The Church And Colonialism:

A History of the Church in Latin America Enrique D. Dussel, 1981 This comprehensive history of the church in Latin America with its emphasis on theology will help historians and theologians to better understand the formation and continuity of the Latin American tradition

The Church in Colonial Latin America John Frederick Schwaller, 2000 The Church in Colonial Latin America is a collection of essays that include classic articles and pieces based on more modern research Containing essays that explore the Catholic Church's active social and political influence this volume provides the background necessary for students to grasp the importance of the Catholic Church in Latin America This text also presents a comprehensive analytic and descriptive history of the Church and its development during the colonial period From the evangelization of the New World by Spanish missionaries to the active influence of the Catholic Church on Latin American culture this book offers a complete picture of the Church in colonial Latin America The Church in Colonial Latin America is ideal for courses in the colonial period in Latin American history as well as courses in religion church history and missionary history

Christianity and Colonialism Robert Delavignette, 1964 An analysis of the history of European colonialism with emphasis on the nineteenth century and of the attitudes of Christianity toward both colonization and decolonization The author begins his study by describing the peak of colonialism in the nineteenth century and then he traces the reasons for colonization both economic and social His detailed comments give special attention to the distinctive features of European colonization and the difficult problems raised by racial bias The dynamic role played by Christianity in the history of colonialism is the subject of the second part of this volume The author discusses such factors as the initial evangelization the teaching of the Church and the political and sociological difficulties of the missions Consideration is also given to the Protestant and Russian Orthodox Churches for their valuable and unique contributions to colonial development In the third part the author takes up the question of the Church as one of many political influences in the current process of decolonization

Converting Colonialism Dana L. Robert, 2008-01-02 Series Studies in the History of Christian Missions SHCM In this volume leading historians of Christianity in the non Western world examine the relationship between missionaries and nineteenth century European colonialism and between indigenous converts and the colonial contexts in which they lived Forced to operate within a political framework of European expansionism that lay outside their power to control missionaries and early converts variously attempted to co opt certain aspects of colonialism and to change what seemed prejudicial to gospel values These contributors are the leading historians in their fields and the concrete historical situations that they explore show the real complexity of missionary efforts to convert colonialism Contributors J F Ade Ajayi Roy Bridges Richard Elphick Eleanor Jackson Daniel Jeyaraj Andrew Porter Dana L Robert R G Tiedemann C Peter Williams

Missionary Messengers of Liberation in a Colonial Context Jan Harm Boer, 2024-10-21 Observations on the Colonial Church Question James Bowling Mozley, 1867 Church and Settler in Colonial Zimbabwe Pamela Welch, 2008-08-31 This book examines the history of the Anglican Diocese of Mashonaland Southern Rhodesia virtually co extensive with modern Zimbabwe in the period 1890 1925 when its institutions took shape and its religious character was formed While work among indigenous communities is outlined the primary subject is the church s work with white settlers A fresh general narrative is provided and an examination of clergy recruitment and finance relates events in Mashonaland to developments in global Anglicanism Among the questions addressed are those of religion and empire church and state and the complexities of relationship between the Church of England and her overseas extensions particularly those covering areas of white settlement Local developments in religious practice are also explored most striking of these was the settler apprehension of the vast landscapes of South Central Africa as a locus of the sacred and their custom of veld burial

Spreading the Gospel in Colonial Virginia Edward L. Bond, 2004-01-01 Due to a perceived lack of resources historians of colonial era Virginia have generally heaped their attention on regional politics and virtually ignored the area s rich religious history Even at a time of revived interest in Virginia s religious atmosphere few scholars have opted to examine what is perhaps one of the region s most valuable primary resources sermon literature With an extensive introduction that fully chronicles as well as contextualizes the practice of religion and church activities in early America Edward L Bond offers a reappraisal of religion s place in the colonies Through his compilation of previously unpublished and largely unexamined sermons he is able to shape a picture of colonial Virginia s religious environment that is unparalleled in both its depth and scope The sermons appear as they do in the original with all notes and marginalia intact Bond s own notes provide definitions of obscure words and terms explanations of arcane allusions and references for unattributed citations His commentary vastly enriches our appreciation not only of the texts but also of their writers and the important role these clergymen played in shaping the young nation By bringing together this variety of important sources some of which are new to even the most established scholars of colonial Virginia this collection fills a true void in both religious and historical scholarship The Colonial Church Chronicle, and Missionary Journal F. Rivington, J. Rivington, 2022-04-29 Reprint of the original first published in 1863 Architectures of Colonialism Vera Egbers, Christa Kamleithner, Özge Sezer, Alexandra Skedzuhn-Safir, 2024-06-04 The question of what heritage is and how we deal with it is not a neutral one Recent events such as the Black Lives Matter movement and the toppling of monuments have made evident how much the colonial past is inscribed in our built environment at the same time colonialism continues to affect memorialization and historiography Hence those involved in architectural history are challenged to re consider their positionality Whose heritage are colonial sites Which possibly silenced memories are attached to them How are archives and material evidence reassessed to bring forward the stories of marginalized subjects Following the call for decolonization this volume explores historical methodologies and shows the entanglement of narratives at architectural sites bringing together archaeology architectural history and heritage studies A contribution to the current debate on decolonization and memorialization Interdisciplinary perspectives on architecture and heritage International range of authors Native American Law and Colonialism, Before 1776 to 1903 John R.
