Audretsch,J.J. Siegfried,2012-12-06 Empirical Studies in Industrial Organization brings together leading scholars who present state of the art research in the spirit of the structure conduct performance paradigm embodied in the work of Leonard W Weiss The individual chapters are generally empirically or public policy oriented A number of them introduce new sources of data that combined with the application of appropriate econometric techniques enable new breakthroughs and insights on issues hotly debated in the industrial organization literature For example five of the chapters are devoted towards uncovering the link between market concentration and pricing behavior While theoretical models have produced ambiguous predictions concerning the relationship between concentration and price these chapters which span a number of different markets and situations provide unequivocal evidence that a high level of market concentration tends to result in a higher level of prices Three of the chapters explore the impact of market structure on production efficiency and three other chapters focus on the role of industrial organization on public policy Contributors include David B Audretsch Richard E Caves Mark J Roberts F M Scherer John J Siegfried and Hideki Yamawaki      Proceedings of the 1982 Academy of Marketing Science (AMS) Annual Conference Vinay Kothari,Danny R. Computational Intelligence and Mathematics for Tackling Complex Problems László T Kóczy, Jesús Medina-Moreno, Eloísa Ramírez-Poussa, Alexander Šostak, 2019-05-02 This book combines computational intelligence and mathematics to solve theoretical and real world problems The real challenges of engineering and other applied sciences e g economics and management the social sciences etc and even everyday life are increasingly raising complex problems both in the usual sense but also in the mathematical and theoretical computer science sense which is referred to as intractability Finding exact solutions to the latest problems in mathematics is impossible and it has been also shown that no further technical advance will ever make it possible to find general and exact solutions to such complex problems Rather the goal is to find solutions that are good enough or acceptably accurate including models and corresponding algorithms which is most often achieved by combining traditional mathematical techniques and computational intelligence tools such as fuzzy systems evolutionary and memetic algorithms and artificial neural networks Consequently international funding programs such as the European Commission's current framework program for research and innovation Horizon 2020 and the preliminary research team building COST Actions are devoted to developing new instruments for tackling the challenges that we face in the current technological age And it goes without saying that research topics concerning the interactions between computational intelligence and traditional mathematics play a key role in overcoming the obstacles associated with the intractability of complex problems In this book mathematicians engineers and other scientists highlight novel methodological results connecting these two main research areas and focusing on solving real life problems Routledge Handbook on Consumption Margit Keller,Bente Halkier,Terhi-Anna Wilska,Monica
