The City As A Work Of Art:

The city as a work of art Donald J. Olsen, 1984 The City as a Work of Art Donald J. Olsen, 1986-01-01 Examines public buildings and homes in nineteenth century London Paris and Vienna and explains how each city reflected the characteristic lifestyle of its population The City as a Work of Art George Boas, 1944 The City as a Work of Art Charles Moore, 1931

Imaginative Structure of the City Alan Blum, 2003-05-07 Blum's distinctive form of theoretical inquiry pushes the reader to move beyond conventional ways of thinking about familiar urban issues in answering such fundamental questions as How does a city exist How do its inhabitants define their relationship to it Who is entitled to speak for it What is its symbolic nature In what way does the city function as a focus of attempts to resolve social problems such as alienation participation and community In what ways do night and nighttime affect our relationship to it How is it possible to speak of a city as both exciting and alienating Art and the City Nicolas Whybrow, 2010-10-30 To Henri Lefebvre the space and lived everydayness of the inter dependent multi faceted city produces manifold possibilities of identification and realisation through often imperceptible interactions and practices Art and the City takes this observation as its cue to examine the role of art against a backdrop of globally rising urban populations taking into account the more recent performative and relational turns of art that have sought in their city settings to identify a participating spectator an implicated citizen In exploring how artworks present themselves as a means by which to navigate and plot the city for a writing interlocutor Nicolas Whybrow discusses diverse examples representing three key modern modalities of urban arts practice The first walking involves works by Richard Wentworth Francis AIA's Mark Wallinger and others the second play includes art by Antony Gormley Mark Quinn and Carsten Holler The third cultural memory Whybrow addresses through the controversial urban holocaust memorial sites of Peter Eisenman's memorial in Berlin and Rachel Whiteread's in Vienna The Aesthete in the City: The Philosophy and Practice of American Abstract Painting in the 1980s, 1994 American Magazine of Art, 1917 The Forest and the City Cecil C. Konijnendijk, 2018-03-12 Amsterdamse Bos Bois de Boulogne Epping Forest Hong Kong's country parks Stanley Park throughout history cities across the world have developed close relationships with nearby woodland areas In some cases cities have even developed and in some cases are promoting a distinct forest identity This book introduces the rich heritage of these city forests as cultural landscapes and shows that cities and forests can be mutually beneficial Essential reading for students and researchers interested in urban sustainability and urban forestry this book also has much wider appeal For with city forests playing an increasingly important role in local government sustainability programs it provides an important reference for those involved in urban planning and decision making public affairs and administration and even public health From providers of livelihoods to healthy recreational environments and from places of inspiration and learning to a source of conflict the book presents examples of city forests from around the world These cases clearly illustrate how the social and cultural development of towns and forests has often gone hand in hand They also reveal how better understanding of city forests as distinct cultural and social phenomena can help to strengthen synergies both between cities and forests and between urban society and nature

The Making of Sporting Cultures John Hughson, 2013-09-13 The Making of Sporting Cultures presents an analysis of western sport by examining how the collective passions and feelings of people have contributed to the making of sport as a way of life The popularity of sport is so pronounced in some cases that we speak of certain sports as national pastimes Baseball in the United States soccer in Britain and cricket in the Caribbean are among the relevant examples discussed Rather than regarding the historical development of sport as the outcome of passive spectator reception this work is interested in how sporting cultures have been made and developed over time through the active engagement of its enthusiasts This is to study the history of sport not only from below but also from within as a means to understanding the deep relationship between sport and people within class contexts the middle class as well as the working class Contestation over the making of sport along axes of race gender and class are discussed where relevant A range of cultural writers and theorists are examined in regard to both how their writing can help us understand the making of sport and as to how sport might be located within an overall cultural context in different places and times The book will appeal to students and academics within humanities disciplines such as cultural studies history and sociology and to those in sport studies programmes interested in the historical cultural and social aspects of sport This book was published as a special issue of Sport in Society

Art and the City Jason Luger, Julie Ren, 2017-05-18 Artistic practices have long been disturbing the relationships between art and space They have challenged the boundaries of performer spectator of public private introduced intervention and installation ephemerality and performance and constantly sought out new modes of distressing expectations about what is construed as art But when we expand the world in which we look at art how does this change our understanding of critical artistic practice This book presents a global perspective on the relationship between art and the city International and leading scholars and artists themselves present critical theory and practice of contemporary art as a politicised force It extends thinking on contemporary arts practices in the urban and political context of protest and social resilience and offers the prism of a critical artscape in which to view the urgent interaction of arts and the urban politic The global appeal of the book is established through the general topic as well as the specific chapters which are geographically socially politically and professionally varied Contributing authors come from many different institutional and anti institutional perspectives from across the world This will be valuable reading for those interested in cultural geography urban geography and urban culture as well as contemporary art theorists practitioners and policymakers

Decameron and the Philosophy of Storytelling Richard Kuhns, 2005-05-11 In this creative and engaging reading Richard Kuhns explores the ways in which Decameron's sexual themes lead into philosophical inquiry moral argument and aesthetic and literary criticism As he reveals the stories many philosophical insights and literary pleasures Kuhns also examines Decameron in the context of the nature of storytelling its relationship to other classic works of literature and the culture of trecento Italy Stories and storytelling are to be interpreted in terms of a wider cultural context that includes masks metamorphosis mythic themes and character analysis all of which Boccaccio explores with wit and subtlety As a storyteller Boccaccio represents himself as literary pimp conceiving the relationship between storyteller and audience in sexual terms within a tradition that goes back as far as Socrates' conversations with the young Athenians As a whole Boccaccio's great collection of stories creates a trenchant criticism of the ideas that dominated his social and cultural world Addressed as it is to women who were denied opportunities for education the author's stories create a university of wise and culturally observant texts He teaches that comic religious sexual and artistic themes can be seen to function as metaphors for hidden and often dangerous unorthodox thoughts Kuhns suggests that Decameron is one of the first self-conscious creations of what we today call a total work of art Throughout the stories Boccaccio creates a detailed picture of the Florentine trecento cultural world Giotto Buffalmacco and other great painters of Boccaccio's time appear in the stories Their works and the paintings that surround the characters as they prepare to leave the plague-ridden city with their representations of Dante Aquinas and other thinkers are essential to understanding the ways the stories work with other works of art and illuminate and enlarge interpretations of Boccaccio's book

The Art of the City Raffaele Milani, 2017-12-12 In The Art of the City Raffaele Milani reflects on the ways in which inhabitants of the cityscape have interacted on a spiritual psychological and philosophical level with the architecture that surrounds them Working with the premise that the city has a soul which is externalized in the physical structures of its urban space Milani expresses alarm in the face of sprawling megacities that typify the postmodern age and endanger the survival of cities' distinctiveness While he laments that the nature surrounding cities is disappearing under concrete his concern is counterbalanced by the realization that there are ongoing projects of urban reclamation renewal and reutilization aimed at preserving an ancient almost mystical rapport between the citizen and the lived space Milani illustrates his argument by citing the works of modern architects including Emilio Ambasz Massimiliano Fuksas Frank Gehry Rem Koolhaas Kisho Kurokawa Daniel Libeskind and Renzo Piano Rather than a history of architecture The Art of the City is a compelling and timely reflection on the important challenge of insuring the continued liveability and aesthetic valorization of public spaces The City of Collective Memory M. Christine Boyer,1994

Describes the visual and mental models by which urban environment has been recognized depicted and planned This analysis draws from geography critical theory architecture literature and painting to identify these maps of the city as a work of art as panorama and as spectacle Urban Art and the City Argyro Loukaki,2020-09-13 This book offers original interdisciplinary insights into cities as a diachronic creation of urban art It engages in a sequence of historical perspectives to examine urban space as an object of apparent quasi cycles and processes of constitution exaltation imitation contestation and redemption through art Urban art transforms the city into a human made sublime which is explored in the context of the Eastern Mediterranean The book probes this process primarily through the example of Athens and Byzantine Constantinople but also Jerusalem Cyprus and regional cities revealing how urban space unavoidably encompasses a spatial and temporal palimpsest which is constantly emerging It presents new ideas for both the theorization and sensuous conception of artistic reality architecture and planning attributes These extend from archaic classical and Byzantine urban splendour to current urban decline as constitution and attack on the sublime and back Urban processes of contestation and redemption respond recently to the new imperialism of debt and the positivist technocratic understandings and demands of Euro governments and neoliberal institutions while still evoking older forms of spatial power Offering fresh notions on art architecture space antiquity post modernity and politics of the region this book will appeal to scholars and students of geography urban studies art restoration and film theory architecture landscape design planning anthropology sociology and history Official
