Resistance Clodagh Finn, John Morgan, 2024-08-29 You simply couldn't stand by with your arms folded. These were the words of Samuel Beckett who famously returned to France from a holiday in Ireland when World War II broke out. His clandestine work against the Nazi occupation of Europe is well documented but there were many other ordinary Irish people who joined the underground network. Some took up arms. Others gathered intelligence, sheltered fugitives, committed acts of sabotage or broke codes. This new history tells the stories of those forgotten Irish men and women. Discover Captain John Keany from Cork who parachuted into occupied Italy to help the local Resistance. Margaret Kelly the Dublin founder of the world famous Bluebell Girls cabaret troupe in Paris who hid her Jewish husband and Catherine Crean the Irish governess born on Moore Street Dublin who was sent to a concentration camp for helping Allied airmen in Belgium. These and many more stories span the course of World War II and remind us of the power of individuals to make a difference. An eye opening account of how ordinary people caught up in extraordinary situations helped to fight the Nazis. David McCullagh. A truly important and groundbreaking book. Mary Kenny. Daily Life in Nazi-Occupied Europe Harold J. Goldberg, 2019-10-25 Daily Life in Nazi Occupied Europe provides readers with information about political and military affairs, economic life, religious life, intellectual life and other aspects of daily life in those countries occupied by Nazi Germany during World War II. By the end of 1940 the Nazis controlled most of Europe and in 1941 they invaded the Soviet Union to complete their mission of domination. The pattern of human resistance to the occupation was equally widespread in every country; at least a significant minority of the population fought for human dignity. Why did so many risk their lives and refuse to accept defeat? This book goes beyond the impact of the occupation on different European countries, examining that impact on individuals who, regardless of what country they lived in, faced a desperate search for food and the constant threat of death. This volume is intended to help readers to see the variety of struggles that contributed to the defeat of the oppressive occupation imposed by the Nazis. Readers will come away with an appreciation of the fact that there were as many types of daily lives as there were individuals under the occupation and that every person in the war had a unique experience. Downed Allied Airmen and Evasion of Capture Herman Bodson, 2005-09-27 This volume deals specifically with escape and evasion in the Netherlands, Belgium and France, an operation in which the author himself was directly involved and discusses the role which these lines of escape played in the lives of airmen who were forced to bail out over enemy territory. He describes the ever-present risks the often nameless patriots faced, such as the danger of exposure and the threat of traitorous infiltration. Specific lines are traced geographically and their main participants discussed. Special emphasis is placed on the role of women in this resistance operation. Throughout the book the reader benefits not only from the author's own personal recollections but also from his later on location research. The final chapter concludes with statistical information directly related to this little-known aspect of World War II. Appendices include lists of the airmen helped by the resistance movement. Great Wartime Escapes and Rescues David W. Mills, Kayla L.
