The Signature of Power Harold D. Lasswell,2011-12-31 Advanced industrial societies are becoming aware of the impact of what they do to the physical and biological environment and also what that environment does to individuals In The Signature of Power Harold D Lasswell examines the symbolic use people make of their surroundings and the complexity of the way they interpret an altered environment Transformed habitats can change experiences and behaviors All people seek to maximize their preferred events such as power and wealth when they use the environment be it through glass skyscrapers or Gothic estates In all cases physical structures give expression to the perspectives of influential individuals and groups This volume considers the complex interplay between the material and the symbolic Physical changes introduced for political purposes by architects planners and engineers are guided by the perspectives of designers These and other interactions in human society are simultaneous acts of communication and collaboration Regardless of whether physical resources are used to transmit messages such interactions nevertheless have a degree of communicative impact Physical structures may be profoundly affected by the purposes assumptions and identities of those people who plan or change them Environmental design says Lasswell is an instrument of political power

New Urban Configurations Nicola Marzot,Meta Berghauser Pont,2014-04-15 Urban areas have been caught up in a turbulent process of transformation over the past 50 years and changes have been rapid with issues such as mobility nature water management energy use and public space featuring prominently In each Olympic year since 1988 the Faculty of Architecture at Delft University of Technology has held an international conference focusing on the connection between research and design exploring the field of tension between science technology and art This book presents the proceedings of the latest in this series of conferences New Urban Configurations held in Delft the Netherlands in October 2012 in collaboration with the European Association for Architectural Education EAAE and the International Seminar on Urban Form ISUF This edition of the conference discussed the role and critical potential of the architectural project in the transformation process of cities and territories that leads to new urban configurations The publication contains all 140 accepted papers and a selection of the keynote lectures presented at the conference The papers have been grouped into five main themes innovation in building typology infrastructure and the city complex urban projects green spaces and delta urbanism Four of these major topics are further divided into several subtopics This book will be of interest to everyone involved in designing building thinking about as well as managing the urban landscape and territory

Smarter as the New Urban Agenda J. Ramon Gil-Garcia,Theresa A. Pardo,Taewoo Nam,2015-09-07 This book will provide one of the first comprehensive approaches to the study of smart city governments with theories and concepts for understanding and researching 21st century city governments innovative methodologies for the analysis and evaluation of smart city initiatives The term smart city is now generally used to represent efforts that in different ways describe a comprehensive vision of a city for the present and future A smarter city infuses information into its physical infrastructure to improve conveniences facilitate mobility add efficiencies conserve energy improve the quality of air and water identify problems and fix them quickly recover rapidly from disasters collect data to make better decisions deploy resources effectively and share data to enable collaboration across entities and domains These and other similar efforts are expected to make cities more intelligent in terms of efficiency effectiveness productivity transparency and sustainability among other important aspects Given this changing social institutional and technology environment it seems feasible and likeable to attain smarter cities and by extension smarter governments virtually integrated networked interconnected responsive and efficient This book will help build the bridge between sound research and practice expertise in the area of smarter cities and will be of interest to researchers and students in the e government public administration political science communication information science administrative sciences and management sociology computer science and information technology As well as government officials and public managers who will find practical recommendations based on rigorous studies that will contain insights and guidance for the development management and evaluation of complex smart cities and smart government initiatives The City Alan S. Berger,1978 World Development Report 2009 World

Bank,2008-11-04 Rising densities of human settlements migration and transport to reduce distances to market and specialization and trade facilitated by fewer international divisions are central to economic development The transformations along these three dimensions density distance and division are most noticeable in North America Western Europe and Japan but countries in Asia and Eastern Europe are changing in ways similar in scope and speed World Development Report 2009 Reshaping Economic Geography concludes that these spatial transformations are essential and should be encouraged The conclusion is not without controversy Slum dwellers now number a billion but the rush to cities continues Globalization is believed to benefit many but not the billion people living in lagging areas of developing nations High poverty and mortality persist among the world s bottom billion while others grow wealthier and live longer lives Concern for these three billion often comes with the prescription that growth must be made spatially balanced The WDR has a different message economic growth is seldom balanced and efforts to spread it out prematurely will jeopardize progress The Report documents how production becomes more concentrated spatially as economies grow proposes economic integration as the principle for promoting successful spatial transformations revisits the debates on urbanization territorial development and regional integration and shows how today s developers can reshape economic geography The City as a Centre of Change in Asia

Denis John Dwyer,1972-01-01 The City As A Centre Of Change In Asia Edited By D J Dwyer Is An Authoritative Survey Of Asia S Urban Problems Divided Into Four Major Sections Economic Social And Political Change Population Dynamics Housing Problems And The Future Of Asian City Without Dustjacket Inscribed On The First End Page Congressional Record United States.
