A Royal Book of Protection of the Saite Period Paul F. O'Rourke, 2015-12-31 This new study offers a comprehensive examination of a unique manuscript a Late Period hieratic papyrus in the Brooklyn Museum This document comprises a compilation of seventeen individual prophylactic texts whose anatomical focus is the ear Many of the texts specifically state that they are intended for the protection of the ears of a king named Psamtik a historical figure who ruled Egypt in the seventh century BCE The fact that this papyrus was created to serve a sole purpose and function the protection of the ear distinguishes it noticeably from earlier Egyptian medical and magical texts that are largely encyclopedic and were intended to serve a broad range of purposes The present study contains an introduction and full translation with extensive philological and textual commentary as the texts of this papyrus are rich in mythological allusions The commentaries are largely based on comparison with contemporary and older Egyptian texts that although not direct parallels as there are none serve nonetheless as a rich resource for comparative analysis that has led to a more informed reading of this important document

Capel, Glenn Markoe, 1996 The first of its kind exhibit cataloged here focuses on the women of Egypt from all levels of society in works compiled strictly from American collections by American curators Because the quantity of written records is limited though enormous in comparison to most early societies there is still much guesswork involved in determining the place women held in Egyptian society It is clear that unlike most ancient and not so ancient societies Egypt conferred on women the legal right to own property and to barter their own goods which means a larger record for current study The essays here are both erudite and fascinating to read the illustrations are clear and well presented in conjunction with the text 117 colour 112 b w illustrations Yahweh among the Gods Michael Hundley, 2022-01-13 A redefinition of the ancient conceptions of god the relationships between them and the rhetoric used to exalt them The International Journal of African Historical Studies ,1992 Egyptian Art in the Age of the Pyramids Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1999 The Egyptian Old Kingdom c 2650 2150 BC was an era of extraordinary artistic achievement the period that gave us the Sphinx and the pyramids as well as a rich legacy of private tombs wall paintings reliefs statuary jewelry and decorative arts This book the companion volume to a major traveling exhibition organized by New York s Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Louvre in Paris showcases the most impressive assemblage of Egyptian art and artifacts since the Tutankhamun exhibition of the late 1970s Scholarly essays and 650 illustrations bring to life a remarkable panoply of Old Kingdom objects temple and tomb reliefs striking gold jewelry handsome stone vessels monumental statues stelae and exquisite statuettes Together text and images create a stunning tribute to the world of the Pharaohs Publisher s description Blurred Boundaries and Deceptive Dichotomies in Pre-Modern Texts and Images Dafna Nissim, Vered Tohar, 2023-12-18 This collection of essays focuses on the way blurred boundaries are represented in pre modern texts and visual art and how they were received and perceived by their audiences readers listeners and viewers According to the current understanding that opposing cognitive categories that are so common in modern thinking do not apply to pre modern mentalities we argue that individuals in medieval and pre modern societies did not necessarily consider sacred and secular male and female real and fictional and opposing emotions as absolute dichotomies The contributors to the present collection examine a wide range of cultural artifacts literary texts wall paintings sculptures jewelry manuscript illustrations and various objects as to what they reflect regarding the dominant perceptual system the network of beliefs worldviews presumptions values and norms of viewing reading hearing different from modern epistemology strongly predicated on the binary nature of things and people The essays suggest that analyzing pre modern cultural works of art or literature in light of reception theory can lead to a better understanding of how those cultural
