How to Look Good in a War Brian Rappert, 2012-09-06. This book examines the methods used to depict, defend, and justify the use of state violence. While others have shown how truth is the first casualty of war, this is the first to analyse exactly how pro-war narratives are constructed and normalised. He looks at government spin during recent wars in Iraq, Afghanistan, and Libya, where officials manoeuvre between circulating and withholding information. Through looking at recent controversies such as the use of weapons of mass destruction, cluster munitions, and international law, Rappert considers how ignorance about the operation of war is produced and how individuals and groups can intervene to make a difference.
