Strangely Marked Metal:

A Study Guide for Kay Ryan's "All Shall be Restored" Gale, Cengage Learning, 2016 A Study Guide for Kay Ryan's All Shall be Restored excerpted from Gale's acclaimed Poetry for Students. This concise study guide includes plot summary, character analysis, author biography, study questions, historical context, suggestions for further reading, and much more. For any literature project, trust Poetry for Students for all of your research needs. The Pigheaded Soul Jason

Guriel, 2013-12-03 The Pigheaded Soul presents a series of witty, intelligent, and sometimes controversial essays in which talented newcomers and avowed masters alike find themselves within the literary crosshairs of acclaimed poet and critic Jason Guriel. Guriel does not shy away from the negative review nor does he begrudge praise where praise is due. He applauds the innovative and evocative rails against the lazy and the imprecise and critiques the hipster mentality of so-called avant-gardists who use the same tired tricks as shortcuts to perceived innovation. But far from providing only reviews and critical readings, The Pigheaded Soul serves up amusing insider anecdotes about the poetry community from intelligent examinations of inspiration and imagination to gonzo reportage of high-profile and occasionally absurd literary events. Wry, engaging, and astute, Guriel writes with a confidence and panache that enlivens the often dry and dusty field of literary criticism. A Way of Knowing Nolan Porterfield, 2016-03-22 Set in West Texas after World War II, A Way of Knowing is a drama of the conflict between ignorance and enlightenment, a masterful rendering of a time and place. The Poetics of the Everyday Siobhan Phillips, 2010 Wallace Stevens once described the malady of the quotidian: lamenting the dull weight of everyday regimen. Yet he would later hail that which is always beginning over and over, recognizing if not celebrating the possibility of fresh invention. Focusing on the poems of Wallace Stevens, Robert Frost, Elizabeth Bishop, and James Merrill, Siobhan Phillips positions everyday time as a vital category in modernist aesthetics, American literature, and poetic theory. She eloquently reveals how, through particular but related means, each of these poets converts the necessity of quotidian experience into an aesthetic and experiential opportunity. In Stevens, Phillips analyzes the implications of cyclic dualism. In Frost, she explains the theoretical depth of a habitual middle way. In Bishop's work, she identifies the attempt to turn recurrent mornings into a ceremony rather than a sentence, and in Merrill, she shows how cosmic theories rely on daily habits. Phillips ultimately demonstrates that a poetics of everyday time contributes not only to a richer understanding of these four writers but also to descriptions of their era, estimations of their genre, and ongoing reconfigurations of the issues that literature reflects and illuminates. The Best American Poetry 1995 Richard Howard, 1995-09-15 The Best American Poetry 1995 once again highlights the dazzling spectrum of style and subject matter to be found in the art of today. Guest editor Richard Howard's accent is on discovery and surprise, and he has gleaned the most inventive and searching writing from a wide variety of literary journals. The themes and imagery here are indisputably American, as our best poets continue to mine personal as well as communal experience for their work. Now in its eighth year, this series has established itself as a rich and
