Nestwork Jennifer Clary-Lemon,2023-08-01 As more and more species fall under the threat of extinction humans are not only taking action to protect critical habitats but are also engaging more directly with species to help mitigate their decline Through innovative infrastructure design and by changing how we live humans are becoming more attuned to nonhuman animals and are making efforts to live alongside them Examining sites of loss temporal orientations and infrastructural mitigations Nestwork blends rhetorical and posthuman sensibilities in service of the ecological care In this innovative ethnographic study rhetorician Jennifer Clary Lemon examines human nonhuman animal interactions identifying forms of communication between species and within their material world Looking in particular at nonhuman species that depend on human development for their habitat Clary Lemon examines the cases of the barn swallow chimney swift and bobolink She studies their habitats along with the unique mitigation efforts taken by humans to maintain those habitats including building barn swallow gazebos and artificial chimneys and altering farming practices to allow for nesting and breeding What she reveals are fascinating forms of rhetoric not expressed through language but circulating between species and materials objects Nestwork explores what are in essence nonlinguistic and decidedly nonhuman arguments within these local environments Drawing on new materialist and Indigenous ontologies the book helps attune our senses to the tragedy of species decline and to a new understanding of home and homemaking

J.M. Keynes Versus F.H. Knight Yasuhiro Sakai, 2019-06-28 This book critically discusses and systematically compares J M Keynes and F H Knight two giants in the history of economic thought In 1921 they both published apparently similar books on risk probability and uncertainty However while Knight s contribution on risk and uncertainty is now well recognized Keynes s work on probability and uncertainty has been somewhat ignored in the shadow of his more famous The General Theory of Employment Interest and Money 1936 Focusing on an earlier yet equally important volume by Keynes A Treatise on Probability 1921 this book sheds a light on his outstanding ideas and the lasting influence on his later works including The General Theory There are few books that systematically discuss Keynes and Knight although there are remarkable comparisons between Keynes s concept of probability and uncertainty and Knight s distinction between a measurable risk and a non measurable uncertainty This timely book unifies Keynes and Knight into a new comprehensive approach to a very complex human behavior

Education for Tomorrow Michael Risku, Letitia Harding, 2013-02-11 Education for Tomorrow A Biocentric Student Focused Approach to Education Reform Michael Risku University of the Incarnate Word USA and Letitia Harding University of the Incarnate Word USA There are many books on the market which discuss indigenous ways of knowing and bemoan western society s seeming lack of interest in anything other than scientific fact based knowledge Equally plentiful are the writings of critical theorists who consider today s public education system to be divisive and manipulated by those in power to ensure that their children have the educational advantages needed to maintain the elite hierarchical status quo Education for Tomorrow is unique in that it brings both of these approaches together first by examining the ways that indigenous people and women of all cultures acquire and pass on knowledge and the deleterious effects that enforced Eurocentric systems have had on that process The authors then turn to public schools to explore the influences both good and bad that today s programs have on the distribution of opportunities afforded to all children in the United States Finally they offer suggestions for a revolutionary education system which highlights the need for all students to have the encouragement and freedom to look critically and rationally at their lives and at their relationship with the natural world This can be achieved by looking back to the pedagogical methods of our indigenous ancestors and forward to a time when all children regardless of ethnic or socio
