Tax Concepts and Analysis, 2000 The International Tax Law Concept of Dividend Marjaana Helminen, 2017-05-02 The distribution of profits between corporations resident in different jurisdictions gives rise to both significant tax planning opportunities and tax risks As cross border transactions between corporations grow in number and complexity the question of how a profit distribution is classified for corporate income tax purposes becomes increasingly important particularly in the context of issues such as double taxation non taxation and tax neutrality The OECD BEPS project has only increased the relevance This unique work discusses the international tax law rules determining which transactions may be classified and taxed as dividends and how possible classification conflicts may be resolved The author examines the tax classification of various inter corporate transactions including Payments made under dividend stripping arrangements Fictitious profit distributions Economic benefits in the context of transfer pricing Returns on debt equity hybrids Interest payments in thin capitalization situations and distributions following liquidation The analysis of each transaction refers to international tax law

Most weight is given to tax treaties and EU tax law including the BEPS development The approaches adopted in different states national tax law are covered by a more general analysis The comprehensive coverage and the practical nature of The International Tax Law Concept of Dividend make it an essential acquisition for tax practitioners researchers and tax libraries worldwide
