Benjamin Franklin's Printing Network Ralph Frasca, 2006 Explores Benjamin Franklin's network of partnerships and business relationships with printers His network altered practices in both European and American colonial printing trades by providing capital and political influence to set up working partnerships with James Parker Francis Childs Benjamin Mecom Benjamin Franklin Bache David Hall Anthony Armbruster and others Provided by publisher Babel of the Atlantic Bethany Wiggin, 2019-04-24 Despite shifting trends in the study of Oceanic Atlantic history the colonial Atlantic world as it is described by historians today continues to be a largely English only space even when other language communities are examined they too are considered to be monolingual and discrete Babel of the Atlantic pushes back against this monolingual fallacy by documenting multilingualism translation and fluid movement across linguistic borders Focusing on Philadelphia and surrounding areas that include Germantown Bethlehem and the so called Indian country to the west this volume demonstrates the importance of viewing inhabitants not as members of isolated language communities whether English German Lenape Mohican or others but as creators of a vibrant zone of mixed languages and shifting politics Organized around four themes religion education race and abolitionism and material culture and architecture and drawing from archives such as almanacs newspapers and the material world the chapters in this volume show how polyglot tolerant and multilingual spaces encouraged diverse peoples to coexist Contributors examine subjects such as the multicultural Moravian communities in colonial Pennsylvania the Charity School movement of the 1750s and the activities of Quaker abolitionists showing how educational and religious movements addressed and embraced cultural and linguistic variety Drawing early American scholarship beyond the normative narrative of monolingualism this volume will be invaluable to historians and sociolinguists whose work focuses on Pennsylvania and colonial revolutionary and antebellum America In addition to the editor the contributors include Craig Atwood Patrick M Erben Cynthia G Falk Katherine Faull Wolfgang Fligel Katharine Gerbner Maruice Jackson Lisa Minardi Jrgen Overhoff and Birte Pflieger To the Latest Posterity Corinne P.

Earnest, Russell D. Earnest, 2004 To the Latest Posterity is filled with examples of family registers from museum and private collections many of them never before published including early handmade work as well as printed registers that were filled in by hand in the nineteenth century Bringing the art into the twentieth century and beyond the Earnests discuss the adoption of the art by the Amish who continue the practice of illuminated family record keeping today Jacket Beyond Durnbaugh, 1971 The Literary Era, 1901 A Harmony of the Spirits Patrick M. Erben, 2013-06-10 In early Pennsylvania translation served as a utopian tool creating harmony across linguistic religious and ethnic differences Patrick Erben challenges the long standing historical myth first promulgated by Benjamin Franklin that language diversity posed a threat to communal coherence He deftly traces the pansophist and Neoplatonist philosophies of European reformers that informed the radical English and German Protestants who founded the holy experiment Their belief in hidden yet persistent links between human language and the word of God impelled their vision of a common spiritual idiom Translation became the search for underlying correspondences between diverse human expressions of the divine and served as a model for reconciliation and inclusiveness Drawing on German and English archival sources Erben examines iconic translations that engendered community in colonial Pennsylvania including William Penn's translingual promotional literature Francis Daniel Pastorius's multilingual poetics Ephrata's angelic singing and transcendent calligraphy the Moravians polyglot missions and the common language of suffering for peace among Quakers Pietists and Mennonites By revealing a mystical quest for unity Erben presents a compelling counternarrative to monolingualism and Enlightenment empiricism in eighteenth century America Western Massachusetts John Hoyt Lockwood, Ernest Newton Bagg, Walter Scott Carson, Herbert Elihu Riley, Edward Boltwood, 1926 Strangers Within the Realm Bernard Bailyn, Philip D.
