The City Its Growth Its Decay Its Future:

The City, Its Growth, Its Decay, Its Future Eliel Saarinen, 1965 Culture, Urbanism and Planning Manuel Guardia, 2016-05-13 The relationship between culture and urbanism has been the focus of much discussion and debate in recent years While globalisation tends towards a homogeneity successful global cities have a strong individual and particularly cultural identity The economic value of the culture of cities lies not only in the arts taking place there but also in the city's fabric its architecture and in its cultural heritage This volume brings together a team of leading specialists to examine the policies of image and city marketing which have developed over the past 15 years and whether these are a continuity of earlier strategies Featuring case studies which illustrate diverse perspectives on linking culture urbanism and history the book reviews heritage and planning culture looking at the experience of urbanism in the Old Historic City The book also assesses the increasingly important issue of urban images and their influence on planning strategies The City Eliel Saarinen, 1958 The City. Its Growth, Its Decay, Its Future. [Illustr.] (2. Print.) Congress, 1970 Remodelling to Prepare for Independence Ian Morley, 2023-12-01 Remodelling to Prepare for Independence The Philippine Commonwealth Decolonisation Cities and Public Works c 1935 46 illuminates the implications of the USA's final phase of colonial rule in the Philippine Islands It explores the Filipino side of decolonisation and the management of the built environment in the years immediately prior to self rule This book shakes off the collaboration vs resistance paradigm that empire histories generally follow and consequently yields an original vantage point to comprehend transition within an Asian society in the years immediately prior to during and after World War Two This will not only deepen insight of the American Empire but also grants the opportunity to tie Philippine political cultural change to the global history of urban planning's advancement Accordingly it opens a new window to rethink Filipino ethno history and societal evolution alongside the opportunity to compare the Philippines with other nations that undertook planning projects as part of their decolonisation process and early postcolonial advancement The book utilises theoretical frames in order to help creatively excavate the era 1935-46 for the purpose of not just revealing what public works occurred but to also uncover what those projects meant to the Commonwealth Government the BPW's staff and the public who benefitted from public works projects The book will be relevant to students and researchers of Urban History Asian and American Empire History and Imperial and Colonial Studies Architects planners and members of the public who are interested in the form and meaning of urban environments designed constructed in the past will also find the publication to be of great interest

The Making of Urban Japan André Sorensen, 2005-08-19 During the twentieth century Japan was transformed from a poor primarily rural country into one of the world's largest industrial powers and most highly urbanised countries Interestingly while Japanese governments and planners borrowed carefully from the planning ideas and methods of many other countries Japanese urban planning urban governance and cities developed very differently from those of other developed countries Japan's distinctive patterns of urbanisation are partly a product of the highly developed urban system urban traditions and material culture of the pre-modern period which remained influential until well after the Pacific War A second key influence has been the dominance of central government in urban affairs and its consistent prioritisation of economic growth over the public welfare or urban quality of life Andr Sorensen examines Japan's urban trajectory from the mid nineteenth century to the present paying particular attention to the weak development of Japanese civil society local governments and land development and planning regulations
