The City In French Writing The Eighteenth century Experience:

The Art of Urban Living Christian Emden, Catherine Keen, David Midgley, 2006 This volume is based on papers given at the conference Imagining the City held in Cambridge in 2004 Together they examine the city as imagined space and as a matrix for imagined worlds using French German English Italian Russian and North American examples

A Companion to Enlightenment Historiography, 2013-06-28 A Companion to Enlightenment Historiography provides a survey of the most important historians and historiographical debates in the long eighteenth century examining these debates stylistic philosophical and political significance The chapters many of which were specially commissioned for this volume offer a mixture of accessible introduction and original interpretive argument they will thus appeal both to the scholar of the period and the more general reader Part I considers Gibbon Hume Robertson Montesquieu Voltaire Herder and Vico Part II explores wider themes of national and thematic context English Scottish French and German Enlightenment historians are discussed as are the concepts of historical progress secularism the origins of historicism and the deployments of Greek and Roman antiquity within 18th century historiography Contributors are Robert Mankin Simon Kow Jeffrey Smitten Rebecca Kingston Sofra Pierse Bertrand Binoche Donald Phillip Verene Ulrich Muhlack David Allan Noelle Gallagher Francois Emmanuël Boucher Sandra Rudnick Luft Sophie Bourgault C Ak Ata and Robert Sparling

George Moore Mary Pierse, 2009-01-23 The Irish writer George Moore 1852-1933 was a very significant and often controversial figure on the literary stages of Paris London and Dublin at a key cultural moment Between 1880 and 1931 his creative involvements included spells with literary theatres in London and Dublin jousts with the daring and repression of the fin de siècle and a hail and farewell to Yeats and the Irish Revival This collection of essays offers fresh insights into diverse elements of his œuvre and reflects some of the wide variety in Moore's literary innovations influences and legacy Contributors note his pioneering contributions to the short story his penetrating insights into Greek classical literature his avant garde feminism and egalitarianism and what may surprise 21st century readers of biblical theme blockbusters his sensitive but contentious novelistic treatment of the historical Jesus In this volume there are studies of sophisticated composition and fresh approaches to textual analysis The multiple Moore talents are scrutinised myths are dispelled and new evidence is uncovered for historic linkages George Moore's anticipation of Freudian psychological insights and his engagement with Darwinian theses are but two of his close involvements with key nineteenth century figures Manet Degas Parnell Kant Maupassant Gladstone Zola Marx and Woolf must feature on the list of names that are inseparable from Moore's life and work Yeats and Joyce also loom large and their under acknowledged indebtedness to Moore poses difficult questions for literary history While Moore's own debt to French artistic influences English models and Irish heritage has long been recognised perceptions of Moore's writing from outside the Anglophone world highlight issues that demand further consideration This multi faceted author is well served by these new studies that in turn suggest additional avenues yet to be explored

The Eighteenth-century Current Bibliography, 2000 The Writing of Urban Histories in Eighteenth-century England Rosemary Sweet,1997 This text provides an analysis of 18th century urban culture and local historical scholarship The author shows how a sense of the past was crucial not only in instilling civic pride and shaping a sense of community but also in informing contests for power and influence in the local community

Peripheries of the Enlightenment Richard Butterwick,Simon Davies,Gabriel Sánchez Espinosa,2008 Enlightenment is a universal concept but its meaning is most clearly revealed by seeing how it was engaged with reconfigured or rejected on a local level Peripheries of the Enlightenment seeks to rethink the centre periphery model and to consider the Enlightenment as a more widely spread movement with national regional and local varieties focusing on activity as much as ideas The debate is introduced by two chapters which explore the notion of periphery from vantage points at the very heart of enlightened Europe Ferney and Geneva Through thirteen ensuing chapters the interaction between Enlightenment and periphery is explored in a variety of spatial and temporal contexts ranging from Mexico to Russia Drawing on urban and provincial as well as national case studies contributors argue that we can learn at least as much about the Enlightenment from commentators at the geographical and cultural borders of the enlightened world as from its most radical theorists in its early epicentres Crossing the boundaries between histories of literature religion science and political and economic thought Peripheries of the Enlightenment is not only international in its outlook but also interdisciplinary in its scope and offers readers a new and more global vision of the Enlightenment

Women and the City in French Literature and Culture Siobhán McIlvanney,Gillian Ni Cheallaigh,2019-05-15 Interdisciplinarity this book covers a range of media and genres from cinema to journalism to novels and a range of disciplines from feminism film studies Francophone studies history etc which allows readers to access a particularly extensive range of disciplines within one volume and to make informed comparisons Transhistoricist the chronological range of essays included in this journal from the medieval period through the nineteenth and twentieth centuries to the present demonstrates that women have always managed to access their own territory within the masculinised urban environment and this encourages readers to rethink previous gendered assumptions about women and the city Feminism the essays here form part of the wider movement in academic research to redress the gendered imbalance of perspectives on a range of subjects here allowing us to look anew at French and Francophone culture and history as part of this feminist rewriting

New Orleans Elizabeth M. Williams,2012-12-19 Beignets Po Boys gumbo jambalaya Antoine s New Orleans celebrated status derives in large measure from its incredibly rich food culture based mainly on Creole and Cajun traditions At last this world class destination has its own food biography Elizabeth M Williams a New Orleans native and founder of the Southern Food and Beverage Museum there takes readers through the history of the city showing how the natural environment and people have shaped the cooking we all love The narrative starts by describing the indigenous population and material resources then reveals the contributions of the immigrant populations delves into markets and local food companies and finally discusses famous restaurants drinking culture cooking at home and cookbooks

Books Ireland ,2004 Ecrire la Ville Au Dix-huitième Siècle Síoira Piersce,2004 The city intrigues and fascinates in every era In this book the author explores images of urban life and the city as depicted in 18th century French writings with particular reference to Paris Geneva and the utopian ideal The 18th century French city posed particular challenges to writer and citizen alike presenting possibilities and pitfalls specific to the pre Revolutionary decades In contrast to previous studies of the beautiful or of the imaginary city these essays in this collection consider everyday life on the streets of the metropolis providing an outlook that is novel and markedly distinct Most striking is the dramatic change in focus between the early and late decades of this troubled century Initially the city can be construed as a space which allows individuals to evolve and to flourish Later in the century the city is depicted textually as being unstable in both moral and civic terms In a stark transition the city thus evolves from a place of great potential into a space of real danger teetering on the verge of revolutionary chaos

Alternative Modernities in French Travel Writing Gillian Jain,2016-06-19 Examining the aesthetics and politics at stake in urban travel writing as spatial practice this book explores French travellers representations of London and New York from 1851 to the 1980s Cadiz, the City: Historic and artistic highlights. Constructing Gardens, Cultivating the City Amanda Shoaf Vincent,2023-05-16 Constructing Gardens Cultivating the City is the first cultural history of major new parks developed in Paris in the late twentieth century as part of the city's program of adaptive reuse of industrial spaces Thanks to laws that gave the city more political autonomy Paris's local government launched a campaign of park creation in the late 1970s that continued to the turn of the millennium The parks in this book represent this campaign and illustrate different facets of their cultural and historical context Archival research interviews and analyses of the parks reveal how postmodern debates about urban planning the historic city public space and nature s presence in an urban setting influenced their designs In sum the city adopted the garden as a model for public parks investing in complex richly symbolic and representational spaces These parks were intended to represent contemporary twists on traditional designs and serve local residents as much as they would contribute to Paris s role as a world city The parks development process often included points of conflict pointing to differing views on what Parisian space should represent and fundamental contradictions between the characteristics of public space and the garden as it is traditionally defined These parks demonstrate the ongoing cultivation of the city over time in which transformed sites not only fulfil new functions but also engage with history and their surroundings to create new meaning They stand for landscape as a form of signifying cultural production that directly engages with other art forms and ways of knowing Just as the Luxembourg Gardens the Tuileries and the Buttes Chaumont parks exemplify their eras cultural dynamics such parks as the Jardin Atlantique Parc Andr Citro n and the Jardin des Halles express contemporary French culture within the archetypal space of their era the city finally they point the way to current trends in landscape architecture such as citizen gardening and ecological initiatives

Artful Deceptions Catherine Emerson, Maria C. Scott, 2006 Selected papers from a conference organized at the National University of Ireland Galway in April 2004

The Victorian Eighteenth Century B. W. Young, 2007-10-18 The Victorians were preoccupied by the eighteenth century It was central to many nineteenth century debates particularly those concerning the place of history and religion in national life This book explores the diverse responses of key Victorian writers and thinkers Thomas Carlyle John Henry Newman Leslie Stephen Vernon Lee and M R James to a period which commanded their interest throughout the Victorian era from the accession of Queen Victoria to the opening decades of the twentieth century They were on the one hand appalled by the apparent frivolity of the eighteenth century which was denounced by Carlyle as a dispiriting successor to the culture of Puritan England and on the other they were concerned to continue its secularising influence on English culture as is seen in the pioneering work of Leslie Stephen who was passionately keen to transform the legacy of eighteenth century scepticism into Victorian agnosticism The Victorian interest in the eighteenth century was never a purely insular matter and the history of eighteenth century France Germany and Italy played a dominant role in the nineteenth century historical understanding A debate between generations was enacted in which Romanticism melded into Victorianism The Victorians were haunted by the eighteenth century both metaphorically and literally and the book closes with consideration of the culturally resonant eighteenth century ghosts encountered in the fiction of Vernon Lee and M R James

Writing the Materialities of the Past Sam Griffiths, 2021-06-14

Writing the Materialities of the Past offers a close analysis of how the materiality of the built environment has been repressed in historical thinking since the 1950s Author Sam Griffiths argues that the social theory of cities in this period was characterised by the dominance of socio economic and linguistic cultural models which served to impede our understanding of time space relationality towards historical events and their narration The book engages with studies of historical writing to discuss materiality in the built environment as a form of literary practice to express marginalised dimensions of social experience in a range of historical contexts It then moves on to reflect on England s nineteenth century industrialization from an architectural topographical perspective challenging theories of space and architecture to examine the complex role of industrial cities in mediating social changes in the practice of everyday life By demonstrating how the authenticity of historical accounts rests on materially emplaced narratives Griffiths makes the case for the emancipatory possibilities of historical writing He calls for a re evaluation of historical epistemology as a primarily socio scientific or literary enquiry and instead proposes a specifically architectural time space figuration of historical events to rethink and refresh the relationship of the urban past to its present and future Written for postgraduate students researchers and academics in architectural theory and urban studies Griffiths draws on the space syntax tradition of research to explore how contingencies of movement and encounter construct the historical imagination

The Enlightenment Paul Hyland, Olga Gomez, Francesca Greensides, 2003 The Enlightenment brings together the work of major Enlightenment thinkers such as Hobbes Rousseau Diderot and Kant to illustrate the full importance and achievements of this period in history Extracts are gathered thematically into sections on such aspects of the Enlightenment as political theory religion and belief art and nature All essays are introduced and a final section on critical reflections provides a selection of modern critical opinions on the period by writers including Foucault Habermas and Lyotard Containing illustrations from the work of artists such as Hogarth and Gainsborough a chronology of the Enlightenment and a detailed bibliography The Enlightenment is a rich source of information and inspiration for all those studying this great period of change
