Strategic Appraisal 1996:

Strategic Appraisal, 1996 Zalmay Khalilzad, 1996 Today the United States possesses military predominance and American political and economic ideas have broad global appeal Almost all of the economically capable nations are our allies Yet the end of the Cold War has also brought an increase in disorder as a result of the rise in ethnic nationalism and the fragmentation of several states And these are not the only complications in the current strategic situation The old U S grand strategy its stand against the Soviet Union has become moot and a new one must be devised in the face of a changing world This book discusses this need and examines three possible strategies It goes on to discuss the complexities of current geopolitical trends and describes the demands these situations might place on the U S military and in particular the Air Force

Perspectives on Strategic Environmental Assessment Maria Rosario Partidario, 2024-11-01 An environmental assessment must be performed whenever a property transaction takes place Those who don't may find themselves responsible for the past misdeeds of others This book contains contributions by professionals from various locations who use Strategic Environmental Assessment SEA as a tool applied to water management issues SEA helps make decisions that increase sustainability Because of its procedural nature it necessarily becomes tailor made to different applications Easily understood and geographic in scope this book presents leading edge thinking and first hand knowledge on the applications of SEA in water management Perspectives on Strategic Environmental Assessment is a comprehensive guidebook for performing environmental assessments all over the world No other source provides you with as much information on the applications of SEA as a policy assessment and management tool This book provides a blueprint for environmental assessments that safeguards you from the oversights of others

Interpreting shadows arms control and defense planning in a rapidly changing multi-polar world, 1999 The focus of arms control is changing It now deals with issues affecting all nations and not just the super powers A new framework for approaching non proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and arms control could focus on a two fold policy initiative The first policy would be a new strategic triad built around conventional capability including rapidly deployable forces regional ballistic missile defense and long range precision strike capability The second policy would employ an information strategy using the current diplomatic initiatives that appear to be the most productive or unilateral and multilateral export controls military assistance in the form of infrastructure and confidence building measures Continued success in arms control requires abandoning Cold War policies Emerging policies will need to appreciate different world views Good intelligence will be a key factor in the success of any policy orientation and its implementation The focus needs to change from arms control involving the superpowers to arms control involving everyone

Strategic Management for Travel and Tourism Nigel Evans, George

Stonehouse, David Campbell, 2012-04-27 Strategic Management for Travel and Tourism is the must have text for students studying travel and tourism. It brings theory to life by using industry based case studies and in doing so speaks the language of the Travel and Tourism student. Among the new features and topics included in this edition are international case studies from large scale businesses such as Airtours, MyTravel and South West Airlines; user friendly applications of strategic management theory such as objectives, products and markets and strategic implementation together with illustrative case studies and longer case studies for seminar work and summaries of contemporary strategic issues affecting travel and tourism organizations such as vertical integration and strategic alliances. Strategic Management for Travel and Tourism is a well rounded book ideal for all undergraduate and postgraduate students focusing on strategy in travel and tourism. America's Strategic Choices, revised edition Michael E. Brown, Owen R. Cote, Jr., Sean M. Lynn-Jones, Steven E. Miller, 2000-07-18 Contending perspectives on the future of US grand strategy. More than a decade has passed since the end of the Cold War but the United States has yet to reach a consensus on a coherent approach to the international use of American power. The essays in this volume present contending perspectives on the future of US grand strategy. US policy options include primacy, cooperative security, selective engagement and retrenchment. This revised edition includes additional and more recent analysis and advocacy of these options. The volume includes the Clinton administration's National Security Strategy for a New Century, the most recent official statement of American grand strategy so readers can compare proposed strategies with the official US government position. Introduction To Environmental Impact Assessment John Glasson, Riki Therivel, Andrew Chadwick, 2005-09-30 First Published in 1994 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis, an informa company.

Strategic Environmental Assessment for Transport European Conference of Ministers of Transport, 2000-10-30 This report examines recent experience in developing environmental assessment internationally and makes recommendations on maximising the effectiveness of this new tool. Allies Divided Robert D. Blackwill, Michael Stürmer, 1997 Many Transatlantic security concerns in the coming decades will originate not in Europe but in the Greater Middle East which encompasses the area from the Maghreb to the Caspian basin. This volume juxtaposes essays from US and European scholars on selected areas and issues: the Arab-Israeli peace process, the Persian Gulf, Turkey and the Caspian Basin, the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and military force projection. Each author considers American and European strategies toward a particular issue and makes suggestions for future policy collaboration between the countries on both sides of the Atlantic. Strategic Decisionmaking in Cabinet Government, 1999-01-01 Collective cabinet decisionmaking provides the institutional mechanism by which many governments prioritize their policies and guard against unpredictable policy reversals. Mansoor Ahmed, Vice President, Poverty Reduction and Economic Management Network, The World Bank. The style and membership of cabinets vary in every country. The heads of democratic governments form a cabinet for three principal reasons: 1. The threat that the legislature will significantly amend the government's program as expressed in the budget proposals made by the executive 2 The threat of dismissal between elections 3 The risk that the executive will be seen by the public as having departed from a previous tradition of cabinet government and judged poorly as a result Strategic Decisionmaking in Cabinet Government shows that cabinet government is a rational response to these risks and sets out the institutional arrangements that make the cabinet a binding device This report recognizes the significance of the budget process for collective decisionmaking but moves beyond the simplistic assumption that tradeoffs in cabinet government can only be made by reallocating the budget It supports practical approaches for assessing the strength of cabinet decisionmaking arrangements and for identifying practical steps to improve the prospect that decisions will be collectively binding Optimization Methods for a Stakeholder Society W.K. Brauers,2013-12-11 For both public and private managers the book Optimization Methods for a Stakeholder Society is today's key to answer the problem of a sustainable development world This world has to take into account the meaning of all stakeholders involved and has to reconcile a number of objectives such as economic growth employment and preservation of the ecosystem Traditional methods such as cost benefit are outmoded as they translate all these objectives into monetary costs a materialistic approach On the contrary objectives have rather to stick to their own units eventually indicators Naval War College Review ,1998 Grenada Investment and Business Guide Volume 1 Strategic and Practical Information IBP USA,2013-08 Grenada Investment and Business Guide Strategic and Practical Information Strategic Management For The Public Services Joyce, Paul,1999-04-01 This is an accessible introduction to the theory and practice of strategic management in the public sector

Strategic Environmental Assessment and Land Use Planning Michael Short,Mark Baker,Jeremy Carter,Stephen Jay,Carys Jones,2013-06-17 A wonderfully international and up to date perspective on strategic environmental assessment of land use plans by leading experts in the field Strategic Environmental Assessment and Land Use Planning covers not only how much such SEAs are carried out and in what context but whether they are effective and why It provides invaluable insights for practitioners and researchers in this rapidly evolving field Riki Therivel author of Strategic Environmental Assessment in Action Strategic Environmental Assessment and Land Use Planning provides an authoritative international evaluation of the SEA of land use plans The editors place the SEA of land use plans in context and uniquely qualified contributors then evaluate systems in Canada Denmark Germany Hong Kong Hungary Ireland The Netherlands New Zealand Portugal South Africa Sweden the United Kingdom the United States and the World Bank These chapters provide a description of the context in each country a case study of the use of SEA in land use planning and an evaluation of each SEA system against a set of generic criteria specially designed to analyse different aspects of SEA The contributors critically review each SEA system SEA process and SEA outcome and conclude by summarizing their findings The editors draw the various national perspectives together in a final chapter and derive widely applicable conclusions about SEA and land use planning This book is a core text for all students in environmental assessment land use planning environmental science
