order to exploit the unique strengths of their individual cultures Contributing to the contemporary debate over the role of democratic reform in promoting economic development the book provides a detailed account of the political economies of three states at the heart of Southeast Asia

The Vietnamese Health Care System in Change Kerstin Priwitzer, 2012 Within the last twenty years a large scale bottom up privatization has taken place in Vietnam changing and dismantling the public health care system This process has led to severe tensions inherent in the transitional society of Vietnam between equity and access to health care support especially for the poor elderly migrants and ethnic minorities on the one hand and its efficiency on the other hand The book traces the reform efforts to modernize the health care system by the Communist Party of Vietnam and the Vietnamese government The author bases her findings on little known primary literature and interviews with key stakeholders of the policy network involved in the reform of the health care system thereby painting an authentic atmospheric picture of the profound changes in the health care system in Vietnam

Asian Universities Philip G. Altbach, Toru Umakoshi, 2004-12-10 Since 1980 higher education access and endorsement have grown more dramatically in Asia than in any other area of the world Both developed and developing nations are witnessing rapid expansion in the higher education sector Nor is this progress entirely quantitative a number of Asian universities are on a par with the finest institutions of higher education in the U S and Europe Until now however there has been little historical analysis and virtually no comparative analysis of Asian higher education This volume offers a detailed comparative study of the emergence of the modern university in Asia linking the historical development of universities in the region with contemporary realities and future challenges The contributors describe higher education systems in eleven countries Korea China Vietnam Cambodia Malaysia Phillippines Singapore Indonesia Thailand India and Japan and explore similarities and differences through two comparative essays Each case study includes a discussion of the nature and influence of both indigenous and European educational traditions a detailed analysis of development patterns and a close examination of such contemporary issues as population growth and access cost the role of private higher education the research system autonomy and accountability

War and Shadows Mai Lan Gustafsson, 2010-12-15 Vietnamese culture and religious traditions place the utmost importance on dying well in old age body

unblemished with surviving children and properly buried and mourned More than five million people were killed in the Vietnam War many of them young many of them dying far from home Another 300 000 are still missing Having died badly they are thought to have become angry ghosts doomed to spend eternity in a kind of spirit hell Decades after the war ended many survivors believe that the spirits of those dead and missing have returned to haunt their loved ones In War and Shadows the anthropologist Mai Lan Gustafsson tells the story of the anger of these spirits and the torments of their kin Gustafsson s rich ethnographic research allows her to bring readers into the world of spirit possession focusing on the source of the pain the physical and mental anguish the spirits bring and various attempts to ameliorate their anger through ritual offerings and the intervention of mediums Through a series of personal life histories she chronicles the variety of ailments brought about by the spirits wrath from headaches and aching limbs often the same limb lost by a loved one in battle to self mutilation In Gustafsson s view the Communist suppression of spirit based religion after the fall of Saigon has intensified anxieties about the well being of the spirit world While shrines and mourning are still allowed spirit mediums were outlawed and driven underground along with many of the other practices that might have provided some comfort Despite these restrictions she finds victims of these hauntings do as much as possible to try to lay their ghosts to rest The Political Economy of Educational Reforms and Capacity Development in Southeast Asia Yasushi Hirosato,Yuto Kitamura,2009-02-07 Yasushi Hirosato and Yuto Kitamura Developing countries including Southeast Asian countries face an enormous challenge in ensuring equitable access to quality education in the context of deepening globalization and increasing international competition They must simultaneously meet the goals of Education for All EFA at the basic education level and of developing a more sophisticated workforce required by the knowledge based economy at the post basic especially tertiary education level To meet this challenge developing countries need to reform renovate their education systems and service deliveries as an integral part of national development However most of them have not yet fully developed the individual institutional and system capacities in undertaking necessary education reforms especially under decentralization and privatization requiring new roles at various central and local or public and private levels of administration and stakeholders Provided that an ultimate vision of educational development and cooperation in the twenty first century would be to develop indigenous capacity in engineering education reforms this book analyzes the overall education reform context and capacity including the status of sector program support using the sector wide approach SWAp program based approach PBA in developing countries We also address how different stakeholders have been interacting in order to promote equitable access to quality education particularly from the perspectives of capacity development under the system of decentralization Urban Risk Reduction Rajib Shaw,Hari Srinivas,Anshu Sharma,2009-12-04 As cities all over the world have urbanized rapidly after the industrial revolution most cities have confronted environmental problems such as poor air and water quality high levels of traffic congestion and ambient noise This book brings the lessons from innovative urban risk management approaches in Asian cities The Great Urban Transition Peilei Fan, 2022-09-02 This monograph examines the sub urbanization process of seven transitional economies in Southeast Asia and North Asia: SENA (i.e. Siberia of Russia in North Asia, China and Mongolia in East Asia) and Cambodia, Lao PDR, Myanmar and Vietnam in Southeast Asia. In ten chapters, great urban transformation occurred in SENA is discussed as well as the transitional period which aggravated urban environments in SENA cities and how institutional shift enabled by movements of urban residents and transitional urban governance may facilitate the process and improve the urban environmental condition. This book includes land cover and land use data derived from satellite images over the past thirty years and intensive field research in more than thirty cities exploring the rise of these great cities and their environmental challenges. Unlike in western countries, the current urbanization process in Asian transitional economies is a hybrid product of market logic and state legacy and intervention, with these influences sometimes conflicting and at other times enhancing each other under intensified globalization. This book is of interest to researchers and students interested in landscape urban studies, environment studies, in particular Asia, as well as planners and policy makers.
