Take Back The Nation:

How to Take Back Our Government and Our Nation from Corrupt Politicians Lennox John Grant, 2020-08-10 Many people the world over are vexed at the alleged blatant and unbridled corrupt practices engaged in by Politicians and other public officials in their respective governments Many are lamenting over these corrupt practices with mixed feelings of hopelessness and exasperation We silently ask ourselves the question What can we do to stem this tide of corruption and brokenness in our governments and restore good governance to our country our nation or our state This book addresses this question by 1 Explaining that the problem lies with the electorate not having consistent simple clear but relevant criteria by which to assess those offering themselves for public office 2 Recommending and explaining four biblically based criteria by which any electorate can assess the suitability of candidates or team of candidates vying for public office so as to make better choices in the selection of candidates 3 Providing a simple evaluation tool based on these four criteria that can be used to objectively assess candidates suitability for holding public office 4 Using this evaluation tool to acquire foreknowledge about the performance of politicians and their government while in office 5 Explaining how we can bring change to our nations through a The prayer of faith b Speaking blessings over our nations or states 6 Revealing how high ranking and other public officials can become men full of integrity and acquire the courage to resist corrupt practices State of the nation Atal

Nation That Creates Its Own Reality: Rogene A. Buchholz, 2019-11-13 Americans seem prone to create their own reality in situations that have faced them over the past several years and this arrogance cost the country dearly Three events stand out as prime examples this arrogance The first of these events was the war in Iraq which was based on the false reality that the country possessed weapons of mass destruction and had ties to terrorist organizations The second example was the financial crisis of 2008 which was precipitated by the invention of new and complicated investment vehicles The last example is the current Trump administration which was filled with falsehoods during the campaign and his first years in office such that one could not believe anything that this administration said This book is going to focus on religious reasons for this situation as I believe that it is the Christian religion that is largely at fault for this condition It is religion that has set up most Americans to believe our leaders when they outright lie and claim to know things beyond what the evidence will support and create a false reality that eventually comes crashing down to disrupt American life If our nation is ever going to be great it must quit living in a fantasy world and give up a belief in magic as far as its future is concerned Decisions in government and business must be based on reality as it is and not on what we arrogantly think we can create The two go together as the more we try and create our own reality the less able we are to come to grips with the reality that actually exists The place to start is by recognizing the role the Christian religion has played in this phenomenon and letting go of the fantasies that comprise this religion and live a secular life that finds meaning and purpose in this world rather than in some hereafter We will not successfully deal with all the problems with which we are faced and have a political and economic system that works for everyone until this happens A Nation of Shepherds Donald L. Lucero,2004 Driven into exile from Carmona Spain in 1577 to escape the threat of death by the Inquisition the Robledo family immigrates first to New Spain and then joins the Onate colonial expedition in 1596 to New Mexico Set against the historically accurate backdrop of the colonial enterprise and conveying a sense of New Mexico's vast wilderness freshness beauty and soul the novel brings to life a courageous and devoted family bent on establishing a new homeland Here is the true story of the Robledos tragic year of 1598 in which they suffer the deaths of two family members Pedro Robledo the elder from a prolonged illness and the rigors of the trail and his son Pedro Robledo the younger as the result of an Indian attack at the Pueblo of Acoma in which eleven Spanish soldiers are killed The difficulties of maintaining the colony during an era which would later become known as The Little Ice Age are revealed in intimate detail Lacking adequate harvests and semi dependent upon their Pueblo Indian neighbors into whose villages the Spaniards have moved the colonists are eventually reduced to eating roasted cowhides even as the Indians are eating dirt coal and ashes In the end some family members return to New Spain in 1601 DONALD LUCERO who traces his ancestry to 16 adult members of the Onate expedition grew up in northern New Mexico where an indelible mark was left on him by the region's historical past His study of this 350 year history resulted in his first book The Adobe Kingdom a 12 generational study of two colonial families Described by one reviewer as superbly researched and written it was recently showcased at the National Hispanic Cultural Center in Albuquerque Dr Lucero was educated in the Las Vegas schools through college where he received his B A in history from New Mexico Highlands University He holds graduate degrees from the University of North Carolina and the University of New Mexico where he received his doctorate in 1970 He now lives in Dartmouth Massachusetts with his wife Beth where he is a psychologist A Nation of Shepherds is his first novel
